Japanese Judge Declares U.S. Immigration Act Nullifies Work of Generations

U. S.-JAPANESE WAR IS NOT EXPECTED

Admiral Takahashi and Judge Haraishi Arrive at Montreal.

PRESTIGE WOUNDED

Associated Press Despatch.

Montreal, June 9.—That the belligerent spirit which is prevailing in Japan on account of the exclusion clause in the new United States immigration act will soon die down, was the statement made by Admiral J. Takahashi of the Japanese navy and hero of the battle of Chin Tow, who arrived here on the White Star-Dominion liner Megantic. "Japan does not challenge the rights of other nations in making their own immigration policy, but she reminds them that other people have rights and pride," he said. "Japan's pride and prestige have been wounded by the United States, and in the Far East, prestige is a vital factor."

U. Haraishi, a judge of the supreme court of Japan, accompanied Admiral Takahashi on a two-months' tour of Europe, and also arrived on the Megantic. He stated that Japan was ready to meet the wishes of the United States, so long as they were wishes and not open discrimination. An over-sensitive congress had undone the work of generations, he said. He hoped that the relations between the United States and Japan would return to their former standard.

GOLF COURSE OPENING IS STILL UNDECIDED

Good Progress Made on the Municipal Project Despite Bad Weather.

As yet no formal opening of the Thames Valley Municipal Golf Course has been arranged, though authorities haven't backed down one iota on their original prognostications for an early opening. Battling changing weather conditions, favorable progress has been made by the parks department and by the end of the week the new municipal golfing center will be in good shape.

The original forecast that the grooming of the course would break a handful of time records and be ready by June 15 appears to be holding good. However, the formal opening of the course hasn't been discussed or arranged for.

WEATHER DISCOURAGES OPEN AIR SWIMMING

With most straw hats still resting in the moth balls, top coats quite necessary for Sunday strolls and a temperature of only 7 degrees above freezing point for the breakfast hour, there is no demand yet for outdoor swimming among even the warmest-blooded of London's younger generation. The playgrounds committee was ready to open the swimming pools in good time if the weather had proven more seasonable, but as yet no need for supervision is seen.

MERRY FOREIGNERS FAIL TO PROVE CASE

Members of Trio Offer Varied Reasons For Having Pure Alcohol.

FINED $200 EACH

One Bought Liquid as a Hand Lotion, the Other For Foot Ailments.

It was foreigners' day in police court this morning, practically every name on the police court register being a tongue twister that even Chief Birrell had difficulty in pronouncing.

A merry trio, John Soiluhor, a Rumanian of Windsor, Leo Smithtook, Polish Ford City, and Mike Trodanist, of 63 Maitland street, all answered the call from the prisoners' box, but couldn't prove they weren't guilty of various liquor charges. They were arrested at Horton and Maitland streets last night by Sergeant Middaugh and Constable Glidden.

"John, were you drunk?" asked Magistrate Graydon, sidestepping the effort to pronounce John's last name.

"Drunk," admitted John, and sat down.

"Ten dollars and costs," spoke up the court.

Leo Smithtook, next on the list, submitted he had purchased a bottle of alcohol when he came up from Windsor, just to wash his hands with.

"I don't drink it. Keep it in house for hands," declared Leo.

"You can't carry it about with you," pointed out the magistrate. "That is what is going on all the time. A man was here on Saturday on a similar charge."

"I work in Komoka," insisted Leo. "I get it in house."

"Whereabouts?" asked the court.

"I don't know that street's name," came back the prisoner.

"You can only get it in drug stores on doctors' prescriptions. You didn't get it legally," declared the magistrate. "What about you, Mike?"

Mike apparently thought it would be a good idea to get as far away from the "hands" excuse as possible and forthwith submitted he used the contents of his bottle of alcohol for his feet.

"I got it for my feet," he announced gravely.

"Wouldn't one bottle have done you both, for your feet and his hands?" queried Mr. Graydon, "You are all drinking this stuff and I know it. Where did you get it?"

"Somebody buy it for me," said Michael.

"Pure alcohol, chief?" asked the court.

"Yes," replied Chief Birrell.

"I'm very sorry, but $200 and costs for each of you."

The fines will likely be paid.

Another foreigner, picked up on the street Saturday night, charged with being drunk, paid his $10 fine Sunday morning and was allowed to depart in peace.

Baby Survives Swallowing Pin

Canadian Press Despatch.

Moose Jaw, June 9.—Lloyd Lind, seven-months-old infant of Moose Jaw, has just passed through the sharpest engagement of his young life. Saturday afternoon he managed to swallow an open safety-pin during the momentary lapse of his mother's vigilance. He was successfully operated on, however, and is now cooing happily from the depths of his crib in the general hospital.

COURAGE OF MARSAL MERITS HIGH PRAISE

"Ministry of a Day" One Appellation Given to New French Minstry.

Associated Press Despatch.

Paris, June 9.—The "Ministry of a Message" is one of the names given to a cabinet formed by M. Francois-Marsal inasmuch as it was constituted primarily to lay before parliament. President Millerand's message, the political situation as he sees it and allowing the new majority of the Left to go on record against him, if he chooses, in which case he will resign.

Another appellation for the admittedly stop-gap administration is the "Ministry of a Day." However, if the anticipated program is carried out "the day will be considerably over 24 hours, for if, and when M. Millerand resigns he will ask M. Francois-Marsal to carry on until a new premier is appointed by the new president and it is the present premier who will accompany the new chief executive from Versailles to Paris after the election in accordance with tradition.

Francois-Marsal wins high praise from the morning newspapers which are mostly opposed to the majority in the chamber, for his courage in accepting office under the circumstances.

NOVA SCOTIA YOUTHS RELEASED BY COURT

Wilson Perry and Richard Pine, two youths from Nova Scotia, who were arrested by C. P. R. police a week ago at the local station, were sent on their way this morning by Magistrate Graydon.

Perry told the court he could get a job at North Bay as a fireman and would work his way there by getting odd jobs from farmers.

Chief Birrell told the boys there was work on the highway between St. Marys and Stratford.

The Pine boy is still wearing short trousers, and with his companion, lost no time in getting out of the court room, once the magistrate ordered their release.

STATE FORGES LAST LINK IN EVIDENCE

Prosecutor Crowe Ready To Proceed With Cases of Leopold and Loeb.

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, June 9.—The state's case against Nathan Leopold, Jun., and Richard Loeb, confessed kidnappers and slayers of Robert Franks, is complete, according to Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, who said the finding Saturday in a park lagoon of the typewriter on which the $10,000 ransom letter was written to the boy's father, was the last link in the chain of evidence against them.

Several detectives have been assigned to guard the residences of the Leopold and Loeb families on the South Side, following the receipt of numerous threats of death by various members of the two families. These threats have come by mail and telephone. Steps also were taken yesterday by Mr. Loeb to have a guard placed around his country estate at Charlevoix, Mich. Telephone orders were sent to the Charlevoix home that all packages received there must be opened outside the house.

NOTES ARE GUARDED.

Associated Press Despatch.

Chicago, June 8.—Notes taken by Richard Loeb, while Nathan Leopold's confession of the murder of Robert Franks was being read to him, and notes by Leopold while Loeb's confession was being read, in turn are being guarded zealously by Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, it being his contention that the notes, as well as clinching the state's perfect hanging case, against the boys, would serve in a court to prove them both sane. The notes were made, it was revealed when Mr. Crowe directed that the confession of each of the young men be read to the other, and each objected to certain incriminating or inaccurate statements.

Each was given a pad of paper, and Loeb, in his precise manner, noted numbered exceptions to Leopold's confession as read by the stenographer who had taken it down, while Leopold noted fragmentary exceptions closely grouped on the corner of a sheet of paper.

Mr. Crowe announced last night that the state was ready for trial. The boys will be arraigned Wednesday, and he will try to have the trial date set for July 15, the soonest possible under criminal court procedure.

KIWANIS TO DEAL WITH IMMIGRATION

Eighth Annual International Convention To Be Held at Denver, June 16-19.

OVER 1,250 CLUBS

The eighth annual convention of the Kiwanis Club International, which includes over 1,250 clubs in that many cities of the United States and Canada, and a membership of over 89,000, will be held in Denver, Colorado, June 16 to 19.

Over 6,000 official delegates and members representing all sections of the two countries will attend the convention.

The work of the convention will be discussed and action on ways and means to carry out the following four major subjects: (1) The emphasis and intensification of service on behalf of under-privileged children. (2) The development of better relations between the farmer and the city man. (3) The aggressive development of a co-operative spirit towards the chambers of commerce and the co-ordination of activities. (4) The fostering of a fuller realization of the responsibilities of patriotic citizenship.

Will Present Reports.

Reports from the various international committees will deal with the various phases of these subjects and will include action on the recommendations that the Kiwanis Club International favor the budget system of administration in government affairs, favor the tax reduction program in municipal, provincial and federal government, favor the reduction in money costs of government and in the number of persons employed. The report of the Canadian section of the international committee on public affairs will deal with the recommendation for an annual observance of a Canadian citizenship week and a recommendation that the Kiwanis clubs of Canada favor universal peace as a policy. The general public affairs report to be presented will call for greater augmentation of moral and spiritual thought in community life.

The Canadian report will discuss Canadian immigration, particularly that part of it dealing with the plan of the British government to send for several thousand British boys between the ages of 14 and 18 to arrive under agreement of engagement by the farmers. The Canadian Pacific Railway has donated a hotel and the Montreal Kiwanis Club has equipped and furnished it to take care of these boys. The report will further deal with the fact that there has been no authoritative treatise on the origin, source and nature of rights of Canadian citizenship. In this connection, a treatise was prepared by the dean of the faculty of arts of McGill University, an authority on international law, dealing with these problems and with the relations between Canada and Great Britain in all government departments, which treatise was published by the Montreal Kiwanis Club, which owns the copyright.

Another report that will be presented will be that on service to the under-privileged child, which work is an outstanding feature of the service of all Kiwanis clubs.

Features of the convention will include what is known as "All-Kiwanis Night," when all of the clubs in the United States and Canada will meet simultaneously at the same hour as the opening session of the convention at Denver, on the evening of June 16. All of the clubs of the continent will arrange their meetings in accord with the difference in time. A particular feature of this special meeting will be the "zero hour," a 15-minute period when all the clubs will observe exactly the same program, consisting of a fellowship moment of silence, a message from the international president, and fellowship and patriotic songs.

ERNEST E. SKINNER HONORED BY FRIENDS

Presented With Address and Purse of Gold on Leaving.

Fellow employees of Ernest E. Skinner, for many years chief clerk of the roundhouse at the C. N. R. shops here, remembered him today, when he severed his connection with the department. A pleasing event took place when he was presented with an address and also with a purse of gold.

H. Kibble read the address and Harry Carey made the presentation. Mr. Skinner made a feeling reply, regretting the necessity of severing comradeship of such long standing. He offered his best wishes for the happiness and success of his co-workers.

C. A. Pugh is promoted to the position of chief clerk at the roundhouse.

Tokio Bans U.S. Films

Associated Press Despatch.

Tokio, June 9.—Attributing their action to "public demand," owners of motion picture theatres in Tokio at a general meeting today launched a boycott against United States films.

Beginning July 1, the theatre proprietors will not buy or rent United States films, or show them in their theatres, according to a resolution passed at the meeting.

Several motion picture theatres showing United States films were forced to close when they were invaded by gangs of ronin (political ruffians) Saturday evening.

FACILITIES IDEAL IN REGISTRATION

New Scheme Continues at Tech. and Various High School Units.

PARENTS SOUGHT

Registration at the technical high school and the several units of the collegiate institute is being continued this week. Offices of principals will be open on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings especially for this week.

Getting off to a late start and in bad weather last week the registration scheme made a fair showing. At the same time much in the way of co-operation from parents is still desired, as early registration will greatly expedite the work of class organization in secondary schools.

Parents or guardians of grade 8 pupils of public schools are especially urged to see principals of secondary schools this week to make known their intention for further education of their children. Were there is some doubt as to the possible lines of study which grade 8 pupils will follow if successful in their examinations, provision is made just the same.

With over 600 pupils in grade 8 classes now, the task of making class arrangements for them in September, so that newcomers may get off to a flying start in secondary schools, is a momentous one.

Principals of collegiates and the technical high school were unanimous today in calling for support in the second lap of the registration campaign.

Her companion, Mr. Wilcox, R. R. No. 4, who had his back severely strained, was allowed to leave the hospital after it was made certain that no further injuries had been received. Miss Perkins sustained a broken collar bone and numerous bruises.

DEBT IS REMOVED BY CONGREGATION

Eighteenth Anniversary Celebrated in Maitland Street Baptist Church.

THREE BAPTIZED

The eighteenth anniversary was a happy day in the annals of Maitland Street Baptist Church, when two former pastors, Rev. Mr. Charlesworth and Rev. C. M. Carew, were the speakers. The church was filled to the doors both morning and evening. Debt on the church building has at last been wiped off and tonight the mortgage will be burned at a special meeting which follows the annual supper given by the Ladies' Aid.

Last evening, with windows and altar decked with flowers, and with so many worshippers present that chairs were placed in the aisles, and with fine music by the choir, Rev. C. M. Carew, pastor of the church for 10 years and now of Fenelon Falls, was welcomed back. Rev. Mr. Charlesworth read from the scriptures and Rev. Dr. A. T. Sowerby, present pastor of the church, directed the service.

"Solid, rock-like foundations of the church are made possible by the people who make up the congregation," Rev. Mr. Carew declared in the sermon for the evening. His text was from the 16th chapter of the Gospel of St. Luke, the 18th verse: 'And I say also unto thee, that thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build My Church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it."

"Doubting, shifting, half-hearted workers are not wanted, but those who really have found salvation will make the church a thing everlasting," said the speaker. "The church is not merely a building of brick, mortar and wood. The Christians within it make it a living, vibrant tribute to faith in the Almighty."

Dr. Sowerby's remarks were congratulatory to the zealous folk who had struggled against debt for nearly a decade. Their recent efforts in a special drive which enlisted every organization in the church had resulted in the raising of nearly $4,600, sufficient to wipe off the last payment on the mortgage.

Upon three little girls, Jean Coleman, Dorothy Brown and Isobel Brown, the sacrament of baptism was administered and they were welcomed into the church by Dr. Sowerby.

If a Man Does Not Make a Will

Your Wife's Position

Ignorance of the laws of intestacy does not excuse a man from unwittingly working a cruel injustice on the person nearest and dearest to him.

When a man who has no children dies without a will the law declares, (1) that his widow receives the first $1,000 in his estate, (2) that his widow receives one-half of what remains, (3) that his next of kin, no matter how remote, receives the other half of what remains.

Think this over. Sometimes the failure to make a will works out as criminal carelessness.

Our booklet entitled "Your Will" is a safe guide to making a will and we will gladly furnish a copy on request.
