

L. O. A. Hold Grand Parade.

Yesterday the Loyal Orange Association had a gala day; splendid weather prevailed and the parade and other functions went off without a hitch. The visiting brethren must have been pleased to see so much enthusiasm. Orange colors were everywhere in evidence and hundreds came from other sections and settlements to attend the session of the Grand Lodge and all those took part in the parade.

Grand Lodge Meeting.

Almost on the minute of 2.30 p.m. the Grand Master, Lt. Col. J. Scott took the chair and opened the Sovereign Grand Lodge in accustomed form. After getting through the usual preliminaries, such as the appointment of the General Committee to draft the various standing committees, etc., the Grand Master delivered his opening address, which dealt with the various questions which concerned the Order. A particularly pleasing reference was made to the visit of the Grand Lodge here, the first time it has assembled for annual convention outside the territorial limits of the Dominion of Canada. The reports of the Grand Secretary and Grand Treasurer were received, and with that of the Grand Master, handed over to the correspondence committee. The Secretary's report showed the Association to be in a most healthy state as evidenced by the number of new lodges that have been instituted in the various provinces. In all 104 new primary lodges, 7 District Chapters, 8 County lodges and fifteen Senior Chapters have been organized during the year. New members, including those initiated by the Grand Lodge, and reinstated, totalled 16,907, losses occasioned by death, withdrawal, etc., numbered 10,482, leaving a net gain of 6,425 in membership. The finances showed an equally progressive movement.

The committee to draft the Standing Committee then having reported, the Grand Lodge then adjourned to take part in the Monster Parade.

The parade was a fine spectacle and great throngs of citizens assembled along the line of route to see it. When the marshals gave the word the start was made and the procession moved along from the British Hall up Bond Street along Queen's Road and down Military Road to Government House where His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson received the body. Provincial Grand Master Squires introduced the Grand Masters, and also several of the Grand Officers, when Col. Scott in eloquent language, paid the respects of the society to the representative of Royalty here, referred to the aims and objects of the organization and assured His Excellency of the unwavering loyalty of the society to the Throne.

His Excellency the Governor replied as follows:

Governor's Address.

"Gentlemen, 'I welcome you here as Delegates of the Grand Lodge of British America of the Loyal Orange Association, and I thank you for your dutiful expression of Loyalty to our King and Country, as expressed in such felicitous terms on your behalf by Lt. Col. Scott. It is with genuine pleasure that I welcome all such Associations as yours, assembled to greet me as the King's Deputy in Newfoundland. I know that, in years gone by, all these Associations owed their origin, in part, to the expression of political and religious opinions. But these fine Associations have long ceased in Newfoundland, to bear a political character; and it is very pleasant to me to recognize that the chosen representatives elected by the people are gathered from the best we have, regardless of any differences in the manner in which we worship God. All such differences die out when men of our race are gathered in communities with equal rights and under equal laws.

"The grand words of the Declaration on which your Association is founded must thrill the heart of all citizens of our great and well-ordered Empire. Your Association is founded to support the principles and practices of the Christian religion, and to promote such laudable and beneficent purposes as may tend to the good ordering of religion and Christian charity and the supremacy of law, order and constitutional freedom; and to afford assistance to distressed members of the Association. These are fine principles on which to base the constitution of your Association. And in the Act of the Dominion of Canada, you are formed into a Body Corporate to unite fraternally, to give material aid to distressed members and their dependents and to establish a fund for the relief of sick and distressed members, and a Benefit Fund, under the Insurance Act, for widows and orphans. And there is one more magnificent worded clause: your Association is formed to educate its members socially, morally, and intellectually and to inculcate loyalty to King and Country.

"These are noble sentiments. They greatly become freeborn citizens who act with a sense of grave responsibility and are bent on bequeathing to their descendants those glorious traditions of our race in the principles of self-help.

"The special occasion of your visit to Newfoundland, this ancient and loyal Colony, is the celebration of the 50th Anniversary of the foundation of the Association in Newfoundland. Long may it live and prosper to carry on its beneficent objects and to bind together its members in the noble work of social moral, and intellectual advancement, and in the practice of devotion and loyalty to our King and to our Country."

After His Excellency's address cheers were called for by P. G. M. Squires and the 1,400 men in line gave a vigorous response. His Excellency now briefly entertained the members of the Grand Lodge and then the ranks were reformed and the line being too long for convenience the men fell in four abreast. Even marching thus the procession was a very lengthy one and a gentleman who counted those present says there were 1,288 in the parade. The line of procession was after leaving Government House, down Ordnance Street, Duckworth to Cockrane Street up Water Street to Queen's Street and back to the Hall via New Gower Street and Theatre Hill. Many of the members who were old or in any way infirm drove in carriages. Five bands of music played inspiring airs in the procession, and up till the hall was reached on the return people followed along and much enthusiasm was displayed.

Session Continues.

At 8 o'clock the Grand Lodge resumed and continued actively engaged in the work of the session till nearly midnight. The principal features of the session was the receiving of deputations from other societies and the presenting of addresses by the local lodges. A deputation from Atlantic Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., and another from the Newfoundland British Society waited on the Grand Lodge and presented addresses of welcome, which were cordially replied to by the Grand Master, and at his request by the Grand Master of New Brunswick and the Deputy Grand Master. An address of welcome was presented by P. G. M. Squires on behalf of the Newfoundland P. G. Lodge, which was replied to by the Grand Master, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Myron Hocken of Toronto. Addresses from the Primary Lodges and Chapter were presented by W. M. Andrews of Royal Oak Lodge, and replied to by the Grand Chapter, Rev. Bro. Fish. Some very kind things were said by the Grand Officers of the way in which the Newfoundland brethren were entertaining them, the Grand Master being particularly happy. Said he, the Grand Lodge had had its guests in Canada but it was meeting a revelation in Newfoundland. Another very pleasing and interesting feature of the evening session was the reception accorded Rev. Bro. Dr. G. T. Leamon, Past Grand Master of the Supreme Grand Lodge of the United States, who had come to extend fraternal greetings. His reception was a rousing one, for which he was duly appreciative. In choice words he conveyed his message of greeting, at the same time expressing his pleasure at renewing old acquaintances and paying tribute to the work of the Order. After some routine work had been disposed of, the Lodge adjourned to meet at 9.30 this morning.

To-night there will be a grand Banquet for the visitors and the Grand Lodge will not meet after 6 p.m.

Splendid Pyrotechnical Display.

Last night a splendid pyrotechnical display was given not alone from Victoria Hall but the South Side Hill. Victoria Hall looked extremely pretty with its beautiful electrical effects but the South Side was certainly a pretty sight. Thousands of far barrels were ablaze and lit up the harbor until midnight. Many saw the spectacle, and a few de Jole was kept up till the "wee sunn hoode". Quite a number of private residences were illuminated, flags flew from all vantage points and the British Hall, College Hall as well as Victoria Hall were brilliantly illuminated.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Like a giant flail, a cyclonic storm of wind, rain and hail whipped back and forth across the capital leaving death and ruin in its wake. Three dead, scores of injured, and hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property ruined were the tolls recorded in a hurried canvass made when the city aroused itself from a half-hour of helplessness in the grasp of the elements. The gale reached a velocity of nearly seventy miles an hour, swept streets clear, unroofed houses, tore detached small structures from their foundations, wrecked one office building, overturned wagons and carriages in the streets, swept Washington's hundred parks, tearing huge branches from trees, even uprooting sturdy old elms, landmarks of a century. The police are digging the ruins in fear that other bodies might be recovered.

PEKING To-day. It is anticipated that all rebel soldiers pledging their allegiance to the Government will be pardoned under a proclamation to the misguided people, issued by President Yuan Shi Kai at the beginning of the rebellion. The leaders of the revolt must flee for their lives. Throughout China, Dr. Sun Yat Sen has many sympathizers, both among the Chinese and foreigners, and would not be surprised if he was conspicuously absent from the recent Presidential order sentencing to death the other three instigators of the revolt.

KUI KIANG, To-day. The Northern army is preparing for a big battle in the vicinity of Sa Hoo. All troops available are scurrying to the front. The advance is expected to begin to-day. Officers of the Northern forces say four Japs captured at the fall of the Hukon forts on Friday, have been transported to Hankow.

SAN FRANCISCO, To-day. Ninety-six per cent. of the Pacific division of the Southern Pacific system voted for a strike unless the difference with the management over the terms of employment, rating and seniority allowed on the company's electric lines can be adjusted.

LONDON, To-day. The British steamer Kyn Reo, which left Baltimore on April 15 for Portland, Oregon, has been posted missing by Lloyd's.

SHANGHAI, To-day. Everything is quiet here to-day. There was no attack on the Wu Sun forts. Recent fires in the native city caused great destruction.

Garden Party at Mount Cashel.

The annual Mount Cashel Garden Party, which is looked upon as one of our principal outdoor events, took place yesterday afternoon and was the best yet. The proceeds of the party are expected to be the largest on record. Those present included His Excellency the Governor, Mr. Davidson, attended by Capt. Beech, A.D.C., Sir E. P. and Lady Morris, Hon. M. P. and Mrs. Cashin, Hon. D. and Mrs. Morrison, Rev. Mons. Roche, Rev. Dean Roach, J. R. Bennett, J. M. Kent, J. Dwyer, Rev. Frs. Greene, Pippy and Kelly, Rev. Bors, Past Grand Master of the Supreme Grand Lodge of the United States, and wife and Mrs. (Dr.) Holman. The grounds were profusely decorated and the tea tables, etc., in charge of which the ladies presented a busy scene. The sports were most interesting. The six mile road race started at the head of King's Road. Bell took the lead at the start and held it at the finish. His time was 31 minutes, 1 3/4 seconds. The course taken was around Quill's Lake, in Logy Bay Road and out Torbay Road, finishing with four rounds of the field. Hill came second and Wall third. The football was excited a great deal of interest. The C.E.L. won out. The names of the winners were L. Stick, Drover, Bartlett, James and R. Stick. The next and principal item of the day was the inter-branch relay race for the H. D. Reid cup. The C.C.C. won for the third year in succession and now retains the trophy permanently. Their team was Knight, Cullen, Campbell and Kavanagh. The next event was the baseball game of five innings between the Blues and Reds. The former won by 4 to 3. For the evening games such as billiards, shooting, skittles, etc., were also included in the C.C.C. T.A. and Mount Cashel bands rendered lively music, while the dancing by the orphan boys was very pleasing. At six o'clock some thirty prominent brethren from the L.O.A. were conducted through the Industrial Department, Rev. Sup. Bro. Ennis. They were very much pleased with what they saw. To the committee who worked so hard in making preparations as well as to the ladies who assisted at the refreshments and teas the entire success of the Garden Party is chiefly attributed. Owing to the unavoidable absence of His Grace the Archbishop, who was ill, Rt. Rev. Mons. Roche, V.G., presented the prizes to the winners of the different events.

Cable Work.

The Colonia is now engaged in linking up cables with Bay Roberts and with Colinet. These cables will be connected by land wires which will be laid in trenches now being dug by some hundred men and through lakes where they are available. The new cable building of the Western Union are being built and the whole work is giving employment to a large number of men.
