RED DAYS IN NUREMBERG

Attempt by Bolsheviks to Control Town Attended by Much Bloodshed.

Stuttgart, March 21.—The city of Nuremberg has ended its five days' paralysis, which were marked by civil warfare, rioting and an attempt by Bolsheviks to rush the public places.

The street car service was resumed today, the workers returning to the factories and the stores reopening. The casualties during the five "red days" have not been tabulated, but they are heavy.

The outbreak began last Monday morning when a general sympathetic strike was proclaimed in protest against Kapp. Thousands joined the strike, and on Tuesday delegations made the rounds and ordered the stores closed.

On Wednesday a group of sailors armed with rifles and fixed bayonets, although the rifles were without locks and therefore unable to fire—seized two automobiles and after proceeding through the city tried to reach the post office, where it was known through military marks of government money was stored.

Another group, meanwhile, tried to seize the station nearby. Reichswehr troops came up hastily and beat off the attacks, killing 20 and wounding sixty others.

Trouble started in the stockyards Thursday. There was little bloodshed on Friday and the Reichswehr and citizens guards regained control of the city. The men who had been working yesterday, the situation is approaching normal and industries are beginning to function.

Yesterday news of a master of defence in the Ebert government, before leaving here last night for Berlin, said he would soon restore order in Germany. He declared that the Reichswehr were not all for Kapp, but that they were really behind the old government.

Reports from Mannheim say the bridge over the Neckar at the Neckar River have been closed to prevent the spread of unrest that has appeared in the factories of Mannheim and the suburbs. The workers are said to have been showing passive resistance, such as greatly lowering production, to enforce their demands for increased power for the workers' councils. Thus far there has been no disorder, but precautionary measures are being taken by the military officials.

Official reports say that most of the Reichswehr escaped from Essen, but that some were captured and disarmed and some shot. Indications are that the situation in Essen is becoming more serious. Von Watter will be ready to begin his campaign.

3,000 KILLED AT LEIPSIK?

Americans Returning to Coblenz Bring Story of Fighting.

Coblenz, March 21.—Three thousand persons were killed in the fighting at Leipzig before the government troops captured the town Friday, according to statements made by three American business men who arrived here tonight from Leipzig, which place they left Saturday night.

Up to Wednesday there was strike action in Leipzig against the Kapp regime, then anarchy and soviet control until the government troops shelled the Volkshaus and labor headquarters Friday afternoon.

There were 2,000 persons in the building, who were shot down as they made their exit.

The shells finally set fire to the building, killing other hundreds. There was a demonstration on March 14, in which 36 persons were killed. Then the workmen secured arms and street fighting was heavy until an armistice was arranged Wednesday (March 17) at noon. The armistice ran until noon on Thursday. A Saxon aviator flying over the city on Thursday was shot down by the fire.

The fighting continued from Thursday between the workers, using rifles and grenades, and the Reichswehr and army units until the Volkshaus was shot down on Friday.
