CREDIT MEN DECIDE TO RAISE BIG FUND

Ten Thousand Dollars Required to Investigate Frauds and Prosecute Offenders

An important business meeting of the Canadian Credit Men's Association at the sixth monthly dinner in Winnipeg recently in the Royal Alexandra hotel, resulted in the adoption of a resolution to start a $10,000 fund for the prosecution of unscrupulous persons. President H. R. Pigott occupied the chair, supported by R. K. Wilson, vice-president, and the board of governors. A feature of the meeting was the desire expressed for a higher state of efficiency in mercantile agency service, and a determination to obtain more up to date and reliable information by means of harmonious working together on behalf of the members and agencies supplying the information. Complaints from members for unjust claims for shortages, etc., were likewise under discussion, and action will be taken to minimize these as much as possible. A report was read from the legislation committee respecting the necessity for further legislation governing the obtaining of credit by means of fraudulent financial statements submitted to mercantile agencies. The issuance of cheques on banks where no funds are in deposit to cover such cheques at the time they are issued, and arrangements made to cover them when presented was another point raised by this committee. The benefit of the members and their customers. The clearing house committee reported a growing membership. This department was only been in operation since July 23. Its work is the collection from and distribution amongst members of ledger information on mutual accounts and the value of the information has come to be recognized in deciding whether credit shall be given or refused. The finances of the association are in a healthy state, and all fears of the wholesale interests can now be forgotten. It has been decided to hold the monthly dinner at the Royal Alexandra on the second Wednesday in each month, at 6.30 p.m. Secretary Detchen leaves very shortly to interview the wholesale trade in the western centres, with a view to their affiliating themselves with the association.

PROTESTANTS AND CATHOLICS UNITED IN TEMPERANCE WORK

At the meeting of the Grand Lodge I. O. G. T., of Quebec, on Wednesday, in Montreal, at an enthusiastic public meeting held in the evening, Alderman Carter was elected to the position of president and the chorus of "Dare to be a Daniel!" Alderman Carter said that he had tried to do his duty in the City Council, and was thankful that his French and Irish Roman Catholic fellow citizens were standing shoulder to shoulder with Protestant workers in temperance reform in the city and province. Some of the priests were the most determined friends of the cause whom he had ever met. It was the duty of all true patriots to foster this new alliance for the promotion of reform. In the past we had been skirmishing. The outposts of the enemy had been driven in, they were already in retreat, and a grand, united front attack would mean victory. He had been greatly encouraged by the delegation which had waited on the government at Quebec and at their reception by the Premier. The influence of that delegation had not less than that of the Government. Premier had told them that the Government was a partisan of temperance. Attention should be paid to the education of the youth of our land for work in the future. Those engaged in the drink traffic must be taught that they only engaged in it by tolerance, and that if it is tolerated they must at last respect the laws by which the traffic was supposed to be regulated. In the past the traffic had been arrogant. It had done what it liked, and its will had been done without fear or favor. The Rev. A. C. Asch, of Ormstown, said that Archbishop Bruchesi had recently allied to the great army which was being enrolled for temperance through the dedication of the government at Quebec to the cause. In the course of one or two generations it was possible that grass would grow in the corridors of the new jail. Victory was assured. It must be remembered that the temperance people were fighting a traffic and not those engaged in it. It was because they loved all men, including the saloonkeeper, that they sought to put a stop to the demoralizing business.

NEWFOUNDLAND IS PROGRESSIVE IN TECHNICAL EDUCATION

Dr. James Robertson, chairman of the Canadian Technical Commission, stated in an interview in Montreal this week that during his stay in Newfoundland he had been impressed by what was being done there in the matter of education. Scientific training was to be introduced into the school system of the colony, and in this movement all were taking active interest. The government of Newfoundland would be in a position to send twenty teachers or more of both sexes to the United States for a year or two, where they would be trained in the science of agriculture. The authorities, Dr. Robertson thought further, would soon be ready to offer scholarships. The soil of Newfoundland Dr. Robertson added, was excellent for potatoes, cabbage, carrots and turnips.

DECORATING CITIES FOR CELEBRATIONS

The services of an artist, a sculptor, an architect, and an electrical engineer, in addition to riggers, carpenters, and painters, are necessary in these modern times for the decoration of large cities planning to entertain thousands of visitors on occasions of great gatherings. So important has the business of decorating cities become that it is now a recognized trade and there are men who have practically control all the work done in the country. An illustrated article in the current issue of the Canadian Pacific Railway Review, tells how Chicago handled the Knights Templar parade, gives some interesting information along this line, and describes the work of the Knights Templar in Chicago last month was made the occasion for the most magnificent parade in the history of the city ever seen in the United States, with the exception of the Hudson-Fulton celebration in New York. It was estimated that $200,000 was expended on this feature of the entertainment of the knights. This work was done in sections by three of the largest companies in the business, each being called upon to look after the branch of the business in which it was most proficient. The carloads of material, in addition to the mass of bunting, flags, etc., obtained locally, were shipped to Chicago by the Canadian Pacific Railway. The plan included a long, straight line of the city pillars, festooned and connected with ropes of laurel.

SUFFERED THREE YEARS

Will Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills cured his Kidney Trouble. There are few diseases that cause more acute suffering than Kidney Trouble, and Mr. F. A. Thomas, of Sudbury, Ont., is one of those who know it. He writes: "For three years I suffered from kidney disease. First I thought I had sprained my back, but when the pain would catch the spine of my back, it was impossible to get up. My back ached across the kidneys was so sore that my urine was thick and cloudy, and I tried medicines, but they failed. I was advised to try Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, and I cured my wife and myself. A few boxes affected a complete cure. I am now enjoying the best of health, and I attribute this to this remedy." Don't neglect kidney trouble—it's too dangerous as well as so painful. That old, reliable family remedy, Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills, has cured thousands in curing constipation and its attendant evils, biliousness, indigestion and sick headaches, and in purifying the blood. 25c a box at your druggist's.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

BARBARISM OF OUR BRITISH ANCESTORS By William Pitt, Earl of Chatham

From a speech as premier, in reply to Charles J. Fox, in the English house of commons, Feb. 20, 1784. THERE was a time, sir, which it may be fit sometimes to revive in the remembrance of our countrymen, when even human sacrifices are said to have been offered in this island. The very practice of the slave-trade once prevailed among us. Slaves were formally an established article of our exports. Great numbers were exported, like cattle, from the British coast, and were to be seen exposed for sale in the Roman market. The circumstances that furnished the alleged proofs that Africa labors under a natural incapacity for civilization might also have been asserted of ancient and uncivilized Britain. Why might not some Roman senator, reasoning upon the principles of some honorable members of this house, and pointing to British barbarians, have predicted, with equal boldness, "There is a people that will never rise to civilization! There is a people destined never to be free!" We, sir, have long since emerged from barbarism; we have almost forgotten that we were once barbarians; we are now raised to a situation which exhibits a striking contrast to every circumstance by which a Roman might have characterized us, and by which we now characterize Africa. There is indeed one thing wanting to complete the contrast, and to clear us altogether from the imputation of acting even to this hour, as barbarians; for we continue to this hour a barbarous traffic in slaves—we continue it even yet, in spite of all our great and undeniable pretensions to civilization. We were once as obscure among the nations of the earth, as savage in our manners, as these unhappy Africans are at present. But, in the lapse of a long series of years, by a progression slow, and, for a time, almost imperceptible, we have become rich in a variety of acquisitions, favored above measure in the gifts of providence, untrivalled in commerce, prominent in arts, foremost in the pursuits of philosophy and science and established in all the blessings of civil society. From all these blessings we must forever have been shut out, had there been any truth in those principles which some gentlemen have not hesitated to lay down as applicable to the case of Africa. Had those principles been true, we ourselves had languished to this hour in that miserable state of ignorance, brutality and degradation, in which history proves our ancestors, to have been immersed. Had other nations applied to Great Britain the reasoning which some of the senators of this very island now apply to Africa, ages might have passed without our emerging from barbarism; and we, who are enjoying the blessings of British liberty, might, at this hour, have been little superior either in morals; in knowledge; or refinement; to the rude inhabitants of the coast of Guinea.

RELIGIOUS TOLERANCE

Roman Catholics Enjoy More Privileges in Canada Than Elsewhere. The "Tribune" of Sherbrooke, the only French daily in the eastern townships, speaking of religious tolerance in Canada, says: "It may seem strange, it may seem wrong, and it may continue to seem impossible for other nations to understand the liberty and tolerance that reign throughout the whole of Canada. We here enjoy privileges that do not exist in any other country, in any other kingdom, or republic. Our religious liberty and our political independence have reached what may almost be called an ideal state. There is no greater privilege, there is no greater honor, than to be called a Canadian. Indeed it is an honor and a privilege to be the citizen of a country where one can practice the religion of his childhood without being exposed to annoyance on the part of the governing power."

Sinking Spells Every Few Days

"At the time I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I was having sinking spells every few days. My hands and feet would get cold; I could scarcely breathe, and could feel myself gradually sinking away until I would be unconscious. Those about me could not tell there was life in me. After these spells I would be very weak and nervous, sleepless and without appetite; had neuralgia in my head and heart. After taking the remedy a short time all this disappeared and in a few weeks the heart trouble was gone." J. M. HAZZIE PAINTER, 803 1/2 Ave. Evansville, Ind. For twenty years we have been constantly receiving just such letters as these. There is scarcely a locality in the United States where there is not some one who can testify to the merits of this remarkably successful Heart Remedy. Price $1.00 at your druggist. He should supply you. If he does not, send price to us in forward prepaid. Write to WILKES MEDICAL CO., Toronto.
