20,000 Quotations, 50,000 Lines of Concordance.

THE STANDARD BOOK OF QUOTATIONS. 🖘

"The compilations of Allibone (over which we have often grown wrathy enough), and Bartlett (which it drains to the dregs), are quite out of competition."—New York Christian Union.

"This is by long odds the best book of quotations in existence."—New York Herald.

OLIVER WENDELL HOLMES-"A massive and teeming volume."

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL—"I consider it the best book of Quotations."
HENRY WARD BEECHER—"Good all the way through."

PRICES: - Royal Octavo, over 900 pages, heavy paper, cloth binding, $5. Sheep, $6.50. Mailed post-free on receipt of retail price.

BERTRAM'S HOMILETIC ENCYCLOPÆDIA,

BEING A HAND-BOOK OF PRACTICAL DIVINITY.

Containing 5,094 Illustrations in Theology and Morals.

AND BEING ALSO A HOMILETICAL COMMENTARY, THROWING LIGHT ON MORE THAN 4,000 TEXTS OF SCRIPTURE.

This great work is a storehouse from which the Preacher, Bible-class Leader and Teacher can draw most copiously. Says the London Literary World: "No book of illustrations is worthy to be compared with it."

In these 900 octavo pages are gathered 5,000 choice extracts from the most eminent preachers and writers. The subjects are arranged alphabetically, and each is subdivided homiletically.

-INDEXES.--

The entire book is an extended index—each subject and all its heads and subdivisions are so arranged, typographically, that everything can most readily be found. But, in addition, there is a triple set of Indexes, the first being an index of arrangements, with all the subdivisions. Itserves as an exhaustive homiletical analysis of each topic. The second is an index of subjects, and the third is a textual index.

Boston Congregationalist.—"Nearest to our ideal of what such a cylopædia ought to be of all the works of the kind which we have seen"

New York Christian Advocate, — "Stands at the head of similar publications,"
2# PRICE-Cloth bound, $3.00, instead of the former price, $4.50.

* * It affords us pleasure to be able to so greatly reduce the price of a book so valuable to clergymen.
