GREAT LABOR MEETING IN CITY CZECHO-SLOVAK

Trade Union Member Going Beyond Council Chambers To Take Part in Public Affairs - Prominent Citizens Will Be On the Program.

The greatest outpouring of the aspirations and problems of labor and the common people London has known will occur when the trades and labor council stages its big mass meeting on Saturday, February 15.

It is believed by those not antagonistic to labor that the council has decided to hold this meeting in the general welfare of the community, when a free discussion of the problems that face working men and women will be invited, and several prominent citizens interested in the labor movement will be heard.

ALIEN PROBLEM UP.

The alien problem is likely to be dealt with both from the standpoint of the returned soldier and the union

"I consider it a fine thing that labor is going to take a part in affairs beyond the meetings of its trades council and its locals," stated a man who holds a leading position. "We want to hear labor's claims stated publicly, and we want to understand labor. It will be a safety valve and a valuable factor in forming real public opinion.

FEELING OF RESPONSIBILITY.

"The London Trades and Labor Council has declared against the red element getting into a place of domination, and there is a feeling of the responsibility that sits upon labor today.

It is expected that the Great War Veterans will be represented at the meeting, and that the alien labor question will be given fair discussion.

HORSE RACING | Difficulty in Securing Necessary Transports Is Reason Given For Change in System-3 0,000 Men a Month Will Continue To Return, But Sailings Will Be More Frequent,

> London, Feb. 7 .- (Canadian Associated Press) .- The Canadian Associated Press learns that in order to secure the greatest dispatch in the handling of troops on their arrival in Canada, it has been decided that the monster ships will no longer be used. It is stated that while this facilitates the handling of troops on their arrival in Canada and prevents delay there, it greatly increases the difficulties here in finding the necessary transport. The number of ships is limited, and great competition is taking place to secure them among different parts of the empire and the United States. Even when the Canadian authorities have secured ships there are labor troubles and other difficulties which often means that the ships are not dispatched on the arranged dates. It is suggested, therefore, that the question of arrivals in Canada should be considered, not by results of any one week, but on the average for a month. The Canadian Associated Press is assured. that the steady homeward flow of thirty thousand monthly after February will be maintained, but it is impossible to parcel this number into regular weekly sailings
