Eldest Son of Crown Prince Ten Years Old Yesterday.

BERLIN, July 4 .-- Via London-According to a traditional custom of the Hohenzollern house, Prince William, eldest son of Crown Prince Frederick William and heir presumptive, was enrolled in the army today, his tenth birthday. He was appointed a lieuten-ant of the First Guard Infantry. The prince, like his great grand-father Emperor William 1, who became a lieutenant in 1807, begins his military career in the midst of a great war, Prince William was also given an conorary command with the second guard landwehr regiment.

It was a real joy festival the officers of the 208th Irish Battalion staged at the Carls-Rite Hotel last night. But there were seriolis moments, too. Toasts to the King and Canada were responded to with fervor by the officers. From the tenor of the patriotic addresses the Irish are going to go far when they reach Finders. The banquet was held in honor of the spence. The officers presented him with a cut glass piece in honor of the co-casion. Mr. Spence said there was nothing he would have enjoyed more than to accompany the fighting Irish-master, said he was proud to go to the front with a battalion of fighting Irish-men.
