REFORMATION IN TRADE.

Reform, reform is the cry of the day, While old (schioned labbit are passing away). While caloric has triumphed, so plyinly 'twould seem, O'er the old fashioned method of putting by atesm

Let us glance at Toronto, which a few years ago, Was dark Muddy York, as you very well know. And see it to day, nidet our cities the best, And deservedly styled, the Queen of the West.

Just look, if you please, at its elegant homes,— Its beautiful churches, their spices and their domes While its due public buildings, exceed with tasts, Adorn the site of some old march), waste

Its marshes have fled by the aid of our drains, Its forests are open'd by the speed of our trains. The past we have seen, the precent we see, Well, well, we may ask, what the tuture will be

Even now, where the waves of Ontario roar, And dealt their white spray on the long beaten shore, That apid so long sacrad does selence invade, And the billows give place to a grand Esplanade

But reforms as important es these have been made, Which greatly have altered the expect of trade. Old styles and old habits, old prices have past, And customs much tetter are practised at fast

The Boxxets for instance, which a few years ago We nidecox you a dollar and a quarter, or so. A much finer style you now may procure. For less than one fourth of that wim, I am sure

Nor did you then think that the terms were hard, If you bought a good print for a shiting per yard, But now you may purchase for halt of that price, A cloth quite as good, and a style just as nice

Will you call at McDONALD'S 1 if it is but to try. From his well sarted Stock how cheep you can buy And we venture to say, whon you look through his 50 You will wonder you never have found it before

Then three story house, with the front painted white, Which makes its appearance both graceful and light, With very large figures, which you plainly may see. Describing its number as Ove It express as Tarker
