FATAL ACCIDENT.

Henry Fisher Meets Death in Mill Near Amherst.

Amherst, N. S., April 28.—(Special).—One of the most sad accidents that has happened in this vicinity for a long time occurred this morning, about 12 miles from Amherst, last yesterday afternoon, whereby Mr. Henry Fisher, one of the best known and most highly respected millmen in the country, was almost instantly killed.

Mr. Fisher, who was a member of the lumbering and milling firm of C. Fisher & Sons, of Shinnings, resided at Tremarville, seven and a half miles from Amherst. He went to his brothers at Shinnings on Thursday last to see to their mill property for the spring saving, intending to return home last evening. They had the mill fitted up ready to commence operations tomorrow and he had just received the mill test. They had saved over through a big stick of hard-wood timber. Henry had his hand on the lever to run the stick, his foot for second when the saw caught the slab, weighing from 75 to 100 pounds, which had just been cut off, hurling it back with terrific force, the edge striking him in the left side directly over the heart.

His nephew, Seymour Fisher, seeing his uncle drop, rushed up to him and called the others that he was killed. The men were immediately at the spot and a team despatched to Northport, the nearest point of communication with Amherst, and Dr. C. W. Hewson telephoned for him before the messenger had gone ten minutes he had died. Mr. Fisher never gained consciousness.

The body was immediately removed to the old homestead, where his twin brother and business partner, Edgar, and their aged mother, resided, the blow to them all being severe, especially to the mother, who is inconsolable.

Dr. Hewson arrived about an hour and a half after the accident. He found the heart, where deceased was hit, and a bruise on the right temple, caused in falling.

Mr. Fisher was a son of the late Chas. Fisher, of Shinnings, and a brother of the Rev. J. M. Fisher, pastor of the Methodist church, and a member of the Methodist board of Missions.

He was known through his large business connection in lumbering and milling as a thoroughly upright and honorable man. He was also well-known in Amherst, having bored the pipes and laid them in the first water system introduced into the town.

About the time Mrs. Fisher and her three children were expecting her husband to return, his brother arrived and broke the sad news to them. The blow came doubly sad at the present time, they having buried their eldest son, a bright young man, aged 16, only a few weeks ago.

The committee that held the recent successful dance and basket social in the Masonic hall, have issued invitations for another one, to take place Tuesday evening next.

In June, according to rumor, Sussex is to lose two of its fairest and most attractive young ladies. It is mooted there also may be others.

Mr. H. W. McDonald, of Woodford, is visiting his old friend, Mr. John Asbell, who is dangerously ill.

Fredericton, N. S., has leased the new hotel near the I. C. R. station here, owned by George H. White, and will open it shortly.

Several schools of black bass have been seen in Trout creek lately, and a number of disciples of Isaac Walton are whipping the streams.

Captured a Wild Cat.
Amherst, April 17.—Mr. John Gass, of Advocate, is exhibiting an immense wild cat, captured by him between Advocate and Sussex's Island, 120 yards from the main road. The capture was rather exciting and somewhat dangerous as the brute showed fight. He was caught by the leg in an ordinary steel fox trap.

To secure him Mr. Gass, with the assistance of four men, took a small tethering line and put him in a strong cage. The cat is a magnificent specimen about 3 feet 7 inches long and weighs 60 pounds. Mr. Gass says he is the only specimen ever captured alive in Nova Scotia.

Mr. F. M. Logan, for some years manager of the Acadia Dairy at Wolfville, who has just completed a special course at the Agricultural College at Guelph, has been appointed manager of the large farm in Kings county, in which Hon. Dr. Borden, minister of militia, is interested.

Stone Sails of Guadalupe.
Guadalupe is the holy city of Mexico, and is almost as much the goal of pilgrims of that country as is Jerusalem to the Jews of other lands.

Nearly 400 years ago, the legend says, the Virgin appeared there to a poor Indian, through whom she commanded the fisherman to erect a cathedral. And on the spot where she stood an all-healing spring gushed forth.

Perhaps the greatest curiosity of the city is at the top of the hill near whose foot is the chapel over the miraculous spring. Many years ago some sailors who believed they had been saved from shipwreck by the aid of Our Lady of Guadalupe brought sails of their ship, ceased in stone, and set them up on this hill as a memorial of their gratitude.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Fredericton Stirred by Suspensions.

Fredericton, April 28.—(Special).—Colonel Hewitson, of Doak Settlement, a well-known character about town, died last evening, and the suspicious circumstances which surround his demise have created a sensation about town today.

It appears that last night a man named John Johnston, better known as "English Jack," and an inmate of a den on Westmoreland street, kept by Newton Lee, a well-known character about town, and who told the strike manager that Newton Lee wanted to hire a horse and man to take Hewitson, who had been drinking, home to Doak Settlement.

Mr. Gerow, the manager, accompanied by a colored driver, went to Lee's, where he found Hewitson in an apparently drunken stupor. He spoke to him, but received no reply. Lee then paid the stableman $2 to take Hewitson home, and as the latter was unable to move, helped to lift him into the wagon. During the drive to Doak Settlement the driver spoke to Hewitson several times, but received no reply and on arriving at the destination was shocked to find his companion was dead.

The driver is unable to state positively whether Hewitson was dead when he was put into the wagon at Lee's or died in the wagon.

The deceased came to town on Thursday and was seen around on that day, but had not been seen since. It has been ascertained that he had not been home in the morning, and is supposed to have been at Lee's since the date when he left home. He had about $50 with him, and when searched last evening, had only $10 on his person.

Dr. Seery, coroner, was called and viewed the body. The time for holding an inquest has not yet been set, but it is thought it will be tomorrow.

Public opinion expressed is that the time has come when Newton Lee's place should be broken up. Colonel Hewitson was about 60 years of age, and was some years connected with the militia. He lived on a farm at Doak Settlement, a few miles below the town. He had not been in town for some months until he made the funeral visit of Thursday last. "English Jack," who was at Lee's last evening, has been in the city about two years.

$50,000 FIRE IN CHARLESTON.
Part of Boston and Maine Railroad Freight House Burned.

Boston, April 28.—The middle section of freight house No. 1 of the Fitchburg division, Boston & Maine Railroad, containing a large amount of miscellaneous freight, and a large amount of what was formerly the main line of the Fitchburg Railroad in Charleston, was burned early this morning, resulting in a loss of about $50,000.

The burned section was about 250 feet in length, 30 feet wide and one story in height, and was a part of one long building some 700 or 800 feet in length. In this section, which was used for west shore freight, were stored considerable quantities of lumber, hides, sugar, lime, and boxed goods, all of which were totally ruined.

The two end sections were saved by having fire doors which caused the firemen to drop the flames before they had time to break through the barriers. On the north side of the burning building, the south side of the same size as No. 1, separated by a driveway 75 feet in width, but although the roof of that building was on fire several times it was saved with only slight damage. On the south side the water front, along which run five or six tracks, upon which several freight cars were standing when the fire broke out, but they were all hauled to places of safety.

Annapolis, N. S., April 28.—(Special).—Western Star Lodge, Independent Order of Foresters, of this place, and members of Guiding Star Lodge, of Granville Ferry, this afternoon celebrated the 82nd anniversary of the institution of Oddfellowship in America by meeting in their lodge room, and headed by the Annapolis brass band, marched in procession to the Methodist church, where a very able, eloquent and instructive discourse was delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Coffin, by request, from the words in the Epistle to the Hebrews, 13th chapter, 16th verse: "But to do good and to communicate for not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."

STILL WILLING TO PAY $10,000
Rev. Father Mullin Renews Offer for Finding of Missing Willie McCormack.

New York, April 28.—Detective O'Connell, of this city, who is investigating the gypsy camps near Alexandria, in the hope of getting a clue of the whereabouts of Willie McCormack, telephoned Captain Titus from Washington this afternoon, that he, with Detectives Weiden and his son, of the Washington police, had been to Alexandria during today. They ran across no one who, in visiting the gypsy camps, had seen a boy who might be the missing one. O'Connell also said that he had learned that there are three gypsy camps in the northeastern suburbs of Washington and that he would visit these camps tomorrow. He also telephoned that it was his intention this evening to visit a house on Virginia avenue, Washington, D. C. Two ladies who were not named, had informed the Washington police that they had seen a boy who resembled young McCormack in the Virginia avenue house.

Father Mullin, rector of the Roman Catholic church at Highbridge, referred at mass this morning to the McCormack case. He said that, while he had been compelled to withdraw his offer of $10,000 for the return of the missing boy and the arrest of the kidnappers on account of the anonymous offer, he was still willing to pay the $10,000.

BANK WILL NOT OPEN DOORS.
Will Go Into Liquidation Because of Doubtful Value of Securities.

Western, R. I., April 28.—The Mechanics Savings Bank of this town will not open up for business Monday morning. Late this afternoon E. B. Foster, recently elected treasurer to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his brother, J. B. Foster, issued the following notice:

"The trustees of the Mechanics Savings Bank, owing to the doubtful value of some of the bank's securities, have decided that it is for the best interests of the depositors that the bank go into liquidation and action has already been taken looking to this result. Pending the granting of the authority no money will be received or paid out."

This action came as a great surprise to the town and naturally has created some uneasiness among small depositors. The estimated amount of deposits is something less than $1,000,000; the securities on their face value something less than $1,000,000; the number of depositors about 2,000, and the largest amount of any one depositor about $12,000. Many of the securities are western investments, which are understood to have decreased in value year by year.
