

The Evening Times.

VOL. V. No. 277

ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1909

EIGHT PAGES—ONE CENT

SENSATIONS IN COURT TODAY

Juror Scammell Discussed Greek Case Out of Court CAUSES A FUSS

Decided, However, to Go On With Trial—Morning Paper Censured by Judge Forbes—Crown Case Against Meritis Closed.

Hearing in the second trial of George Mirasis, charged with selling Free Speech, was resumed this morning before Judge Forbes. The courtroom was crowded. A number of sensations were sprung by the attorney-general and the proceedings for a time were very lively.

Before the case was commenced, Attorney-General Hazen told the court that he had been informed by the chief of police that one of the jurors, S. W. Scammell, had discussed the case in a street car after leaving the court yesterday and had positively expressed his sentiments in sympathy with the accused Greek. Mr. Scammell was called on to explain by Judge Forbes, and admitted talking about the matter, but denied saying that he would vote to find the prisoner not guilty.

J. M. Truman was the gentleman with whom Mr. Scammell had spoken regarding the matter, but he was not the chief of police. "I don't remember of stating that the jury would disagree," said Mr. Scammell.

His honor was very much displeased, and expressed his opinions strongly regarding the matter. It would be optional with the court, he said, whether the case would be allowed to proceed or not, and Mr. Hazen could decide for himself.

The attorney-general asked for a few minutes to consider the matter, and then decided to allow the trial to proceed, as it would necessitate considerable delay in expediting a new jury and it would be ten days before he could again be present.

Serious Offense by Sun, Says Judge

Regarding a paragraph in the Sun this morning to the effect that the new jury would disagree, his honor was highly incensed, and called the paragraph a serious offense—contempt of court—and said he would deal with the paper when the trial was over.

Mr. Hazen wished to ask Juror Scammell whether or not, at the conclusion of the trial when the evidence was all in, he could decide in his mind as to the guilt or otherwise of the prisoner.

Mr. Mullin objected but was told by his honor that he had no right to interfere. "Probably, Mr. Mullin, you had better take charge of the court yourself," said his honor.

The question was asked and answered to the effect that he would discharge his duties according to his oath.

Postmaster Sears Called

Edward Sears, postmaster of St. John, was the only witness examined for the prosecution. He testified that he had received a letter from the postmaster general to the effect that Free Speech was prohibited through the mails. He at once went to Mirasis and warned him of the danger in selling the sheet in question.

This evidence was objected to by Mr. Mullin but the objection was overruled. The Greek, in his reply, said the postmaster seemed doubtful as to what course he would pursue. The witness saw the prisoner again and urged him to stop selling Free Speech but was told that he (the prisoner) thought it would be all right. The witness then told Mirasis that he would probably be arrested if he did not stop selling the paper. The prisoner seemed very irate as to what he was told to do. He told the witness that he made about $80 a month from the sale of the paper.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mullin, as to the "friendly interest" witness took in the prisoner Mr. Sears said he acted in the interest of his office and thought that it was every citizen's duty to help prohibit the sale of the Free Speech. This concluded the case for the crown. Mr. Mullin asked for a few minutes' talk with the prisoner and his request was granted. On returning to the court room the prisoner appeared to be ill and was seen to shiver frequently and in walking to his seat tottered against a table.

Mr. Mullin told the court that he proposed to call the defendant to make a statement. He stated that the witness was a foreigner and had not a thorough knowledge of what he called "high-class language" and also that the meaning of obscene and immoral was unknown to him. Continuing Mr. Mullin said that it must be proven, which as yet it had not been, that the Greek had sold Free Speech (which he admitted was a filthy sheet) knowing it to be detrimental to the moral standing of the community.

(Continued on page 3.)

PREDICTS WAR AGAIN, RUSSIA AND JAPAN, TABLES TURNED

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 27.—Dr. G. Coulthard, who was with Lord Kitchener in the memorable Kharthoum campaign, has arrived here from the Far East, on his way to his home in England. He visited Japan on the way to this country and spoke interestingly of his observations concerning the empire.

"There is not the slightest danger of any trouble between Japan and the United States," he remarked, "but there will be war again between Russia and Japan. Both countries are getting ready for the

RICH WOMAN IS HELD AS SMUGGLER

Jewels in Concealed Pocket—When Found, Says She Had Them When She Left Home

New York, Aug. 27.—When the second cabin passengers of the liner Oceanic were coming down the gang plank yesterday two women inspectors who were stationed on the pier to keep an eye on women passengers noticed a peculiar "hang" to the skirt of a genial looking, middle aged woman dressed in black.

"It looks as if she had something concealed under that skirt," they whispered to Deputy Surveyor Conover, who thereupon halted the woman.

She told them she was Miss Catherine M. McKee, of Harrisburg, (Pa.) and that she had been abroad on a pleasure trip. "No I haven't anything dutiable, aside of the $100 worth that I am allowed to have," she said, in response to a question.

"I'm sorry, madam, but you will have to submit to a search by the women inspectors," Conover said, and he led Miss McKee back on board the Oceanic, where the inspectors, Miss Ellsworth and Miss Darragh took her into a stateroom.

The Harrisburg woman protested so vigorously that scores of passengers who had not left the ship crowded about it. It was a most unusual procedure, suspected smugglers are seldom taken back on board ship to be searched.

"This is an insult and an outrage!" Miss McKee stormed. "I am an American citizen and the owner of real estate and other property in Harrisburg. You have no right to treat me like a criminal."

But she was searched, nevertheless. Besides her skirt was found—so the inspectors say—a long, wide pocket, nestled against the undergarment. And in this were two diamond rings, wrapped in paper; a pair of diamond earrings, and a number of other valuables, worth about $1,000 and $1,500. Besides there was a pair of French gloves.

Miss McKee was arrested at once and taken before Commissioners Shields. An attorney advised her to waive examination which she did. She was held in $1,500 bail which was furnished by Miss Annie M. Shaw, of No. 22 Elliott street, and a number of other valuables, worth about $1,000 and $1,500. Besides there was a pair of French gloves.

"I am not a smuggler," she said, "I never dreamed of smuggling anything into the country. When I went away in the Spring I had all those jewels with me. Returning, I suffered from rheumatism of the hands and was obliged to discard my diamond rings. I put them, with the earrings and the gloves, in the pocket for safe keeping. It was merely an ordinary pocket, too, such as many women have at that place. The customs officials, however, said they felt certain Miss McKee was trying to smuggle the jewelry in."

The customs officials, however, said they felt certain Miss McKee was trying to smuggle the jewelry in.

FREDERICTON WANTS CRICKET TEAM VISIT

Lively Election in Prospect—Speedy Trials Act Case

Fredricton, N. B., Aug. 27.—(Special)—The Fredericton cricketers, who returned from St. John last evening are receiving many congratulations on their victory. They hope to have the St. John team here early next month.

Conn. A. Grass, William Patterson, Abner Smith, and J. Duff Mitchell are candidates for Sunbury county council for the parish of Lincoln. The contest promises to be lively.

The Fredericton tennis club will hold a tournament on Labor Day, when mixed doubles will be played for two valuable prizes offered by Charles F. Randolph.

Dr. James Hannay who has made his home here for some years, intends removing to St. John next week.

Herbert Green, of Blissett, was arrested a couple of days ago on a charge of stealing goods from a man named Hersey of that place. He was examined by Squire Smith of Blissett and committed for trial. He will be arraigned before Judge Wilton at Burton tomorrow under the Speedy Trials Act.

The Hassam Paving Company have finished paving the block in Queen street and are doing work in Carleton street towards the bridge.

KUZZEL SOLD TO CUBS Saginaw, Mich., Aug. 27.—Pitcher Kuzzel of this city, the leading pitcher of the Southern Michigan League, has been sold to the Chicago Cubs. He has a record of 19 victories out of 23 games.

SPENDING MILLION A MONTH ON STEEL PLANT AT GARY, IND.

REJECT SOME SITES FOR A SANITARIUM

Commission Will Not Say Which, However—May Go Afield to Visit Institutions

The commission appointed by the provincial government to decide upon a suitable site for a sanitarium for persons suffering from tuberculosis, held a meeting last evening in Fredericton, where they further considered the matter of a site, but reached no definite decision.

Dr. McAvenny and Dr. Botsford reported having visited sites at Wolford, Kewick Ridge and near Fredericton Junction.

Dr. J. R. McIntosh, who returned from Fredericton today, after attending the meeting, said that while the sites referred to had been considered, there were also other sites, which had not yet been visited, that the commissioners were desirous of seeing before they made a decision.

Some of the proposed sites had been eliminated altogether, but which ones he was not prepared to say.

Another meeting will be held in the near future, he said, in the meantime some of the members would probably visit institutions abroad to see how they were situated, and get information that would assist them in coming to a decision. Several other sites not as yet examined would also be visited and probably when they met again a definite decision would be reached.

HAD TO LET BOYD'S WIFE GO

In the police court this morning James Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

Boyd was charged with intoxication and resistance. Patience Boyd, his wife, was committed to the custody of the coroner of Brunswick and Brussels street for intoxication, and was released on $250 bail.

JUDGE GARY

London, Aug. 27.—Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, has arrived in London, accompanied by Mrs. Gary. They have been touring in France and Spain for several months in their automobile. When seen by your correspondent Judge Gary was just preparing for a run into the country to spend a day or two with some friends up the river, near Kingston.

Speaking of Steel affairs, Judge Gary was altogether hopeful for the future. "The prospects for good business were never brighter," he said. "We are showing our faith in the country and its returning prosperity by spending more than five thousand dollars a month at the present time on our new plant at Gary, Ind. This when completed will be the largest, finest and most economically working plant in the world."

"I can say, without exaggeration, that at present we are employing more than five thousand men there, and at the plant it is increased and becomes able to take care of more orders we shall increase the number of employees. In the near future we expect to employ twenty or twenty-five thousand men at this plant alone."

Judge Gary said that the United States Steel Corporation was developing several processes to cheapen the cost of making their finer qualities of steel and that this would enable them to offer good, high grade steel for many purposes where the cost was now prohibitive.

Sheffield, Eng., Aug. 26.—The chamber of commerce tonight gave a dinner in honor of Judge Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel Corporation. Judge Gary spoke on the subject of the interdependence of trade conditions in England and the United States. He said that recent movements showed a decided advance in trade in the United States, especially in iron and steel and he therefore thought that England had good reason to be hopeful with regard to the immediate future. He had no objection to free trade, he declared, provided all countries adopted it but it was not fair that an industry should be protected in one country and not in another. He believed in reciprocal relations between all the countries.

GRAND FALLS POWER CASE

Argument Begun This Morning—May Have Fredericton Session

The hearing before J. N. Winslow, the commissioner appointed by the provincial government to determine the amount of the bond to be furnished by the Grand Falls Power Co. in expropriating lands at Grand Falls, was resumed this morning in the admiralty court chambers.

H. A. Powell, K. C., and Chas. F. Sanford, appeared for the expropriating company, the Grand Falls Power Co., and H. H. McLean, K. C., and Fred. R. Taylor for the interests of Sir Wm. Van Horne and others who formed the old company and claim proprietary rights and leases which the expropriating company seek to acquire.

It was agreed between counsel that Mr. Powell should start his argument first, to be followed by Col. McLean, and then Mr. Taylor to close the argument. It was also agreed that if any new matter was introduced by either counsel, the opposing ones would have the right to speak again on the subject.

Mr. Powell, in opening his address, cited the acts of assembly under which the expropriating company claimed they had rights for storage purposes, for erecting a dam and to expropriate lands at Grand Falls. He then reviewed the history of the Hayes lease and submitted a plan, which was, however, objected to by Col. McLean, as it was not a certified plan from the crown lands office.

Mr. Taylor also objected, claiming that the plan was not a copy of the one attached to the Hayes lease.

There was considerable discussion, and finally Mr. Powell said he would continue his argument on the basis of the plan submitted, and a meeting could be held later in Fredericton to examine original plans in the crown lands office, together with the officials.

Mr. Powell was still speaking when adjournment was made at one o'clock, and he will continue this afternoon.

THE WARSHIPS THAT CANADA WILL BUILD

Bristol, Eng., Aug. 27.—(Special)—The type of cruiser which it is understood Canada will build, establishing a ship-yard for the purpose, is the second-class cruiser of the type of the British cruiser, capable of developing a speed of 26 knots an hour. The cruisers which Great Britain will have Canada for training purposes will be of the Apollo type of second-class cruiser of 3,400 tons and carrying 8 large guns.

Great Britain's alliance with Japan served its purpose, which was to prevent any interference by any of the European powers during the struggle, but that alliance will have an end. England knew how the United States would stand, but it didn't know so much about the European nations.

Scituate, Mass., Aug. 26.—In the confusion of a sudden meeting of two automobiles, a carriage and three pedestrians at North Scituate today, Richard Brown, son of J. Brown, of Brookline, was run over and killed and a companion, R. L. Cressy also of Brookline, was severely injured.

Great Britain's alliance with Japan served its purpose, which was to prevent any interference by any of the European powers during the struggle, but that alliance will have an end. England knew how the United States would stand, but it didn't know so much about the European nations.

Scituate, Mass., Aug. 26.—In the confusion of a sudden meeting of two automobiles, a carriage and three pedestrians at North Scituate today, Richard Brown, son of J. Brown, of Brookline, was run over and killed and a companion, R. L. Cressy also of Brookline, was severely injured.

FINDS FATHER AFTER YEARS

BERESFORD ON CANADA'S SOIL TODAY

Virginian at Quebec With Distinguished Passengers—Killed on Railway—News of Dominion Points.

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 27.—(Special)—The Allan liner Virginian from Liverpool, having more passengers of distinction on board, among them Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, G.C., V. C., who is coming to Canada on invitation to open the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto, arrived in port at 5 o'clock this morning. Among other on board the Virginian were Hon. Dudley Carleton and Viscountess Cantelupo.

North Bay, Ont., Aug. 27.—(Special)—The mangled body of M. Busson, a prominent citizen of St. Constant (Que.), who was taking advantage of a cheap excursion west, was found on the railway near Ridout, 216 miles west of North Bay. Busson had a ticket for Brandon, but left the train at Ridout, where he telegraphed his wife to send him fifty dollars. Mrs. Busson telegraphed the money, but before it arrived, Busson started to walk east along the tracks.

Smith's Falls, Ont., Aug. 27.—James Davidson in attempting to board a car here yesterday, was run over and injured. Kingston, Ont., Aug. 27.—Forty-five recruits have entered the Royal Military College.

Quebec, Aug. 27.—The mayor has received six medals to distribute to prominent participants in the Quebec centenary.

Quebec, Aug. 27.—John Fitzgerald, of East Hereford, fell from the fourth story of a boarding house at midnight and was instantly killed. He and relatives were here on a pilgrimage to Ste. Anne de Beaupre. He was 72 years old.

Winnipeg, Aug. 27.—Plans for the organization of a third foot regiment for Winnipeg have been completed. They will be either fusiliers or grenadiers, and will be commanded by Lieut-Col. Rutan, formerly of the 60th Regiment.

Regina, Aug. 27.—An agreement has been arrived at by the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern for a union station here. It is to be owned by the company which all the railways are equally interested.

Montreal, Aug. 27.—Montreal is again to have a Windsor Hall. The directors of the Windsor Hotel have decided to turn the old main dining room into a first class ball room, with a stage capable of holding 100 people and with a seating capacity of 1,000.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Eight consignments of liquor destined for illegal traffic in the Elk Lake district, have been confiscated by provincial license officers.

Regina, Aug. 27.—A local branch of the Royal Life Saving Society has been arranged. Classes will be organized in local swimming clubs and schools and it is hoped by next spring members will have become sufficiently expert to qualify for the badge of the Royal Life Saving Society.

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 26.—The Trajans Bank of Canada have opened a new branch at Forster, (Sask.) with E. W. Bradish as manager.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 27.—(Special)—George A. McDonald, formerly manager of the Baptist book room, was elected assistant city assessor by the city council last night. There were seven ballots. The next strongest contestants were E. J. Griffin and J. L. Bornhill. This election has caused considerable interest in civic circles.

Willard in Toronto With His Airship

Toronto, Ont., Aug. 27.—C. Foster Willard, who is to try to fly across Lake Ontario in an airship, arrived here last night and began putting together his airship. This arrived last night, but too late to be passed through the customs.

Willard is accompanied by his own mechanics. He says he may be ready to test it Saturday evening.

Carnegie Gives $30,000

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 26.—President Theodore Kemp, of Illinois Wesleyan University today received notice that Andrew Carnegie had given $30,000 to the University for a new science building, Wesleyan having raised an endowment fund of $80,000.

Mrs. Geo. Gould and Others

Robbed Watching the Airships

Rheims, Aug. 27.—During her excitement over Blériot's flight at the aviation contests, Mrs. Geo. Gould, of New York, hurried from her box to congratulate the aeroplanist, leaving her husband on the seat, unguarded.

A few moments later she returned to find the bag gone.

Its contents were money and jewelry to the value of $8,000, and included one ring, set with diamonds, given Mrs. Gould by her husband during their recent stay in Paris. This ring alone was worth $4,000. Mrs. Gould reported her loss to the police.

Russian Boy's Search Brought Him at Last to Canada.

Board of Trade A Passion

Through Austria, Germany and America Trace Was Sought—Father Had Disappeared from Home—Heroic Struggles of Lad to Find Him.

New York, N. Y., Aug. 27.—The World today says: August Linde, cashier for the Athens Hotel, has found his father after a search that lasted years and extended half way around the world.

The father was a merchant in the Russian government of Volynsk, in the year 1886, possessed of property, a wife, a little boy and girl. One day the father disappeared when August was two years old. Year after year the mother searched Europe for traces of her missing husband. When August was ten he set out to realize a day dream of a home in which his father was restored to the chief place, a dream that became a haunting passion.

His first travels took him in Austria, where he went from town to town, asking every postmaster and every official of the older line. Then he went through Germany from place to place. His mother, in the meantime, with her little girl had sought a new home in New York. After searching Germany, young August searched Scotland in vain.

Find Him in Canada

The lad sailed from Glasgow to New York to join his mother, who had landed in 1888 and was continuing the search for her husband. There came hard times for the little boy. He sold papers in the street of New York, picked up what scanty pennies he could find, and spent what he had made buying postage stamps to write to every postmaster of every capital city in the union. The letters came back with the same monotonous information: "No such Linde was recorded in the city directory."

Eight years ago the boy turned his attention to the Dominion of Canada. He wrote to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.

He debated the question of life and death at the seriousness of the situation. He broke to the postmaster-general and his letter brought the reply that mail had been delivered to a man named Linde, and an address was sent. To this address the lad wrote. No answer ever came, and the youngster was on the verge of suicide.