YESTERDAY'S GREETING TO RETURNED SOLDIERS

A huge crowd turned out to meet the returning 75th and 102nd Battalions at North Toronto Station last evening. The men of the battalions who had already returned home and been demobilized are here seen leading the regiment down Yonge street.

session of the National Assembly to day. The galleries were filled and the floor contained a large portion of the members of the assembly. The session was orderly.

Toreign Minister Bauer made a report on his conference at Feldkirch with Dr. Renner, the head of the Austrian delegation. Bauer, who is not popular either in Vienna or in the country, and who is generally referred to as a Bolshevik, was listened to quietly while he read six pages of manuscript.

After declaring that the treaty was a peace delegation would propose plebiscites under neutral military zone.

Dr. Bauer said he hoped the Italian government which, up to this time had been unable to enter into direct negotiations, would not refuse to discuss the proposal at St. Germain. He said there was danger of an irredenta movement in German South Tyrol, remarking that the German people might hope gradually to win the friendship of Italy, but it would be a misfortune to both if the annexation of German South Tyrol prevented this.

Regarding western Hungary and the frontiers of Carinthia and Styria, the foreign minister released his personal vials of wrath against the Czechs, who, he said, had taken all of Austria's sugar and other

They carried the lifeless body to the General Hospital, where it was stated in the emergency ward that Coull was dead. His military number was $50023. It is believed relatives were in Toronto to welcome their soldiers.

Throngs.

Warm was the welcome that was given to the returning warriors of the 75th and 102nd battalions when they arrived at North Toronto station on four trains between 5.80 and 6 o'clock last night. Toronto opened its arms to the homecoming veterans and paid an earnest and soul-stirring tribute to the men who fought and won. It was a reception that must have made reception that must have made the boys feel that the citizens of Toronto are more than grateful for the sacrifices made in their behalf and one that will live long in the mem-

Winnipeg Strike Situation Shows Little Change Altho Many Workers Are Stated to Be Going Back to Work Today. Paris, June 8.—Gaston Quien, also known as Luc, who, it is believed, played a prominent part in the betrayal of Miss Edith Cavell, executed in October, 1915, will be placed on trial next month.

A long preliminary inquiry established that Quien was serving a sentence in the lail sat St. Quentin in 1914 and was liberated when the Germans first took the town. It is said he entered the German service as a spy and got eniployment in Miss Cavell's hospital at Brussels. Soon after he began to work there, it is alleged, Miss Cavell was arrested and executed.

Sixty witnesses have been called. They include Princess Maria of Croy, also denounced by Quien, and Madame Bovard, tried at the same time as Miss Cavell.

Winnipeg, June $.- While strike leaders today were appealing to wavering union men to stand firm. "because a settlement is in sight," the Winnipeg citizens' committee of one thousand announced that the sympathetic strike phase of the industrial deadlock "will be fought out to a knockout."

to a knockout."

The industrial employers declined to approve, as a basis of settlement, the collective bargaining pian submitted by the mediating railway brother-hoods' executives, it was announced. The metal trades accepted the plan last week.

Declarations were made at the board of trade that hundreds of men and wamen would return to work tomorrow, "now that returned soldiers have eliminated the weapon of intimidation." Union leaders, however, assented the "striking forces are standing firm."

serted the "striking forces are standing firm."

An unconfirmed report tonight was that railway carmen, machinists and sleeping car employes had decided to return to work immediately. Winnipeg commercial telegraphers tonight postponed until Tuesday their vote, on all union operators returning to work. Twenty-five operators who opposed postponement said they would return to their places tomorrow.

The controversy between the city and members of the Policemen's Union is set for final consideration tomorrow morning. The police commission demanded the patrolmen sign a pledge not to participate in general sympathetic strikes in the future. The officers refused, but have been attempting to arbitrate the question.

Strike Still On

Winnipeg, Man. June 7.— Despite pressure from union men representing the faction demanding settlement of the Winnipeg general strike, the central strike committee this afternoon declined to call off the sympathetic wulkout. It was also intimated that such action by the committee probably would have led to adjustment of the general labor controversy.

"Instead of going back we are extending the strike. Let no one talk of starting work next week. No local will go back but will try hard to pull out one or two thousand workers who today are unorganized," said the western Labor News, the official organ of the strikers, today.
