MONEY TO LOAN

IS AGAINST THE METERS

Mr. Merrifield Gives His Opinion on Present
Water Dispute

Thinks City should Improve the Plant and Enforce
The Law

To the Editor of The Planet:

Sir,—A number of citizens have asked me to publish my opinion on the Water Commissioners order for the installation of meters by every water user, both for houses and lawns. In complying I might say I am not an expert in that line, but I suppose I can do as some who claim to be experts, and that is, quote the opinions of men who are experienced in the business. The latest expressed opinions of experts were published a few days ago from the great meeting of American Water Commissioners held in Canada, in which it was decided that aside from the great expense of installing them meters were not an unusual benefit. Looking at the question from our local standpoint, I think that the money the meters will cost the citizens can be utilized to better advantage in the interest of both the citizen and the city. The total cost of the meter and placing it is about $18 to $20 each. There are about 2,500 water users now in the city. One meter for each would mean a direct present expenditure of about $50,000, which would mean making quite a hole in the working capital of the city; and all in favor of one line of business in some other city. If this $50,000 expenditure is an absolute necessity, then I would recommend that a small percentage of that sum be applied to detecting and punishing the "hog users" who rob their neighbors of a share of their required water. Of the balance—as they say our present pumping power and capacity is inadequate—I would invest in a new pumping plant of capacity. This some firms claim they can supply for about $37,000; they would then still be a balance of about $20,000 left on hand. With this they can add on another sedimentation basin. But I would advise not to make the same mistake as with the present basin, which has been placed on an elevation, and which cost an enormous amount of manual labor to excavate at a very great expense. And when completed requires the double expense of pumping the water first to the basin, and then back from the basin to the filters. My plan would be to put dredges to work in the large flats on this side of the river near the P. M. Railway; $5,000 or $6,000 would dredge out an enormous basin, as deep as the dredges can reach. Then instead of pumping the water into this basin all that will be necessary is a gateway for the water to enter by gravitation. And as we all like good water, this gateway can be built with tight compartments, these compartments to be filled with fine gravel or coarse sand so that the water would reach the basin in a partly filtered condition; then only one pumping would be required to carry that water through the regular filters and to the city. The reason why I recommend the intake to the basin to be in compartments is so that when the gravel or sand begins to get filled with sediment from the water passing through, they can be closed in sections for cleaning out and re-gravelling, without interfering with the supply of water. These, Mr. Editor, are my condensed opinions on the question of meters, and the proper expenditure of that $50,000.

W. K. MERRIFIELD.

PILLS AS WEAPONS.

The Curious Duel That Was Arranged by a Doctor.

An extraordinary duel, which at the time created an immense sensation, was one in which the decision was arrived at not by swords or pistols, but by means of a deadly poison. The man—who, it is hardly necessary to say, had fallen out over a lady—had left the arrangement of details to their seconds, and until they faced each other they did not know by what method they were to settle their differences. One of the seconds was a doctor, and he had made up for the occasion four black pellets, all identical in size and shape. "In one of these," he said, "I have placed a sufficient quantity of prussic acid to cause the almost instantaneous death of any one who swallows it. We will decide by the toss of a coin which of you is to have first choice, and you will alternately draw and swallow a pill until the poison shows its effects." Two of the pellets were then taken as the toss had decided, but without effect in either case. "This time," said the doctor, speaking of the two pellets remaining, "you must both swallow the pill at the same instant." The choice was again made, and in a few seconds one of the men lay dead on the grass.—Pall Mall Gazette.

"He Who Keepeth His Tongue."
An old fashioned minister was visiting his son in New York recently and was taken to a fashionable church for the Sunday morning service. The pastor is a young man of great culture, but evidently his oratorical efforts did not greatly impress the visitor, for when they were walking homeward the son remarked approvingly:
"That was a good sermon, an excellent sermon. The congregation like Dr. Blank very much."
"Yes, a good sermon undoubtedly," his father replied. "It could not possibly have touched a sore spot anywhere."

(By Dr. R. A. Torrey.)
Temperance Lesson—I. Cor., 10, 23-3. Read the chapter.

Golden Text—"It is good neither to eat flesh, nor to drink wine, nor anything whereby thy brother stumbleth."—Rom. 14, 21.

A true Christian does not ask what is permissible, but what is profitable? He asks, not what will edify, what will build the church of Christ and Christian character in others as well as himself?
Here are three questions, safe guides to our judgment in doubtful actions:

1. Will it help or hinder my spiritual life?
2. Is there danger in it and will it cause my weaker brother or sister to stumble?
3. Can I do it for the glory of God?

It is not what is the harm in doubtful things, but what is good and godly. "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof" has many practical applications. The earth being His, it belongs to His children also to use to His glory.
Verse 31 lays down a principle that will settle all our questions. Do nothing that you cannot do to His glory. Then conscience trouble and condemnation will be at an end, and we will give no occasion for stumbling to any of the three classes into which God divides men in our lesson—Jews, Gentiles, and the Church of God. Our own pleasure should never be our rule of action, but the pleasure and profit of others, even all men. We should be glad to give up our liberty or any right, if one thereby may be saved. How intensely Paul was occupied with this one thing, the salvation of others. This is the Christian principle of total abstinence, a self-denying of the flesh and the carnal mind, which will make us co-workers with God for the salvation of our fellow-men, and every Christian can have this holy honor if he will. Our Lord longs to have us take His yoke—of loving and self-denial—upon us. "Learn of me," He says, "for I am meek and lowly in heart and ye shall find rest unto your souls."

A Safe Investment

What Marshall Field Once Said

Real Estate in a good locality and in a growing village, town or city is the safest investment a poor man or woman can make. It cannot run away, bust up or cheat. My advice to a young man or woman who can spare $5 or $10 per month from his or her earnings is to put it into a small piece of mother earth. Even if it is only a small vacant lot. My first start in life was doing just what I now advise others to-day.

The above was the the advice given by Marshall Field in an address given to young men and women on How to Succeed in Life.

The Elms Sub-Division

At head of King Street opposite St. Joseph's Hospital, presents to you the opportunity of your life. Lots in first block east of our sub-division sells at from $18 to $20 per foot. Ours at only $11 per foot and some at $7 and $9 per foot, other lots at $160 and upwards.

Pay as You Like

You can own a lot in the Elms Sub. by paying $10 down, $5 per month, with only 5% interest, or you can pay whole, or any part just as you like. Perfect right, no mortgages or notes asked from purchasers, you get a land contract which you can bring into the Merchants Bank, Chatham and get credit thereon for whatever you want to pay or whenever you want to pay a little or more.

CUT THIS OUT

When you have an hour to spare, take a walk up the Elms Sub-Division of No. 1, there you can select your own lot. As every lot has a white stake in the center of the lot and 22 feet back from the front lot line, which is known as the building line. On this stake you will find a white card, giving the No. of the lot, size and price. All sold lots have a red card marked sold.

Drop me a card to Garner House and I will call on you with full particulars, or you will find my city salesman on the grounds every evening from 6.30 to 9 p. m. Don't miss this opportunity.
