

EVERY BULLET TELLS STORY TO U.S. EXPERT

One Often Gives Clue to Assassin as Weapon Can Be Identified

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 3.—Bullets which kill or wound human beings tell their own story. Often they give more evidence as to the assassin because the weapon used can be identified from them. No two bullets are alike after they are fired; each has its characteristics.

These are assertions of Merton A. Robinson, firearm expert and ballistics engineer of the Winchester Repeating Arms company who examined the bullets that figured in the slaying of Don R. Mellett, Canton, Ohio, publisher.

With increase in crime and the taking of human life, police authorities have turned to the ballistics engineer for assistance, especially where the gun is missing.

BULLETS RETAIN MARKS

A common idea that bullets after being discharged are shapeless bits of metal is incorrect, he said. Unless disintegrated, the missile may tell its source and career by the markings upon it. In the case of the Canton bullets brought to Mr. Robinson by Coroner T. C. McQuate, the opinion was given that the guns were ordinary revolvers and not automatic pistols, and that the revolvers were of certain makes.

Each of the three bullets, one taken from Mellett's neck, one from wood-work of a garage near which he was killed and the third from a brick wall, were weighed. They corresponded closely with the standard 108-grain weight and appearance of Smith & Wesson .38 calibre bullets. Marks on one showed left-handed rifling, a characteristic of Colt revolvers. Rifling on another revealed five lands—high surface in relief—grooves, a mark inherent to Harrington and Richardson guns.

EASILY IDENTIFIED

Identification of bullets as well as recognition of missiles in other murder cases submitted to him from time to time is a part of the ballistics engineer's laboratory work. Mr. Robinson said bullets carry the peculiar characteristics of the gun from which they are fired, and no two guns are alike. Each has certain individual characteristics which can be found out by the expert.

The ballistics engineer first tries to determine the diameter of the bore of the gun, the number of grooves in the rifling, the depth of the grooves, the width of the groove and the direction of the twist, whether left hand or right hand.

The bullet is measured for diameter and weight by delicate instruments. The results are compared with laboratory records which contain samples and data about every cartridge, shell and bullet turned out in the world.

J. D. O'Connell expects to arrive in Saint John about the end of this month. He has been giving clinics in the West.

KEEP CHILDREN WELL DURING HOT WEATHER

Every mother knows how fatal the hot summer months are to small children. Cholera infantum, diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and stomach troubles are rife at this time and often a precious little life is lost after only a few hours' illness. The mother who keeps Baby's Own Tablets in the house feels safe. The occasional use of the Tablets prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if trouble comes suddenly—as it generally does—the Tablets will bring the baby safely through. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
