The matter has been hushed up, however, and another tavern is now established a Bathurst station. If another train driven by men intoxicated by the enertainment within their reach at Bath urst station, causes more destruction of life and property, to what extent will the "hush-it-up" policy of the Railway management be accountable?

SCATTERED. -The Capital makes Local Government was held at Fredericton the other day. The only thing that can save the Government is said, by their Fredericton friends, to be the holding of all Executive meetings at the Provincial capital. But, that will not prevent misunderstandings and aistrusts from intruding themselves within the incongruous circle. The Premier ! (please don't smile) the Proincial Secretary and Surveyor-General re always ready to put flesh on the Brayley House skeleton's bones and introduce bad blood from that revivified olitical "penumbra"—as ex.Attorney-General King would say. Then, the President, of the Council sits, like a perpetual sneer, patronising the Premier Hog Reeves,-show"their claws"- as he expresses iternment at Caraquet. The Frederictonnians say that the quarrel over the insult to Mr. Grieves and, through him, to the Orangemen, would not have taken place but for the Executive meetings at that "distracting" hotel in St. John and that the only safety of the Bye Road Commissioners,-Government lies in Fredericton sessions as the "old lines" of policy are best preserved there by surrounding associations and influences. The President of the Council, the Chief Commissioner, the Attorney-General and the members susceptible of their control, claim that things have been going "too much the
