MONDAY MORNING JANUARY 12 1920

Favorite Ran the Long Course and Lost Handicap to Enmity.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 10.—Jack Hare, Jr., W. E. Applegate's crack son of Marathon and Moon'et, met his second defeat since the Fair Grounds meeting opened in the Johnny Powers Memorial Handicap this afternoon. The Marathon horse was pounds the best and would have won an easy victory with an even break in racing luck, but W. Wright was unable to keep him in a direct course, and he just failed to get up to Enmity, after losing a lot of ground into the stretch.

Jack Hare Jr., carried a heavy impost and in the heavy going that prevailed his showin was an impressive one despite defeat. Enmity, capably handled by C. Robinson, went to the front soon after the start and opened a good-sized gap, but would have been beaten in a few more strides. MORE TO RACING.

The resignation of John K. L. Ross from the board of Dominion Steel to look after his own affairs really means that he is to give all his time to racing. His stable, including mares and foals, may number several hundred. It will be pretty nearly impossible to keep this sporting Canadian from holding his place as the leading stable in America.
