Washington ,Dec. 6.—What will be the attitude of President Wilson toward the tariff question when peace in Europe restores the belligerent powers to indus-trial prominence and world trade com-petition is resumed? This is a matter that is being discussed by members of congress—mostly Republican members-who are returning to Washington for the executive session which will begin to-morrow. Some of the president's critics are predicting that he will be a pronounc-ed protectionist before the end of his second term, but they are basing this Bald win Loco. 774/ 5 b. Estimates on new work.
