

History at your fingertips

Now the Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade has a history page on its Web site. Called "The Department in History," the page contains a wealth of information on the Department's past and how Canadian foreign policy has developed since 1867.

For anyone interested in learning about the rich, unique history of Canada's foreign policy and international relations, the new page is a must. The Web address is:

DID YOU KNOW THAT ...

Canadian ties with the Americas go back a long way. One of the very first Canadian trade missions abroad took place even before Confederation: in 1866, the governments of Canada (i.e., the future provinces of Ontario and Quebec), Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island sponsored a trade commission that visited the Caribbean and Brazil.

The first Canadian diplomatic mission in Latin America was established in Rio de Janeiro in September 1941 when career diplomat Jean Désy presented his credentials as Canadian Minister (later Ambassador) to Brazil. Also in the 1940s, Canada opened missions in Argentina and Chile (1941), Mexico and Peru (1944), and Cuba (1945). Further Canadian diplomatic expansion in Latin America took place only gradually in later decades.

If the proposed Free Trade Area of the Americas becomes a reality, it would be the world's largest free trade bloc, with 800 million people and a gross domestic product in excess of $10.6 trillion. Negotiations are under way for the conclusion of a treaty by 2005.

The Organization of American States is the world's oldest regional organization. It originated in 1890 as the International Union of American Republics. In 1910, this became the Pan American Union. In April 1948, 21 countries joined together to establish the modern OAS. The Organization is made up of 35 sovereign states. (The current government of Cuba has been suspended since 1962.) Canada joined as a Permanent Observer in 1972 and became a member on January 8, 1990.

Some 45 countries plus the European Union have Permanent Observer status with the OAS.

Approximately 1.5 million Canadians visited Latin America and the Caribbean last year (13.5 million visited the United States). In the same year, Canada welcomed 400 000 visitors from the region and 15 million Americans.

When travelling in the United States, Latin America and the Caribbean, tune in to Radio Canada International (RCI). On short-wave, it broadcasts Canadian news and other information programs in English, French and Spanish. For information on schedules and frequencies, consult RCI's Web site: www.rcinet.ca

In our NEXT ISSUE

Issue 9 • Fall 2000

Scheduled for late August, our next issue will focus on the upcoming United Nations Millennium Summit, expected to be the largest-ever gathering of heads of state and government. We will look at the future of the UN—the cornerstone of Canada's foreign policy since 1945—and how Canada intends to help redefine it for a new millennium. ●—
