"There Bingham Teazler, for one, says he asked ye twice over last time his boat was in," said I rather harshly, for I resented the look of composed martyrdom that had suddenly spread itself over Cuby's capricious and beautiful features.

"Is it your beezness, Jeem," inquired Cuby sweetly, "to go aroun' tellin' folks who they shall to marry? I thought you had a boat and went a-feeshin'. I did not know you had change' your beezness. Me—I should theenk you would be a-shem' of yourself to go aroun' on such beezness, lak' a ol' hen, fooss, fooss, fooss—"

"My business is sailing and fishing still. Only once in a while there's a little wildcat ashore that is more than old hens can manage; she needs a big man to train her. She's a vixen and a torment, and a whole handful. I've got more folks to look after and more things on my hands now than I know what to do with. But here's another—a 'married' woman, too—that ought to be behaving herself respectably."

Cuby laughed. "Married! I would tell anybody go mind their beezness eef I was married to tham only so little as I am married to Rob Heelton. Get away, you, from my father's house. You are stupeed. You have no br'ens. It is a peety, for somtam' I theenk I lak' you—it is a peety God have give you no br'ens."

"Well, you have got to promise me one thing before I leave here; you won't go drowning yourself or swimming out too far? I know you will keep it if you promise. Now look me straight in the eyes—will you promise?"

"Get away from my father's house, and go you mind your beezness. For I will not promise you not'ing—no, I will not."

"Promise," I said, striding toward her, and I took both her hands, holding her at arm's length. The little hands were helpless in mine.

Her fearless, wild eyes smiled at me. I never knew just how it was done, but in that instant I held her at arm's length no longer. I held her in my arms, and I kissed her with a fierce will on her, sweet rebellious lips.

"Promise me, Cuby."

"Jeem, I promise-a you," she said.

FAILED IN ITS PURPOSE.

In a certain public school is a little girl pupil who is well up in most of her studies, but she has an inveterate dislike of geography, and it seems impossible to teach the study to her. The other day her teacher, made impatient, sent to Rosie's mother a note requesting her to see that the girl studied her lesson. The next day showed no improvement, however.

"And did your mother read the note, Rosie?" said the teacher.

"Yes, ma'am," was the reply.

"What did she say?"

"My mother said that she didn't know geography, an' she got married, an' my aunt didn't know geography, an' she got married, an' you know geography, an' you didn't get married."

"Bridget," said Mrs. Hiram Offen, sternly, "on my way home just now I saw the policeman who was in the kitchen with you so long last evening, and I took occasion to speak to him—"

"Oh, shure, that's all roight, ma'am. Oi'm not jealous."

I Can Make a Man of You

Men who want to regain the vigor of youth, who want to attain the highest standard of physical vitality, can do so by wearing

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

You will never know what a grand power electricity is until you feel its genial, glowing warmth penetrating every vital part of your body from my Electric Belt.

You know how easily electricity runs street cars, makes plants grow without sun or soil, purifies filthy water and transforms night into day at the will of man, but I can't make you believe it will renew the vigor of youth until you feel it dancing through your veins and carrying to every organ of your body the "fire of life."

Pick out the men who have worn my Belt. See them with head erect, chest expanded, the glow of health in their cheeks, courage in their hearts, and a clasp of the hand that tells you "I am a man."

Dr. McLaughlin:—

Dear Sir:—About five years ago I had Rheumatism in my ankles, shoulders, elbows and fingers. I used your Belt, and was cured in about forty days. Your Belt is the best investment I ever made.

John Hemsforth, Hazelwood, Sask.

Dr. McLaughlin:—

Dear Sir:—Your Belt is all you claim for it. It has quite cured my backache, and I will recommend it to anyone to whom I think it will be of any use. Thanking you for the trouble you have taken, and wishing you every success, I remain,

E. Mason, Portage la Prairie, Man.

And how is it with you? Have you rheumatism and back pains, a dull ache and weakness over your kidneys, dull headaches, with a tired, stupid feeling? Are you losing your vitality? Do you feel yourself growing aged before your time? Are you nervous, sleepless, short of memory and lacking in spirit and self-confidence? Do you know that you are not the man you would like to be?

If so, I can cure you. What you lack is just what electricity supplies. My Belt will cure you, and if you will come to me you will soon be one of "DR. McLAUGHLIN'S MEN."

What more can you ask? I am willing to take all the chances of curing your case, and if I fail you will have the satisfaction of knowing that one of the best and strongest electric appliances in the world has failed. All you lose is your time. My confidence in my method enables me to offer any man or woman who will assume the use of my Belt at my risk and
