Mr. Walsh—to ask Hon. the Minister of Justice (a) if his attention has been drawn to a serious charge made in this House a few days ago against a Minister of the Crown; (b) does the Hon. Minister of Justice intend to take any action with regard to said charge, so as to vindicate the minister so charged if he is innocent, or to punish him if he is found guilty of using the public funds of the Colony to defray personal election expenses as charged by a member of this House.

Attorney General replied, that no definite charge had been made.
The Railway Bill was then read a second time and other orders were deferred.
HON. MR. NEWS DEPUTY AUDITOR GENERAL.
In reply to Mr. Higgins' question the purpose of the Government in amending the Consolidated Statutes re the auditing of public accounts. The Prime Minister replied that it was done to make provision for the appointment of Hon. Alexander Campbell, Editor of the Daily Advocate, to the position of Deputy Auditor General.

THE UNEMPLOYED QUESTION.
On motion to adjourn made by the Prime Minister, Sir M. P. Cashin pointed out the necessity of immediate action. He produced a letter signed by members of an organization who resented the treatment handed out to them by the Prime Minister when they called upon him to state their case and lay the situation before him. Mayor Cook said it was impossible for the Council to give further employment as the city funds would not permit it.

Mr. Higgins followed Sir Michael by suggesting that there is a great deal of work to be done along the railway, particularly in the vicinity of the city as outlined by the member for Carbonear.

Mr. Hunt endorsed all that had been said by his colleagues. He then made a short plea for the hundreds of men who of necessity must walk the streets day after day and return home at night to be greeted by hungry children, half clad, who all day long were hoping and praying the father had secured some work. He did not make a plea for those who wanted something for nothing; but of good citizens who, through no fault of their own had found themselves in this pitiful plight. He wanted his appeal to be accepted from a non-political standpoint. Private charity is not going to relieve the situation. Mr. Hunt's appeal was very impressive. Mr. Fox pointed out the evidence upon all sides as shown in St. John's to-day, and supported the plea of the unemployed. These men, he said, do not want charity or paupers' dole, but employment that would be of value to themselves and country and agreed, that in considering same, that politics be forgotten.

DEFINITE CHARGE LAID AGAINST HON. DR. CAMPBELL, MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Walsh, member for Placentia and St. Mary's said he was not satisfied with the answer given him by the Minister of Justice to his question which read as follows:—

To ask Hon. the Minister of Justice (a) if his attention has been drawn to a serious charge made in this House a few days ago against a Minister of the Crown; (b) does the Hon. Minister of Justice intend to take any action with regard to said charge, so as to vindicate the Minister so charged if he is innocent, or to punish him if he is found guilty of using the public funds of the Colony to defray personal election expenses as charged by a member of this House. He (Mr. Walsh) thought his charges were made definite enough to convey to the Attorney General that a serious offense had been committed by a Minister of the Crown whom, it is alleged, used public monies of the Colony to defray his personal election expenses, but in the event of the Minister of Justice wanting something more definite Mr. Walsh named Hon. Alexander Campbell, Minister of Agriculture and Mines, who had drawn cheques for amounts of $51.00 and $21.00 in favor of a driver named H. Bugden, which amounts were charged to Pitt Prop Account. It was the first time he ever heard of people going around the West End of the city, buying pit props. Mr. Walsh now had the cheques in his possession to prove the charges.

PRIME MINISTER PASSES MOTION FOR ADJOURNMENT.

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Walsh asked the Speaker to summon the Minister of Justice to his seat in the House as he had absented himself. While Mr. Walsh was speaking the Premier sought to force the adjournment but was prevented by Mr. Higgins who gave notice of an amendment that the House do not adjourn until the Attorney General was called and heard the charges. After some delay the Minister of Justice was sent for and he re-entered the Assembly. When he had taken his seat Mr. Walsh repeated the charge to which the Attorney General replied that now for the first time he had heard a definite charge against a Minister of the Crown. His position was that he could not take notice of every statement made in the House.

The members made statements that if he were to take notice of them all he would do little else. The proper course for the member to pursue was to swear out a deposition in the regular way. He would then have it investigated by his department in due course.

QUIBBLING TO SAVE AN ENQUIRY.

Sir M. P. Cashin who was the first to make public the charge two weeks ago, referred to previous happenings when suggestions, not charges, had been made against him some years back, and while he was out of town the Auditor General was put in his department to make certain enquiry about the bounty paid on the schooner "Lornina" by the present Prime Minister. He had demanded a stay when he returned to town but was told by the Attorney General of that day the enquiry had to proceed. This was done to him because he was not as pliable as they would like him to be. A far different procedure was taken now. It was the Attorney General's business. What are you going to do about it? asked Sir Michael. It is one of the most serious, if not the most serious charge ever made in the House against a Minister. He termed the Attorney General's answer as "their splitting." If some poor boy had stolen a loaf of bread to satisfy his hunger, a half dozen policemen would be sent after him and he would be jailed. Now a Minister of the Crown is charged with a serious offense and a hair splitting procedure is gone through to save an enquiry.

The Prime Minister ignored the charge made against the Hon. Dr. Campbell and spoke in defence of Sir Edward Morris.

Sir Michael Cashin continued to force the argument and complimented the Prime Minister upon his prowess as a stage actor. He knew the Premier would defend Lord Morris as he had a purpose in doing so.

To sum up the proceedings the only satisfaction offered the Assembly was from the Attorney General who, in an excited moment, during the course of debate said "He would do as he liked and he was not the only one who was doing it." A statement which came as a bomb shell to the members of both sides of the House.

There was no further debate but now that a definite charge has been made, it will be interesting to see what action the Government will take.

The House adjourned until this afternoon.
