St. Johns, Nfid., May 17.—The sealing steamer Aurora will arrive here today from the Labrador coast bringing the body of Leonidas Hubbard, jun., assistant editor of Outing, who perished in the interior of Labrador pedition. The Aurora also brought Hub-bard's companions, Dillon Wallace, a lawyer of New York, and Frank Elson,

Wallace and Elson, with Hubbard's body in a coffin on a dog-sled, left the Hudson Bay Company's trading post at Northwest River, on March 3, with a party of half-breeds and dogs, conveying stores. They proceeded south along the Labrador coast, traveling in the interior being impossible, owing to lack of shelter from the frequent snowstorms. They journeyed through finding shelter with the settlers where remarks: "We must continue to possible and making some eight to busines and making some eight to delegation in Congress, or else put a Battle Harbor, on the outer extremity delegation there that will listen to us of the Straits of Belle Isle, Thursday when next New England makes an last, after traveling for over two appeal, so that the answer will not months, and covering a distance of come back—'It cannot be done.'"
