It is also stated, "there is no Light on the Northern Coast of Prince Edward Ialand." With regret I admit the fact. But I am happy to think that several are now in the progress of construction; and I trust the Colony will follow the example of the Lighthouse Board, recently established in the United States, who wisely refer the sites to be chosen for Lights to experi-enced Hydrographers. Lastly.—If any Anchorage Dues have been collected in this Colony in the singular way alluded to in the statement, it is unknown to me, and the gentlemen associated with me in the Executive, who will order a strict investi-gation to be made on this subject. limits. Every few days we read the announcement in the papers of the arrival of a California steamer at New York, with "two millions of gold dust." Everybody reads of these millions, and yet how few stop to dwell on their immense magnitude. Few people have any more idea what millions and trillions are, than they have of the style of brogans worn by the coblers in the moon. A million of dollars possesses a vastness, that is rather startling to a man that has never faced such a pile. To count this sum, at the rate of $1,500 an hour, and eight hours a day, it would require a man to work nearly three months. If the said dollars were placed side by side, they would reach a hundred and thirty-six miles, while their transportation would require four-teen wagons, carrying two tons each —Boston Times.

The fire was supposed to have originated from a birch broom which had been used for sweeping up the hardth, and to which a coal had adhered. Mrs. Ladner had gone out for a short time to repair a fence, and the first intimation she had, was when she observed the House to be in finmes. She only aved a chest, everything in the House besides being entirely consumed. The following tributs of

The Legislature were too near a close for if to have pro-deced any influence even if we had space to give it an insertion. J. The Legislative proceedings are of interest to the great body of our readers, while communications generally are of a local or sectional interest only.
