Japanese Expected to Forward an Ultimatum Before Striking-Edward Strives for Peace.

Tokio, Feb. 2. - The Russian note is still undelivered, and the Government and people of Japan do not possess any definite information concerning the time of its arrival or its contents. Russia's delay, coupled with the announcement of continued movement of reinforcements into Manchuria increase the strain of the tension, while it diminishes the already slight prospects for peace. The Government has was reached by which, each in their been urged to dispatch a peremptory note to St. Petersburg, threatening to to secure a pacific adjustment; but declare war if refused immediate satistics this related to the former condition, faction in the way of a reply to its when the Japanese note was pending. previous note, but still the Government is patient, although it is manifest if the delay is much more prolonged it will act energetically. Events will move rapidly when the note is finally received, if it is materially unsatisfactory, and the prospect for additional negotiations is slight, although probably Japan will dispatch an ultimatum before striking.
