BETTER THAN SPANKING

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for the trouble. Mrs. M. Summers, Box 76, Windsor, Ont., will send free to any mother a booklet on the best home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money but write her today. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with urine difficulties by day or night.

HOUSE AT COX'S POINT WAS SAVED

Cox's Point, May 3.—While Wellington McLean was pruning his apple trees and turning the brush here a day or two ago the fire caught in the grass and for a short time threatened his house. A neighbor came to his assistance and the fire was extinguished without damage. A correspondence from Cox's Point to The Telegraph, said that the house "was nearly destroyed" by the fire, but the correspondent meant that the house had had a narrow escape. As a matter of fact Mr. McLean says it was not damaged.

Of Interest to Women

Pineapple is good for indigestion, the juice containing a digestive fluid similar to that of the stomach. It is especially good to remove ink spots over which before sending to the laundry. This can be used on colored materials where lemon and salt cannot.

Wash curtain should never be washed in warm water. Make a lather with hot water and when it is nearly cold wash the curtains. If these are green, add vinegar; if blue or grey, ammonia.

Do not take time to grate chocolate. Put the desired amount in a saucepan and place over the top of a tea kettle until melted. Two squares of unsweetened chocolate are equal to a cupful of grated.

If the table is not used for other purposes set it when you are drying the dishes. It is then ready for the next meal, and, as most girls with the house-keeping instinct are irritable, this gives a hospitable touch to the room.

Gold lace and trimmings tarnish very quickly. They may be cleaned by using powdered soap and water. Apply the soap in a flannel cloth or soft brush. If badly tarnished, the lace should be wrapped in the powder for several days.

It is worth while to get a pint of milk scum from one day to another for the breakfast griddle cakes, because cakes made from sour milk and soda are so much superior in lightness and texture to those made of sweet milk and baking powder.

Use paper bags for cooking. This saves pot washing, is most clean and sanitary and not expensive. When pots and pans are used wash them at once.

Keep kerosene on hand. With a little whitening it makes an excellent silver polish; a cloth moistened with it will be useful in cleaning the bathtub in a jiffy.

MAXWELL'S HIGH SPEED CHAMPION

The Wringer Board extends from the side of the tub to the top of the tub to open up—makes it easy to put in and take out clothes—keeps the clothes from getting soiled. No other wringer has so large an opening.

Do you use Maxwell's "Favorite" wringer? It is the best wringer you ever used. Write us for a catalogue if your dealer does not handle them.

SAYS TO BURN THE GARBAGE IN KITCHEN FIRE

Timely Words by Dr. G. G. Melvin in April Health Report—The Best Way to Do It—Serious Danger in Accumulation of it in Yard.

The April report of Doctor G. G. Melvin, health officer is as follows:—

The following cases of contagious diseases were reported from the city during the month. The figures for the preceding month and for the corresponding month last year are given for comparison.

Disease	1912	1911	1911
Diphtheria	3	2	2
Scarlet fever	6	4	5
Typhoid fever	2	1	3
Measles	1	1	7
Varicoid	0	2	0
Tub. disease	6	15	14

The following is the usual monthly mortality table. It includes deaths from all causes. It will be noted that, although the death-rate is considerably higher than last month, it is still considerably below that for the corresponding month last year. The estimated population upon which it is based is 42,696. The figures for March last, and for April, 1911, are added for comparison.

Garbage may be said to be the refuse of the kitchen and dining room. It consists of two principal classes of matter—vegetable and animal. The former is made up of the parings and scrapings of potatoes, carrots, apples, onions and such like, and the parts of vegetables which are rejected as unsound or not suitable for food, as the outer leaves of cabbage heads, the "hulls" of strawberries and so forth.

Animal refuse is of much greater importance as an insanitary product than is vegetable refuse. It is hardly necessary to specify its varieties. Bones and particles of meat, fish, and other animal refuse, and soups and gravies, its liquid.

But vegetable and animal matter are subject to the same law of nature—decomposition. The animal refuse rapidly, the vegetable much less so. Decomposition is the breaking up, or separating of a substance into its original elements, and, under conditions, can only be accomplished by the aid of bacteria. The breaking up, or decomposition, is always a disagreeable process to those close at hand, and, very often may become a dangerous one.

Garbage, therefore, should be carefully collected, and removed from the house, and should not be permitted to accumulate to any extent either within the house, or in the yard outside.

Where the number of people composing the household is large, as in hotels and boarding houses, some other way must be adopted, practicable to burn the garbage of a medium-sized family in the very room in which most of it is produced.

If put in a wide and shallow pan and placed behind or upon the bank of the range for a couple of hours, a great deal of the moisture will dry out, and the material will burn quite readily in a brisk fire. In fact, so treated, it will do something to save fuel.

If this plan were generally adopted, it would, of itself, save the lives of many young children each summer. Nothing more readily and quickly poisons the soil of a yard than decaying meat and greasy refuse, and it is from the poisonous soil that most of the digestive diseases come which are so fatal to children in the hot weather.

Pineapple is good for indigestion, the juice containing a digestive fluid similar to that of the stomach. It is especially good to remove ink spots over which before sending to the laundry. This can be used on colored materials where lemon and salt cannot.

Wash curtain should never be washed in warm water. Make a lather with hot water and when it is nearly cold wash the curtains. If these are green, add vinegar; if blue or grey, ammonia.

Do not take time to grate chocolate. Put the desired amount in a saucepan and place over the top of a tea kettle until melted. Two squares of unsweetened chocolate are equal to a cupful of grated.

If the table is not used for other purposes set it when you are drying the dishes. It is then ready for the next meal, and, as most girls with the house-keeping instinct are irritable, this gives a hospitable touch to the room.

Gold lace and trimmings tarnish very quickly. They may be cleaned by using powdered soap and water. Apply the soap in a flannel cloth or soft brush. If badly tarnished, the lace should be wrapped in the powder for several days.

It is worth while to get a pint of milk scum from one day to another for the breakfast griddle cakes, because cakes made from sour milk and soda are so much superior in lightness and texture to those made of sweet milk and baking powder.

Use paper bags for cooking. This saves pot washing, is most clean and sanitary and not expensive. When pots and pans are used wash them at once.

Keep kerosene on hand. With a little whitening it makes an excellent silver polish; a cloth moistened with it will be useful in cleaning the bathtub in a jiffy.

HOUSE AT COX'S POINT WAS SAVED

Cox's Point, May 3.—While Wellington McLean was pruning his apple trees and turning the brush here a day or two ago the fire caught in the grass and for a short time threatened his house. A neighbor came to his assistance and the fire was extinguished without damage. A correspondence from Cox's Point to The Telegraph, said that the house "was nearly destroyed" by the fire, but the correspondent meant that the house had had a narrow escape. As a matter of fact Mr. McLean says it was not damaged.

Your Manhood Can Be Restored

Strong, vital, manly manhood fascinates all who come within its influence. As true as you are a living, breathing human being, I can restore your VITAL MANHOOD; there is not a shadow of a doubt as to what I can thus do. BUT there is
