ANNUAL JOURNAL

Medical and Surgical Society of Nova-Scotia and New-Brunswick.

T would be superfluous to enter into an enquiry relative to the advantages which result and 200 feet rear, from Exmouth to Waterloo- from the honest detail of interesting Medical streets. Immediate possession can be given .-- cases. The various periodical Journals, which Apply to JOHN HOLMAN, or to MR. THURGAR, have already enriched the science of Medicine Auctioneer, who will make known all particu- in other countries confirm this fact. The modifications of disease, and the peculiarities of prac-tice, which such Records exhibit must be interesting to every zealous Member of the Pro-fession; and as these morbid varieties are not confined exclusively to any particular country, it is but reasonable to infer, that much important information may be collected in our Provinces, which if embodied in an Annual Journal, would form a work of practical utility.-With this con-viction the Annual Journal of the Medical Society of Nova S otia and New-Brunswick will be offered to the Profession, and published early in the Fall, if sufficiently encouraged.—The Editors therefore open it for the reception of Medical and Surgical Communications, and solicit patronage not only from the Profession in Nova Scotia and New-Brunswick, but also from its members in Canada, Prince Edward's Is-land, and Newfoundland: And as the Repub-serviceable to gentlemen in secluded situations, occasional selections will be made from the latest authors, comprehending the most interesting improvements in the healing art .- The Putication will be conducted by
