The Triennial, once an anticipation, is now a pleasant memory to us, and we trust to all who took part in the Convention. We were sorry that, owing to the pressure of necessary business, we were unable to enjoy as much personal intercourse with our sister Dioceses as we should have liked, and which would undoubtedly have been of mutual benefit; otherwise there is no place for regret. We were "happy to meet, sorry to part, and will be happy to meet again" if God spares us till 1901. when, we are glad to understand, the Triennial is planned to meet once more in Montreal.

The meetings throughout were well attended, and those present enjoyed the speeches, many of which were very delightful. Those on women's methods of raising money, specially interesting; indeed, so able were they, that we have good cause to hope that the opinions of many will undergo a great change in regard to Woman's work for Missions. We cannot but feel and it was well demonstrated at several of the discussions, that the Missionary Organ of the Woman's Auxiliary, The LEAFLET, is not sufficiently circulated or
