

THE BEST TURN FRIEND EVER DID

That is What Vancouver Man says After taking Tanlac on Friend's Advice

"Tanlac fixed me up more than a year ago and did the work so thoroughly I have been feeling fine ever since," said Richard Pasken, of 656 Pender St., East, Vancouver, B.C., employed by the Marine Ways Shipbuilding Co.

"I had a bad form of stomach trouble and while my appetite was good everything I ate disagreed with me. I lost weight and strength every day and had so many attacks of smothering and fluttering of the heart, I was told I had heart trouble. I lived in dread of the future, for my condition seemed helpless.

"I had a sharp, cutting pain right across the small of my back, and if I stooped over to pick up a wrench from the floor it would hurt me to straighten up that I would actually groan with agony. What little sleep I got didn't rest me, as I was rolling and tossing most of the night.

"A good friend persuaded me to try Tanlac and that was about the best turn a friend ever did me. It certainly was a big surprise, the way Tanlac knocked out my troubles. It did a hundred per cent job, for it made me a healthy, strong man and I have been this way ever since.

"I am eating anything and sleeping like a log and haven't a pain or an ache of any sort. That's what three bottles of Tanlac did for me and that is why I am recommending it every chance I get."

Tanlac is sold in Fernie by A. W. Bleasdel; in Glacier by A. E. Morris, and by the leading druggist in every town.

ROBBED OF SIX HUNDRED

Details have come to hand in regard to a robbery alleged to have taken place on the C. P. R. eastbound Crow's Nest train which necessitated it being held up at Macleod for an hour at a few minutes past one on the morning after Christmas Day. The delay was caused through a search having to be made, following the complaint of T. H. McCutcheon that he had been robbed of his roll of $600 while he was asleep on one of the seats in the smoking car. The search was conducted by Sergt. Allen and two constables of the R.C.M.P., stationed at Macleod when the train pulled up.

It appears that McCutcheon got on the train at Bellevue, and, it is alleged, was much under the influence of drink at the time. He fell asleep on a seat in the smoking car and woke a few minutes before the train arrived at Macleod. Jumping up he claimed that he had lost his roll of $600. A man sitting in the seat opposite McCutcheon told him that he had seen the sleeping car conductor take his money from his pocket, whereupon McCutcheon started off to find the conductor. Meanwhile the man who had volunteered the information, and who is suspected of being the thief, suddenly disappeared from the train.

Sergt. Allen after searching the train turned the case over to the town constable, Ridley, who proceeded to make a search of the C. P. R. yard, while doing this he came across a man, who as he thought, was the suspect and who had tried to get away on a freight train to Calgary. On seeing the constable the man started off to make tracks, pursued by the constable, who lost him in timber at the river bottom.

Corporal Watt, of the A. P. P. was informed of what had taken place about one o'clock on the 26th, about twelve hours after the man was lost at the river bottom, and started out on his trail. He picked it up from the timber on the track which led out of it, marked very plainly on the deep snow. He followed it for about five miles through fences and fields, and then further trace was not possible.

The individual who is suspected of taking the missing roll is thought to have boarded the train at Cranbrook, buying a ticket to Coleman, but not getting off there. While in the train he secured another ticket from Coleman to Bellevue, and still another from Bellevue and Macleod. The police have a full description of him, and a search is being made far and wide for him.—Lethbridge Herald.
