You good way to test the merit of, a preparation advertised to benefit health is to look carefully into its record. In times like the present, when there are so many worthless preparations in the market and so many now schemed in the market and so many now scheme in the market and so many now scheme in the market and so many now scheme in the market in the state of the medical world might be able to expose their worthlessness. But it may be well for Scott's Emulsion, however, that the laws are as they are, for Scott's Emulsion and the worthless mixtures but the major world. In the state of the service of the service

From bad to worse, and Consumption, Scrofula, Anhemia and other forms of disease surely result.

Scott's Emulsion is not an ordinary specific. Besides soothing and curative properties which are useful in curing Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Inflammation of Throat and Lungs, it also contains the vital principles of nourishment. A little Scott's Emulsion given to babies or children goes more to the making of solid bones and healthy flesh than all of their ordinary food. Babies who do not thrive soon grow chubby and bright on Scott's Emulsion, and children who are thin and have the appearance of growing too fast do not seem as though they could grow fast enough.

To Consumptives Scott's Emulsion is life itself. There are thousands of cases on record where Scott's Emulsion is life itself. There are thousands of cases on record where Scott's Emulsion is life itself. There are thousands of cases on record where Scott's Emulsion is life itself. There are thousands of cases of Mrs. Henry Lewis of Monttreal is deserving of special attention; her letter is an interesting one and worthy of careful perusal. Mrs. Lewis writes as follows:

"I am new an old woman, being in my seventy-third year, and can most frankly confess that no action of my life has ever given me greater pleasure than the present one of testifying with my whole heart and soul in favor of your Paine's Celery Compound.

"I' am new an old woman, being in my seventy-third year, and can most frankly confess that no action of my life has ever given me greater pleasure than the present one of testifying with my whole heart and soul in favor of your Paine's Celery Compound.

"From my expecience with other advertised remedies, I may say that they are not to be compared with your grand medicine for a moment. Paine's Celery Compound to me was new health and increased strength; all other medicines I found worthless and my money was spent in vain.

"Two years ago I became weak, sleep-wasters and my avnetite was will Sir Frank Smith permit himself to be elected Mayor, just for one year, if not longer? If he will accept the position no one will undertake to run against him. It is not too late to give effect to these suggestions. The electioneering work has been done already by the boodlers, and the public are ripe for action on the part of representative men. Will some of them move in the matter? If they will do so they will be supported, and a great impetus for good will come over our city. Our City Hall is our weakest spot.

Proof of the pudding is in the string, of the pie in the crust. None as good as that made with Dr. Price's Baking Powder.

Mamma—You must be very careful. The doctor says your system is all upset. Little Dot—I guess it is. My foot's as'eep. Foteses must be awfully upset we'en they goes to s'eep at the wrong end.—Good News.

She Was a Smart Girl.

A very bright young man in a neigh boring town received at a hotel a roust which he ruerited and which very properly subdued him. He was at dinner, and, wishing to let every one know how smart he was, commenced to guy the waiter girls. He succeeded in driving several half crazy, but finally made the error of joking the wrong one.
