Sunday School Anniversary Services at Thorndale—Items From Florence.

FLORENCE.

Florence, Dec. 31.—Miss Trude Lawrence has returned from visiting friends in Glencoe.

Mr. S. Ingles spent Sunday here, the guest of Mr. W. Walker.

Miss M. White is spending the holidays at home.

Miss Maria Tweed gave a party on Friday evening and a very enjoyable time was spent. Miss Nellie Young entertains a few of her friends this evening to a card party.

THORNDALE.

Thornedale, Dec. 31.—The Sunday school services in connection with the Methodist Church were held in the church Sunday and Monday, Dec. 29 and 30. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers, presenting a very pleasing appearance.

Rev. H. D. Meyer, of Thornesford, conducted the services on Sunday both morning and evening. The discourses were so plain and simple that the smallest child could understand, and yet so full of truth and solid thought that the wisest could not but be benefited. The programme of Monday was beyond the expectations of all. The Rev. Mr. Meyer was there with his famous Thornesford choir and delighted the audience with several selections suitable to the occasion. Mr. B. E. McCarty gave two solos in his exceptionally pleasing style. The instrumental selections by the Misses McCarty were also much appreciated by the large audience. Rev. H. J. Uren, of London, formerly of this circuit, gave a very instructive address, as well as a solo in his full, sweet tone, which was received in such a manner that it was that he is still living in the hearts of his former parishioners. The children of the school all deserve great praise for the manner in which they "said their little piece" and gave a very good and reflected no small credit not only upon themselves, but also upon those who had so carefully prepared them.

Among other good ones we must make special mention of Master Ashcroft Southwell (a little boy of 8 years), with his recitation, "The Volunteer Organist," in which he distinguished himself as an eloquent far beyond the ordinary, and little Willie Harding, in her solo, "Rock-a-bye Baby," merited great applause. Rev. J. J. Sinclair, our popular young pastor, interested all in a very impressive address. Last but by no means least, came the secretary's report, showing an average attendance of 81, and receipts for the year netting over $80, beside missionary Sunday school aid collections, which must be very gratifying to the superintendent and teachers and result of their hard and faithful year's labors. Before closing we must congratulate the superintendent, Mr. C. R. Walker, on the very efficient manner in which he filled the chair, and wish him and his staff of officers every success in the coming year in connection with their good work.

Venezuela.

Composition of the Commission Announced by Cleveland.

Russia Asserts Its Neutrality in the Dispute.

Arbitration Suggested From a French Source—Gov. Morton Deprecates War—Peace Resolutions Passed by the New York Legislature.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—The President last night announced the composition of the Venezuelan commission, which will consist of five members, as follows: David J. Brewer, of Kansas, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States; Richard H. Alvey, of Maryland, chief justice of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia; Andrew D. White, New York; Frederick R. Coudert, New York; Daniel G. Gilman, of Maryland, president of the John Hopkins University.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 2.—It is semi-officially stated here that the statements made in the St. Petersburg dispatch of Dec. 27, to the effect that the Russian Government had decided to support the United States in the dispute with Great Britain, are unfounded. In the dispatch referred to it was stated that the United States had been sounding Russia regarding the dispute with Great Britain on the Venezuelan question, and the former was said to have received the most favorable reply, it being declared that the Russian Government shares President Cleveland's views on the subject and is prepared to support them, at any rate diplomatically. According to the semi-official statement of today Russia will observe complete neutrality in the matter, her interests not being affected by the Venezuelan dispute.

ARBITRATORS SUGGESTED.

Paris, Jan. 2.—The Estafette, referring to the Venezuelan situation, says: "We have seen the results of the intervention of Russia, Germany and France in the China-Japan difficulty. Why should they not arbitrate the difference between Great Britain and Venezuela?"

GOV. MORTON'S VIEWS.

Albany, Jan. 2.—The State Legislature of 1896 assembled at noon on New Year's Day for the first time in many years. Governor Morton, in his annual message to the New York State Legislature, referred to the Venezuelan question. He said: "The doctrine formulated by President Monroe, and which has since borne the name of the Venezuelan question, has been well established in American national policy that there is no room for doubt as to the opinion of our people concerning it. Any disturbance of the existing friendly relations between the United States and Great Britain cannot fail to have a serious effect."

I cannot believe that the relation between our country and Great Britain will be ruptured or seriously impaired by the misunderstanding now existing between that country and Venezuela concerning the proper location of the boundary line of their possessions in South America. Arbitration affords a simple, humane and honorable method of determining national disputes; and it is scarcely conceivable at this period of the world's history that any great nation is willing to take the responsibility of the needless sacrifice of human life and the wanton destruction of property, which would be the inevitable result of an armed conflict."

ACTION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Assembly a resolution bearing on the Venezuelan dispute was adopted unanimously. It says: "Realizing the waste of precious life, the wreck of financial prosperity and the horrors which would be the inevitable results of an armed conflict between England and the United States, we believe that every honorable means of settling any possible differences should be resorted to and exhausted before the resort to arms. We believe that the relations between these two great nations, which today stand before the world for the most advanced civilization, should be broken."

In the Senate a resolution of the same import was adopted, an amendment indorsing President Cleveland's message being voted down.

On the roll call Senator McGarren intimated that President Cleveland's thunder was being stolen, and that Mr. Cleveland had "out-jingled jingoism."

Senator Pavey took him up. "I am glad," he said, "to see a Democratic Senator admit that President Cleveland issued that message for thunder purposes and political gain. We from New York know of its direful effect upon business. There was no need of such a thing, and especially of proclaiming fight."

BOY SHOT HIS COMPANION.

Two St. Catharines Families Plunged Into Deep Grief.

St. Catharines, Jan. 2.—On Tuesday evening John Haslem, aged 12, and a companion, William Patterson, aged 10, got into an altercation, and young Haslem, who had a rifle, fired a bullet into the other boy's head, causing death in a short time. Haslem was arrested. An inquest was held by coroner Goodman, and it was shown that the Patterson boy had annoyed Haslem by throwing mud at him. A verdict of manslaughter was returned. Both families are plunged in the deepest grief.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES.

HOCKEY.

Stratford, Ont., Jan. 2.—A hockey match played here yesterday between the Stratford and the Bank of Toronto clubs, resulted in favor of Stratford by 7 to 5. An unfortunate accident occurred during the game, when Hargrave, a Toronto player, fell and was struck on the left eye by a skate. Two doctors who attended him gave it as their opinion that he would lose the eye.

THE TRIGGER.

Some of our local Nimrods were in their glory and in excellent shooting trim on New Year's morning, and spent a few most enjoyable hours at McArthur's farm, South London. The occasion was a shooting match at live pigeons, under the management and direction of McArthur brothers, who, by their courtesy and kindness, greatly enhanced the comfort of the shooters. Some very fine shooting was done, 75 per cent of all the birds being scored. The birds were hard flyers, and a driving snow storm that was blowing retarded the time had no tendency to retard their flight. The following is the score, one of the best that has been published of this season's matches:

Green	1111110	*11-8
Batman	1111112110	*-8
McArthur	11101100	*-6

PREMIER GREENWAY SPEAKS.

Speaking at a mass meeting opening the campaign at Deloraine, Premier Greenway of Manitoba said: "This contest has been forced upon us by the Dominion Government. The contest in 1892 was fought out on this line. The Opposition then were even more in favor of National schools than we. The Dominion Government says now, 'Is there anything that you can suggest to adjust these matters?' I want to see this thing out of the way, want to see it settled, but I want to see it settled in the right way. It is said that we have an understanding with Sir Mackenzie Bowell. I want it understood that we have no understanding with anybody. The Ottawa people want to interfere, but if the people of this Province overwhelmingly say by their votes on the 15th of next month that such interference shall not take place, then it shall not take place." This statement was loudly cheered.

When You Cut

A thing in half you usually spoil it. But that's not true in this instance. We have cut the price of our Capes in half, which is a good thing for those who have any intention of buying, indeed, should clear them out in short order. The price is the only thing that is damaged by the cut, the Capes of different furs being as elegant as when they were offered at twice the price. But you know why we are making this offer. We scarcely need tell you that if we can't sell these at such very close figures we will have to put them aside, which we don't want to do.

WHY SOME TEACHERS FAIL

They are lazy. They neglect details. They use poor judgment. They complain too much. They have no eye to order. They are not polite enough. They do not try to improve. They fail to have new ideas. They are easily discouraged. They understate the business. They fail to manage with tact. They over-estimate themselves. They do not study the children. They keep away from the pupils. They attend no teachers' meetings. They are stingy toward themselves. They are rusty and without ambition. They have too much outside business. They hope to get along without effort. They are penny wise and pound foolish. They are trying to go into something else.

They fail to use such ideas as they have. They think the school was made for them. They read no educational papers or books. They fail to know what the world is doing.

They think most things take too much trouble. They know so much they will learn no more. They do not study the great masters of the art.

They follow the same methods with each class. They think inferior work does just as well as good work. They neglect to think of the pupil's good at every point.

They do not find out what other teachers are doing. They philosophize on everything but their own business. They do not determine to be the best teacher in the place.

Think they cannot learn anything more about their art. Rely on the little stock of goods they began business with.

Began with a small stock of ideas and have not increased it. Forget that the art of teaching is an art that requires study.

They have become dry, stale, and repulsive to live children. Think any one can teach who knows a little about the studies.

Can see the weak points in their scholars, but not in themselves. Do not seek for inspiration by studying the methods of the best teachers.

Do not see that the profession is as high as the teachers themselves raise it. Are not in real earnest to teach, so that "to-morrow find them farther than to-day."

Do not take common sense as a guide, but hug a formalism handed down from the dark ages.

Drop the school when it is out, and never think of it again until they come before their pupils the next morning.—Selected.

If you are bald, or find that your hair is breaking or falling out, it will pay you to call at Madam Ireland's parlors, 211-1-2 Dundas street, who can positively
