GOT HIS PENSION

On Friday last E. Loverin received official notification from the pension office at Washington, D.C., that his application for a pension for William Simpson, at present in the House of Industry, Athens, had been favorably decided. Accompanying this was a certified cheque for $20 per month from the time the application was received up to 4th September, amounting to $80.67.

Many readers of the Reporter will remember "Uncle" Billie Simpson as a hard-working sober laborer, who for many years resided at "Saginaw," near Elbe Mills. For several years his eye sight has been failing him, until at the present time he is totally blind. Not being able to earn a livelihood, he asked to be received into the House of Industry and his wife secured a home with Mrs. Carson of Plum Hollow.

Several attempts had been made to secure this much needed and well-earned pension, but all failed, as the persons acting for him were not duly qualified to execute the required affidavits. Mr. Loverin's experience in the line of securing pensions was such that only one set of pension papers had to be filed by him to secure a speedy adjustment of Simpson's claim.

Although Mr. Simpson is in his 76th year, he can concisely relate his war experiences. He came from Ireland when a boy and wandered out to Nebraska, where he enlisted in the regular army and had served about half his time when the civil war broke out. He was sent to the front and was in many of the most desperately fought battles, was shot through the wrist, was taken prisoner at Malvern Hill and spent several months in Libby prison. On his release he was again sent to the front, and his term of enlistment expiring he again enlisted and served until the close of the war and was discharged on the 25th May, 1864.

There is no doubt that if proper representation had been made to the U.S. government he would have received a pension many years ago, but under late acts of the senate of the U.S. he may yet receive a bounty and arrears of pension, as application for the same has been forwarded, but if he receives no more than the present allowance of $20 per month it will enable the old couple to again settle down in a little home of their own and enjoy the few remaining years of life in ease and comfort. When told of his good fortune he could hardly grasp the idea that after over thirty years of anxious waiting for his well deserved recompense for faithful service he was actually in receipt of enough to keep himself and faithful partner in comfort for the remainder of their days.

Tired Mothers

It's hard work to take care of child ren and to cook, sweep, wash, sew and mend besides.

It makes a shop of the home—a shop, too, where sixteen hours make a day and yet there is much working overtime.

Hood's Sarsaparilla helps tired mothers in many ways—it refreshes the blood, improves the appetite, and assures restful sleep.

DELTA'S GREAT SHOW

The annual Fair at Delta has become an event that is looked forward to with pleasure by a large number of the people of this county. It has been constantly under careful management, the enterprise of the board keeping pace with its prosperity. Its foundation has been based on a constant recognition of the fact that it was an agricultural exhibition for the benefit of the agriculturists, and so whether the class in the prize list related to the field or fireside, its revision from year to year has always been made with a view to encouraging farmers to bring out the best that the skill of themselves or their families could produce.

Surely, the Fair on Wednesday last was an abundant vindication of their policy, for every department was full to overflowing with the products of the needle, the loom, the artist's brush and pencil, the dairy, the garden, the field—everywhere "advance" was in evidence in the quantity and quality of the display.

The live stock branch was particularly creditable, and from the poultry to the horse with the red ticket there was not a cull in the lot. There are a number of progressive cattle men in Delta district who delight in their herds of Holsteins, Ayrshires and Jerseys and they count fitting them for exhibition not too much trouble. In fact, the patrons of Delta Fair are not of the "too much trouble" variety.

The exhibit of sheep and swine, too, was good, fine specimens of all the favorite breeds being shown.

The exhibit of horses was a show in itself, and the interest in the performance of the many fine animals never flagged. The great array of teams and single drivers made picking the winners no easy task; but the experts made their awards promptly, passed out the tickets, and we heard no question raised as to the wisdom of their decisions. The fine imported horse, "Ontario," in charge of Mr. Brock Green of Oak Leaf, was greatly admired and was the subject of much favorable comment.

The horse races were keenly contested and the many close finishes were loudly cheered.

Good music was furnished by the 41st Batt. Band and the acrobatic performance was strictly high class.

The B. W. & N. W. carried great crowds from Athens and Westport, and these would have been even greater had the weather been more favorable. President Halladay and Secretary Phelps, upon whom so much of the Fair's success depends, and the board of directors may rest assured that their excellent exhibition of this year is fully appreciated and may with confidence prepare for even greater things in 1908.

MODEL SCHOOL NOTES

We enjoyed Wednesday afternoon at Delta Fair.

Observation begins next week and teaching the week after. What a pleasant prospect!

The Literary had a successful programme on Friday. Mr. McLean gave an instructive and interesting address on "Radium." Mr. Hanna and Mr. Eaton sang a duet. The choruses "Canada" and the "Maple Leaf" were heartily sung. Miss Graham's recitation was a gem, and we must mention the President's address on "Woman Suffrage."

Remember our motto—"Bound to excel."
