PROF. SHORTT ON LABOR

Knowledge of Human Nature Big Factor in Settlement.

Kingston, Nov. 5.-The settlement of abor troubles was the theme discussed by Professor Adam Shortt at Queen's last night. In his view, a study of human nature was the chief requirement. He had found this the most essential thing in the settlement of the many disputes in which he had arbitrated. Every case was settled on its own merits, not by cast iron rules or fixed principles, nor by splitting the difference. Human nature was the pivot of consideration. Reasonable settlements were accepted cheerfully by the public. This was shown in the recent C. P. R. strike. The public were with the company, as it had accepted terms of arbitration which the men refused. Professor Shortt found it pleasant to deal with international unionism

BUCKBERROUGH PLACED ON TRIAL

Woodstock, Nov. 5 .- Chester Buckberrough, charged with setting fire to the Queen's Hotel, at Tillsonburg, in May last, in which three lives were lost, was placed on trial here today.

The evidence of Mero, the proprietor, was to the effect that Buckberrough had been ordered out of his hotel, and he had threatened revenge. On the morning of the fire Mero claimed to have got down stairs first and saw Buckberrough leaving the building, and later had heard him boast that he had got even. The testimony of a large number of witnesses will be heard, and the trial, it s expected, will take up some time.

Statistics from a typical settlement of the natives show greater mortality than that of any other primitive race that has come in contact with Anglo-Saxon civilization.

CONTROLLER HOCKIN ON GUY FAWKES

Spoke to a Large Audience in the City Hall Last Night.

There was a large audience at the city hall last evening to hear Controller H. C. Hockin, of Toronto, editor of the Orange Sentinel, lecture on "The Frustration of the Gunpowder Pot." He gave a very interesting account of the plot, and laid the claims of the Orange order forcibly before his hearers.

The chair was occupied by Rev. Wm Lowe, rector of St. Matthew's Church. In opening the programme he congratulated the Orangemen on so successful a celebration. He was proud to be a member of the order, and expressed the wish that all the members of his congregation were members. Dr. Williams, of Woodstock, delivered a short address in which he advised young men to join the order. It was conducive to good, clean living, and gave them opportunities to assist in the upbuilding of the country, both morally and politically. Controller Hockin followed with the speech of the evening. He spoke of the order as a political but not a "There undoubtedly was a dead set party organization. It believed in

A diseased or disfigured skin will always leave its stamp on the mind of the individual. Many people suffering from dis-figuring skin diseases avoid society and lose all pride in their personal appearance. When the skin breaks out in eruptions and sores it is due entirely to an impure condition of the blood.

In all such cases Burdock Blood Bitters will quickly purify the blood and drive all the impurities out of the system.
