That Last Dawson Fire,
The report that the office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Dawson was destroyed in the recent fire there is misleading. The main office of the bank, which stands in the Government reservation, adjoining the Northwest Mounted Police, barracks, is far from the scene of the fire, but the bank kept a small office in the heart of the town for the convenience of its customers, the records of which are all safe at the main office, and it was this small office which was burnt down. The bank regards its main office as quite free from risk of fire.
