High Cost of Living vs. Low Cost of Insurance

Midst all the increasing cost of living there's one thing that hasn't advanced,—that's the cost of Imperial Life policies. In fact, an Imperial policy today requires no greater annual investment than a similar policy taken at a corresponding age a dozen years ago.

FAMOUS ORATOR AT IMPERIAL TOMORROW

Of Raymond Robins, who will address a mass meeting in the Imperial tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon at four o'clock, on Social Service, Rev. D. Shear writes:—"Mr. Robins is a southerner, born on a farm, works for some years as a youth in the coal mines of Colorado, and suffered the severest hardships, but afterwards made abundant wealth. He is today a millionaire. He is not a clergyman, but a layman; has no official position on any church, but a clear-cut Christian man. He lives in a tenement in the heart of Chicago, in a district where over seventy-five thousand live in less than a mile square, that he may be able to play the 'good neighbor' to these people, who are made up of twenty-two different nationalities. He denotes his services, as all other speakers on the programme do, at these congresses; he gives substantially all his time to the promotion of Social Betterment movements. He is a prince of orators, having no superiors and few, if any, equals. He is a strong, enthusiastic Pro-Ally in sympathy. His addresses at the Western congresses were the most effective recruiting speeches many of the members of these congresses heard. Several men in the west said to me after hearing several of his addresses: 'It is worth while to cross the continent to hear that man speak one.'"

WALL STREET NOTES

(J. M. Robinson & Sons, private wire telegram.) New York, Jan. 20.—Dun's Review says irregular tendencies again appear in trade and industry with business rising in some channels and falling in others and wholesome conservatism still most reassuring feature.

DUKE OF ATHOLL DEAD; OWNED 200,000 GOOD SCOTCH ACRES

London, Jan. 20.—The Duke of Atholl died this morning at Blair Castle, Scotland. Born in 1840, he succeeded to the title in 1884. He was one of the principal titled Scottish land owners, owning more than 200,000 acres. The successor to the title is the Marquis of Tallardine, who has had a notable career in the army, serving with distinction in the Khartoum and other Egyptian campaigns, and in South Africa, and since the beginning of the present war, in August, 1915, was made a brigade commander.
