VISITORS HONOR SOLDIER DEAD

Boston Canadian Club Members Place Wreath on Monument Here

Impressive Scene at King Square—Addresses Made by Visitors and Governor.

The Boston delegation of Canadian Club and Woman's Auxiliary members being entertained here this week by the two local Canadian Clubs, grouped around the new Soldier Memorial, King Square, this morning and Howard L. Allen, of Boston, a member of Colonel Percy Guthrie's Kiltie Battalion in the Great War, placed a wreath of everlasting magnolia leaves at the base of the plinth with the words: "As a member of the Canadian overseas forces and in the name of the Kiltie Battalion to which he belonged and the American Legion I take deep pride in placing this simple memorial of honor to our brave dead boys and those who followed them."

It was a deeply impressive moment and Mr. Allen, tall, soldierly and with prematurely white hair, delivered his brief tribute with a voice vibrant with emotion. All heads were uncovered and the circle of 50 Canadian Club people of both cities and several hundreds of the general public, reverently applauded the placing of the wreath. A ribbon bore the printed inscription, stating that the tribute was from the Woman's Auxiliary of the Boston Canadian Club.

SEVERAL GAVE ADDRESSES.

Following the placing of the wreath, Mrs. Rupert D. Foster, president of the Boston Auxiliary, spoke, stating that it was with great pride the women of her organization were taking part in the simple little ceremony, a tribute so richly deserved by the brave men who gave their lives to make the world safe for all. The Boston Canadian Club Auxiliary members still loved the Canadian homeland and were loyal to its aims and aspirations and today's note of affection and honor was only a fitting one to sound.

J. F. MASTERS HEARD.

John F. Masters, a past president of the Boston Canadian Club, and upon this visit representing President A. M. Johnston, was introduced by Mayor Potts, who outlined to the visitors the history of the monument and the Boston delegation highly for their show of Canadian patriotism and international courtesy.

Mr. Masters said this occasion would certainly leave a deep imprint upon the minds of all visitors present. Canadians in Boston and where in the United States, did not forget the old home land. It was delightful to be again in the Loyalist city of Saint John and enjoy its famed hospitality. He congratulated the city upon raising so grand and artistic a monument to the revered memory of the brave men who fought the war. Mr. Masters said that one of the Boston party, Mrs. F. C. Masters, his sister-in-law, had lost a son in the war. R. C. Duncan, whose name was inscribed on the memorial tablet in the Royal Bank here, where he was employed at the time of enlistment.

Mr. Masters conveyed the greetings of the Boston Canadian Club to the people of Saint John and said that in New England there are over 800,000 former Canadians.

GOVERNOR SPEAKS.

Lieut. Governor Todd dwelt upon the splendid spirit displayed by today's tribute and in glowing terms spoke of the Anglo-Saxon element and its indissoluble bond cementing the whole North American continent.

David Sprague, chorus leader of the Boston Canadian Club, led the whole party through the British national anthem and a verse of the American national hymn and there was an exchange of cheers by the Canadians and Americans.

Besides the Canadian Club members and official group among those present at the ceremony were: Col. E. T. Sturdee, R. T. Hayes, President F. A. Dudley of the United Hotels Company of America; Vernon S. Cardy, manager of the Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal; R. A. Armstrong, several clergymen, Thomas Bell, many relatives of soldiers, and citizens who came specially to join in the tribute.

The party was photographed for news purposes, afterwards for the Boston folks and for the movies, including the Pathe Weekly because of the international character of the event.

As Hiram Sees It

"Well, sir," said Mr. Hiram Hornbeam to The Times reporter, "old Saint John is comin' along fine. Here you got a noo hotel—an' thes' gonto be a packin' plant an' a cigarete factory—an' the insurance on ships has been brought down so's you'll git more steamers this way—an' it looks as if you'd git that there coke plant—an' you're layin' the corner stone o' the finest vocational school in New Brunswick—an' you got a nice little peppy fight over church union. I callate no feller has any call to say thes' anything wrong with the way this town is tryin' to make things better for this world an' the next. All you want now is fer Primer Veno to call on them there elections an' things'll whoop around here. I was thinkin' I'd write you a letter or two fer the paper—but Hanner says I'd make folks laugh at any ides of what we orto do—so I guess I'll jus' let you say that if anybody wants to know anything they kin send me a letter to The Settlement an' I'll tell 'em how to git rich or be saved or cure warts—yes, sir."

MRS. M. WADE IS DEAD AT AGE OF 84

Tragedy Marked Her Life 49 Years Ago, When Husband Was Drowned.

Mrs. Margaret Wade, widow of Captain Weston Wade, who had resided for several years with her daughter, Mrs. G. C. Laurence, Manawagonish road, died this morning, leaving besides her daughter, one son, John Wade, a sister, Mrs. Agnes Anderson, four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren, all of West Saint John. Mrs. Wade celebrated her 84th birthday last year. She was a woman of vigorous health and lovely character and her benefactions to the sick and bereaved are recounted by many.

TRAGEDY IN LIFE

She had traveled much with her husband and saw many parts of the world. A great tragedy in her life came when he was drowned in 1876. He had sailed to the West Indies on the four-masted schooner Moss Glen, and lost his life when a squall struck the small boat in which he was conveying mail to a mail packet one dark night. Mrs. Wade was a daughter of Captain and Mrs. Edward Smith, pioneer settlers in New Brunswick, coming here from Scotland. She was a member of St. Columba Presbyterian church and took an active interest in its work until a few months ago, when her health failed. She was married to Captain Wade in 1866 in the First Presbyterian church, West Saint John. Her family came to Kouchibouguac when they first landed in Canada, but later settled in Grand Bay. Her funeral will be held on Friday afternoon at 2:30 to Greenwood cemetery.

HUNDRED CASES OF LIQUOR ARE SEIZED

Saint John Revenue Men Make Find in Barn Down The Bay.

A lot of liquor was seized yesterday afternoon by Canadian revenue officers at Dead Man's Harbor, on the N. B. coast south of here. The work of checking it was carried out today at a bonded warehouse here. The liquor was found in a barn.

The officer in charge said that large quantities of liquor were being smuggled in along the coast. That the three-mile limit law was in force so far as Canada was concerned made efforts to stop the smuggling difficult. He said that at the present time there were three schooners loaded with alleged contraband cruising back and forth between Lepreau and The Wolves.

Yesterday's raid, he said, resulted in the capture of 100 cases of whiskey. The barn was situated a considerable distance from a house or other place of an old man and his wife. He expressed the belief that these people knew nothing of the fact their barn was being used.

The place where the liquor was found is between Black's Harbor and Beaver Harbor and is about 80 miles from Saint John. The contraband was brought here by two automobile trucks. No trace of the owners was found.

THREE ARE SENT UP IN ASSAULT CASE

Bail is Accepted For Harold Winchester—Case Likely to Grand Jury at Once.

George Winchester, Harold Winchester and Robert Short were committed for trial by Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court this morning. All three had pleaded not guilty of assault upon Mrs. Stratton. In the case of Harold Winchester, His Honor said the presumption of guilt was not so strong, and he admitted him to bail of $4,000, $2,000 himself and $1,000 each from sureties. It is expected the case will go before the grand jury of the circuit court now sitting here. E. J. Henneberry appeared for the two Winchester and J. Starr Tait for Short.
