THE EVENING GAZETTE, SAINT JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, JANUARY 24, 1891

Strangling.

Canada, but I do not think that the time has come for us to act. The question is what should we do at the present time, and my advise is, do nothing.

I believe the time is soon coming when the Liberal party in Canada, which has always wished us well—the party in whose members there is no antagonism to joining us—will represent the country, and then overtures can be made, and they will be received—I mean overtures for union. And by union I mean not unity merely in trade, but political unity—that which will make us one in the heartbeats of our bosems and the aspirations of our hope. [Applause.]

It will be seen from the above Mr.

Murray affirms that when the Liberal party affirms that when the Liberal par

This practice is sepacially valuable for weather when they do go out.

In the case of toothache, of course, the best advice I can give you is to have your teeth attended to by a dentist, but where for any reason this advice is not heeded, let me recommend, in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded, let me recommend in the case of the best advice is not heeded.

will be made for a political union and these overtures will be received. Mr. Murray evidently believes that the Liberal party in Canada is in favor of annexation, and that its restoration to power would speedily lead to a political union between the two countries. Farther on in his speech he remarks:

Out of Canada's population of 5,000,000 not over 7,000 at most can be claimed as constituting a basis of opposition to the union of this continent. The French and Germans of Canada are cretainly not opposed to it, but even if all were lovers of the English flag and haters of the sars and stripes, what should we dow Why we should do nothing.

Well, now, shall we allow thirty millions of alien people—the coming population of Canada—prejudiced against us always so far as the ruling party goes, hostile at heart and determined to have nothing to do with us: shall we allow the stripes whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and that its restoration to power whether it intends to support Mr. Ellis or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an annexation, and the limbs or not after denouncing him as an ann
