CATTLE RAISING PAYS.

Thirty years ago a Canadian farmer invested in a good but not fashionably bred shorthorn cow. He bred her and her descendants to good bulls. This year he sold his herd, all bred by himself except the herd bull, and all descended from the original cow. They numbered 60 head and brought, exclusive of the bull, $10,145. No doubt this herd had more than paid its way ever since it was founded, otherwise the breeder would not have kept it up. It would be interesting to know what the old cow brought this breeder—but certainly she proved a good investment. CATTLE RAISING PAYS. brought this breeder—but certainly she proved a good investment. Another example of success from a humble beginning. A man does not need to be wealthy to make a start in breeding live stock. UNITED STATES SYSTEM BAD.

From The New York Press. From the currency famine of the day The Press expects no national disaster. We can have stringency, embarrassment and paralyzing money rates, but we cannot have panic, poverty and bankruptcy merely because we are rich and prosperous. There is a currency famine in the midst of a prosperity feast. In times of richness and plenty this is no more than a national absurdity, tho the individual paying 25 per cent. for money may speil it calamity, aster. Therefore must we reform our currency system. And we shall hope that the lesson of a people rolling in wealth but appealing almost in vain for a circulation that will furnish us a token of exchange when we have the article of exchange itself in abundance, will come home to Congress with suffi-cient force to induce it to give us a law—such as is drawn in Representa-tive Fowler's bill—that will provide an

BRITISH COLUMBIA MINES.

All the smelting plants in the Boundary district of Southern British Columbia are now reported running full blast. The Granby, at Grand Forks, has four stacks; the British Columbia Copper Company, at Greenwood, has two, and the Montreal and Boston, at Boundary Falls, has one. The Granby Company's mines are shipping to the Grand Forks Smelter; the Greenwood Smelter is getting its supplies chiefly from the Mother Lode, with several cars each day from the Snowshoe; the Boundary Falls works is supplementing supplies from the Sunset with ore from both Snowshoe and the B. C. mines, While they were shipping the Jewel sent its ore to Grand Forks and the No. 7 to Greenwood. So far no ore from the Republic mines has come to either Greenwood or Boundary Falls.

Wireless telegraphy might easily be put to a practical and highly useful test on the railway systems. Progressive Canada: Several of the Tornto and Montreal papers have raised their advertising rates, the increase average about 25 per cent. The improved condition of general business has some thing to do with this, altho for years advertising has been very much cheaper here than in the States. There is no good reason why Canadian newspapers should not charge as much in proportion to circulation, more particularly since advertising pays better on this side.

The World has not raised its rates—not yet. But it has "stiffened" its advertising rates so that there shall be not variability or resiliency in them.
