NEW PATRIOTIC SONG.
Expected to Become Popular in Canada.

London, June 28.—(By Mail)—There is a new song which its author and composer expects will soon be very widely heard in the Dominion and ultimately be accepted as an addition to the national song book. Both words and music have been written by Jasper Vale-Lane, late musical director of the Canadian overseas military forces, and ready known as the creator of some popular airs and pieces.

M. A. MALONE

Mr. Vale-Lane got his inspiration for the song when revisiting Shorncliffe with its many associations of his Canadian fellow-musicians, and the work was actually made on the spot. The title of the song, "O Canada, O Canada," indicates its spirit.
