

Nothing Like It For the Home

No game in the world will afford as much enjoyment in your home as English Billiards.

Burroughes & Watts' Billiard Tables

are built in various sizes, each size correctly proportioned. There's a table suitable for YOUR home. For instance, there's the Billiardner, a convertible dining and billiard table. Then there are tables for small, medium and large size billiard rooms. Burroughes and Watts' English Billiard Tables are acknowledged to be the world's finest—the choice of Royalty. In Lighter Vein

Going Down.—Gabe—"He claims he is a descendant from a great family."
Steve—"Yes, and he is still descending."
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Shift.—Office Boy—"There are two men out there, sir, who want to see you; one of them is a poet and the other a deaf man."

Editor—"Well, go out and tell the poet that the deaf man is the editor, and let them fight it out between them."
—Tit-Bits.

Pretty Close.—First Stude—"How near were you to the right answer to the fifth question?"

Second Stude—"Two seats away."
Widow.

Any Price Enough.—A little car of the "roadhouse" type chugged painfully up to the gate at the Elgin races.

The gatekeeper, demanding the usual fee for automobiles, called:

"A dollar for the car!"

The owner looked up with a pathetic smile of relief, and said:

"Sold!"—Illinois Siren.

Rapid Revision.—"Bloop has turned cubist."

"Rot."

"Sold his first picture for a thousand."

"Fine!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Cordon Bleu.

MY better half's a splendid cook!

I do not care a button

That yesterday she quite mistook

A piece of beef for mutton.

For she it is adds spice to life,

And gives it all its flavour—

Besides there's no one like my wife

Knows how to curry favour.

—George B. Morewood, in New York Sun.

The Cowards!—Mayor Gaynor of New York declares that marriage is the only cure for the English malignant Suffragettes. We fear, however, that in these decadent days our men lack the necessary pluck to give the suggested remedy a trial.—Punch.

One.—Trotter—"While I was in England I met one nobleman who actually believed in the abolition of the House of Lords."

Blotter—"Did you, really?"

Trotter—"Yes. He said it was such a nuisance to go there."—Puck.

Refined Punishment.—The golf bug's soul came back from a little range around Satan's preserve with a smile as wide as the Amazon River.

"I say," he exclaimed. "I don't call this much of a hell. They have the finest golf course out there I ever saw in my life."

A droll-looking old soul who was sitting on the safety-valve looked up.

"But did you see anybody playing on it?" he asked. "No," the newcomer admitted. "I didn't." The old-timer chuckled. "That's it," he said. "He won't let anybody play on it."—Cleveland Leader.

An Extraordinary Tale.—A story is told about Dr. Michael Clark, the noted free trade Liberal from Red Deer, which the honourable gentleman strenuously denied. It is said that one of his favourite phrases when he first came to Canada from Newcastle was, "How extraordinary!" On one occasion he rode horseback across the prairie to call on a friend or a patient and tied his horse at the gate while he went into the house. When he came out he found the horse lying on the ground.

"How extraordinary!" said the doctor. While he was trying to get the horse to its feet a man came along and started to help him. Again the doctor remarked, "How extraordinary!"

"Not extraordinary at all!" snarled the man. "When you tie a horse to the post with a slip-knot, it is not extraordinary if you come out and find him dead."

All Such Corns

Can be Ended in Two Days

Apply a little Blue-jay plaster.

Right from that moment the corn becomes comfortable.

Then the B & B wax begins to loosen the corn, and in 48 hours the whole corn comes out.

The chemist who invented Blue-jay studied corns for years. And his method is now employed on a million corns a month.

No pain, no soreness, no discomfort. The way is gentle and results are sure.

Don't pare corns. Don't apply liquids. Don't use ancient methods in these scientific days.

You can end the corn forever in this simple, modern way. Try it on one corn.

A in the picture is the soft B & B wax. It loosens the corn.
B stops the pain and keeps the wax from spreading.
C wraps around the toe. It is narrowed to be comfortable.
D is rubber adhesive to fasten the plaster on.
