

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

(FOR ADDITIONAL SOCIETY NEWS SEE FIFTH AND SIXTH PAGES.)

IBIS TALKS ABOUT HALIFAX.

PROGRESS is for sale in Halifax at the following places:
Knox's Book Store, 24 George street
C. G. Morton & Co., 111 Hollis street
Andrews' Book Store, 111 Hollis street
Hattie & Mylne, 111 Hollis street
Connolly's Book Store, 111 Hollis street
Buckley's Drug Store, 111 Hollis street
Buckley's Drug Store, 111 Hollis street
Buckley's Drug Store, 111 Hollis street

The late delightful weather has put society on excellent terms with itself, making it very gay in fashionable circles. The event of the week was, of course, the grand picnic given on McNab's Island by the officers of the R. A. and R. E. on Monday last. It was a very grand affair and immensely enjoyed.

On Wednesday afternoon a large number of the fair sex looking their best in their sweetest summer gowns gathered the occasion. Many naval men were of the party, which was just the necessary element to render the picnic thoroughly successful.

Admiral, Lady and Miss Watson, and General Sir John Ross and Miss Copeland were among the guests. After an elaborate luncheon eaten under the sylvan shade, a charming afternoon passed away all too quickly boating or wandering over the many points of interest on the island.

Evening shadows commenced to deepen the happy party returned to the city in the launches very prettily illuminated with Chinese lanterns and very lights.

Appropos of picnics, regattas, tennis, polo, and the many out-door amusements in which society takes such a keen interest, it is at this particular season we have remarked that the ladies look awfully chic, their gowns have such a fresh stylish air, besides, best of all, fitting them so perfectly.

But please do not forget I did not say all society girls dressed well—some women will insist upon making rights of themselves in affecting the Louis XV mode. On Saturday, at the regatta, there were goodly numbers of these "dressed-up" ladies in the long Louis XV basque. I couldn't help but wonder if that girl were a sister, and if so, did she ever look at herself when she wore that kind of frock. This style of dress is suited only to tall, slight women, and none others should attempt to wear it.

Imagine how you would look in that kind of dress! I saw another girl on Saturday—there were lots of people there, but this, I think, the prettiest—who took my fancy immensely. She wore a simple, navy blue skirt and white vest, with a rolling white collar and necktie; over this a short blue jacket, a white sailor hat with blue band, white parasol, and white shoes completed this jaunty costume. The little she came from New York and cost her money at $12. This girl, I assure you, looked well, and was the crown jewel of the regatta. Besides, she had a very elegant and good breeding. White and gold in very fashionable, and some bronzettes who affect this style, it is very fashionable.

On regatta on Saturday was very successful; the piazza on the yacht club grounds was filled with spectators. Among the number of people who noticed several Americans. The pleasantest feature of the afternoon was certainly the boat race. In each race two men and a lady who steered. Among the women who rowed in the race were the following: Mr. Corbitt, Mr. Hoak, Mr. St. John, Mr. Vizard, Mr. Lusk, Mr. Furnace—steered by Miss Lusk, Mr. Marsh, Mr. Kenney—steered by Miss Kenney. Mr. Corbitt and Mr. Hoak were the winners and the prize was presented to Miss Vizard by the lieutenant-governor.

Regattas are extremely pleasant. You really can imagine nothing more enjoyable than on a clear bright day to stand looking out on the water like so many yachts skimming the surface of the sea. The white sails, the gulls, then there are the friends who handle their slight crafts with a delightful, fearful interest. Besides, these regattas are always a band, and when done on the breeze? There is no doubt that it is very pleasant.

I am of opinion that there are too many amusements on the tapis Saturday afternoon. As all are of a high order, one of course cannot. As all are of a high order, one of course cannot. As all are of a high order, one of course cannot.

There is, for example, the band at the gardens that splendid Loretto. They were in the park, should be counted a rare treat, and yet, we hear, that nobody goes. It is really a pity that good music should be wasted upon a desert air, or at least upon the unresponsive nursery maid or cry of the occupant of the chamboulour. What, then, is a strange place. I wonder if other towns take such drive them in the mood, then trample them well out of sight and forget all about them.

The tennis tournament at the South End club was continued on Saturday. The match played solely by gentlemen. One game played by Capt. Alexander and Mr. Ryan in No. 3 court, and Capt. Ryan and Mr. Ryan in No. 4 court. The match was very interesting, all being considered our best players. After much brilliant playing, and a rallies victory was decided in favor of Capt. Alexander. The great interest in the regatta, and in the united doubles in which semi-final and final were played. Capt. Alexander represented the South End club, and Mr. Ryan represented the Victoria club. The match was very interesting, all being considered our best players.

Dr. Edward Farrell was a passenger, last week, to England by the Nova Scotia. He has gone as delegate to attend the Council of Hygiene to be held in London. The Council is understood, will be absent about one month.

Mrs. Finkler, Miss Finkler, Master and Miss Flossie Finkler, of Lowell, Mass., are here on their usual summer visit to their friends in Halifax.

Mrs. Davis, Mrs. W. Tobin, and Miss Mayrhoth are at Hubbard's Cove. Mr. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

Dr. W. V. Wallace, of Providence, R. I., is visiting his brother, Mr. T. J. Wallace. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street. Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Twining on Morris street.

choir gets along without the aid of an organ. The members have seats directly in front of the pulpit, and furnish very full accompaniment of the services. The congregation very generally join in the singing, so that it happens that one or two lady members, who have seats near the choir, have very loud voices and have a wonderful facility for singing out. They have been the habit of joining heartily in the praise up to a point, when a well-known city drummer no longer and intimated in a quiet way to do so. The deacons, it appears, were not inclined to interfere, so the ladies in question, confined their efforts, all unconscious that they were distressing those about them. The suggestion eventually under took to bring the matter to a crisis, and during the singing of a Psalm on a certain Sunday morning left the church. This determined the deacons and they intimated to the father of the offending ladies that more in tune with the choir. This was done and the ladies take no part in the musical portion of the services. The draught and other sensitive members of the congregation now keep their peace during the entire service. But they are marked men.

READERS OF PROGRESS who are going to the country for the summer, can have this paper sent to any address they may name. Send STAMPS in payment and ADDRESS and the order will be promptly attended to.

CHARLOTTETOWN.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Charlottetown at T. L. Chappelle's bookstore and by S. Gray.]

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Towns head, went off on Wednesday last on a drive to town, expecting to return next Saturday. They intend to call on their relatives and see their friends. They will be back on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

AMHERST.

[PROGRESS is for sale at Amherst, by George Douglas, at the Western Union Telegraph office.]

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

YARMOUTH.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Yarmouth at the stores of E. J. Vickery and Harris & Horsfall.]

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

TRURO, N. S.

[PROGRESS is for sale in Truro at Mr. G. O. Fulton's.]

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

(FOR ADDITIONAL SOCIETY NEWS SEE FIFTH AND SIXTH PAGES.)

Queen Hotel, HALIFAX, N. S.

WE have much pleasure in calling the attention of Travellers and Tourists to the fact that the QUEEN has established a reputation for the best table and cleanest bedrooms, and the QUEEN contains 30 rooms, and is fitted with all modern improvements, including bath-rooms and w.c.'s on every floor.

The parlors afford a great deal of attention, as nothing superior in this line is to be seen in Canada. The cuisine has been made specially from the first, and amply justifies its reputation. One visit will satisfy any one as to the superiority of this Hotel.

ESTABLISHED 1868. MILLER BROS. Manufacturers' Agents for the Best ORGANS, PIANOS, AND SEWING MACHINES.

PIANOS AND ORGANS WARRANTED SEVEN YEARS. Sewing Machines Repaired. 116 & 118 GRANVILLE STREET, HALIFAX, N. S. TELEPHONE 728.

Autumn Goods! NOW OPENING. And ready for shipment with Fall dating. Gloves, Wool Wraps, Felt Hats, Mantles and Jackets, Silks, Dress Caps, Crapes, Millinery Trimmings, Feathers and Flowers, Ribbons.

SMITH BROS. Granville and Duke Streets, HALIFAX, N. S.

WINE OF RENNET. FOR MAKING A DELICIOUS DESSERT OR DISH FOR TEA IN A FEW MINUTES AND AT A COST OF BUT A FEW CENTS.

THE FOLLOWING ARE REASONS WHY EAGAR'S IS THE BEST! IT is made from pure wine. IT is the strongest Rennet on the Market. (60 drops will make one pint of Dessert.) IT assists digestion, and cures dyspepsia.

DON'T BE PUT OFF WITH IMITATIONS, On which dealers may make a larger profit. ALL FIRST-CLASS GROCERS and DRUGGISTS SELL EAGAR'S at 25c. per Bottle.

FACTORY AND OFFICES: 181 and 183 LOWER WATER STREET, HALIFAX, N. S.

EMERSON'S. IS THE BEST. TAKE NO OTHER.

CONFERRATION LIFE. Head Office: TORONTO. J. K. MACDONALD, MANAGING DIRECTOR.

BUSINESS IN FORCE, ASSETS AND CAPITAL: FOUR AND A QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS. INCREASES MADE LAST YEAR.

In Income, $55,168.00. In Assets, $417,141.00. In Cash Surplus, $68,648.00. In New Business, $706,967.00. In Business In Force, $1,600,376.00.

Geo. W. PARKER, C. E. O'SHEA, General Agents. S. A. McLEOD, Agent at St. John's. F. W. GREEN, Halifax, Manager for Maritime Provinces.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place, Fort Cumberland, a charming spot about five miles from town.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McCreary returned on Tuesday from a visit to Cape Breton to see their relatives. The Methodist congregation held their annual school picnic on Wednesday last at Fowler's Hill, near that old historic place,