TEN KILLED IN DURANGO CITY IN RELIGIOUS RIOT

Law Limits Clergymen to 25 in Each Denomination.

Catholic Committee Seeks an Interview at Provincial Palace and Crowd Gets Impatient at Three Hours Delay—Then Trouble.

(Canadian Press.)

Mexico City, June 1.—Ten persons were killed and seventeen were wounded in a religious riot at Durango City last night when a mob attacked the provincial palace and the mounted police, according to dispatches to the newspaper Excelsior. Federal troops were being concentrated in Durango to prevent further disorders.

Despatches from Durango say that the trouble was indirectly caused by the recently enacted law limiting the number of ministers permitted to officiate in the state to twenty-five for each denomination. The Catholic priests in Durango normally number more than 260.

Accompanied by a crowd of more than 3,000 persons, a committee of prominent Catholic men and women visited the provincial palace about noon yesterday to ask the Government and legislature to repeal the law. The committee waited at the palace for more than three hours and in the meantime the crowd was harangued by orators, constantly becoming more excited.

The mob finally began stoning the palace, whereupon the mounted police and guards fired a volley over the heads of the demonstrators. The crowd, infuriated, attacked and dispersed the guards. As a result of the shooting, the bodies of three policemen and seven civilians had been recovered today. The wounded, eight of whom were seriously injured, are being treated in hospitals. The church authorities have announced that services will be discontinued unless the law is repealed.

New Chinese Railway

Vancouver, B. C., June 1.—A contract for the construction of a 1,900 mile railway in South China has been let by the Sun Yat Sen administration to the Northern Construction Company of this city. The contract was signed during the recent visit to the Orient of C. V. Cummings, vice-president of the company. Mr. Cummings tacitly admitted the accuracy of this information when interviewed today but said he could not discuss the matter at this stage.

At the office of the Canada Morning News, a Chinese nationalist dispatch reached here. It was said that the railway is part of Dr. Sun's scheme to link up the province, passing en route through Kwangsi and Yunnan provinces.

When construction can be begun it is problematical. The South China Government has some heavy financing to do before the work can be entered into as the Canton Government is still engaged in warfare. Consolidating its territory in the south this financing may be faced with difficulty.

It is estimated that the work will cost between $25,000,000 and $35,000,000. One section of the line will pass through mountainous territory.

F. J. G. KNOWLTON'S WILL Under the terms of the will of the late F. J. G. Knowlton, K. C., D. C.L., which was probated before Judge H. O. McNamee, the entire estate, said to aggregate about $20,000, was left to his wife, Mrs. Knowlton, and appointed executrix. Bowyer S. Smith was proctor.

Copeland Says Americans In 'Fool's Paradise'

Prosperity Will Flee Unless Europe Gets Work, He Declares in North Carolina Address.

Raleigh, N. C., June 1.—Americans are living in a "fool's paradise," Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York said in an address at the annual commencement exercises of North Carolina State College. In certain lines in the United States, he said, prosperity was being built, but the dilemma of the world should convince the people that the good times were likely to be transient.

Copeland renewed his plea for the calling of a business and economic conference to include all nations and from which all political differences would be barred. The plan of joining the World Court advocated by President Harding, he said, was "one of the ingredients of a prescription which might save the world, but it would be no more a panacea for the distress and unhappiness of mankind than is a single sip of water enough to save a man dying of thirst."

"President Harding," Senator Copeland continued, "has said he will have nothing to do with the League of Nations—but no statesman of humanitarianism should forget the elementary problems of existence, problems which are pressing upon us day by day.

"The business of the world must be re-established. What statesmen should do seems to me, is to find the least common denominator upon which they can agree, and then proceed to settle the world's economic troubles by the accepted formula."

PROPOSAL TO HAVE WOMEN SENATORS

Notice of Motion to Have the Senate Petition the King for Amendment to B.N.A. Act—Industrial Disputes Investigation Act Amendments.

Ottawa, June 1.—Senator McColl gave notice of a motion yesterday asking the Senate to petition the King to consent to an amendment of the British North America Act making women eligible as senators under the same qualifications as for men and further making seventy the age limit for a senator.

Various amendments were proposed and some accepted to the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. One by Senator Beane makes it unlawful for any change in wages or hours to be made by an employer without the written consent of a majority of employees.

Senator Lynch-Staunton also made an amendment which was adopted. It proposed that where employer and employee on the conciliation board could not agree on a third member, he should be appointed by the Chief Justice of the province wherein the dispute is pending.

Yesterday in the House of Commons an act to amend the Naturalization Act will be taken up. An act respecting national parks and reservations will come up for second reading, as well as the Interior Department estimates.

The Senate will sit at three p. m. Yesterday in the House of Commons a motion that the House adjourn from Friday of this week until Tuesday of next carried.

Discussion on a resolution of W. F. Carroll, Liberal member for Cape Breton South, advocating the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine in Canada was ruled out of order by the Speaker. The ruling was given because of an objection voiced by Donald Sutherland (Conservative), member for South Oxford, that the resolution "anticipated" a measure already on the order paper.

The measure referred to by Mr. Sutherland was the bill to amend the Dairy Industry Act. Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister had previously moved that this bill be discharged from the order paper, but failed to secure unanimous consent and was lost.

Marine Department Estimates. Estimates of the Marine Department were taken up. A vote of $125,000 for the Sorel shipyard precipitated a discussion regarding the dismissal of employees from this shipyard by the Government, following the last general election. The item was allowed to stand pending the production of more information. A motion to reduce a vote of $840,668 for steamship service between Canada and the West Indies by $80,000 was lost on division.

Mr. Johnson's home was at Clarendon but he had spent the last month at his nephew's. He is survived by one brother, Frank, at home and two sisters—Mrs. E. L. Webb of Thompsonville, New York and Miss M. Johnson at home. Mrs. McKinney, wife of James McKinney of the customer here is a niece. Mr. Johnson was a man of excellent character, popular and dependable in every way. He was well known as a guide to sportsmen in his section of the province and all were well looked after when in his care.

Chester Concession Will Give Americans Control Of Turkish Development

REAR ADMIRAL COLBY M. CHESTER AND NEW PHARO OF MOSUL, WHICH PROMISES TO BE CENTER OF INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS.

Washington, June 1.—Through the success of Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester, retired naval officer, in gaining wide concessions from the Turkish Nationalists to develop oil and other resources in a 2,400 mile area of Asia Minor, America is tangled up in international complications which, despite their assurances, possess the elements of a musical comedy plot.

The leaders of the Turkish Nationalists have all kinds of confidence in the ability of the U. S. naval officer to rehabilitate their country and Admiral Chester has already lined up enough financial backing to justify the confidence.

France has already served notice on Secretary Hughes that she will not recognize the concession, while England is expected to present as firm an opposition. The "Chester Concession" came actively to the attention of the Lausanne conference, and is a subject of interest in diplomatic circles.

Later in the evening, the House reverted to the vote of $125,000 for Sorel shipyard. Mr. Bureau read a list of those who had been discharged. Mr. Bureau, when asked regarding the dismissal of one of the employees, said that he had acted on the complaint of the member for the constituency. He had considered that sufficient, and had not held an investigation.

Mr. Baxter said it was time this practice of dismissing employees upon the word of a partisan should cease. A motion to amend the bill was tried behind his back. It is neither British nor French to do that," he concluded.

Rules Oleo Motion Is Out Of Order

"Anticipated" Motion on Dairy Paper in Bill to Amend Dairy Act—Vote For West Indies Service Passed.

Ottawa, June 1.—Today in the House of Commons an act to amend the Naturalization Act will be taken up. An act respecting national parks and reservations will come up for second reading, as well as the Interior Department estimates.

Above the breast plate rested a wreath of flowers, his family's last tribute.

Dismissal of Ship Yard Workers Is Discussed In House

Offensive Partisanship the Cause Says Hon. Mr. LaPointe—Lucien Cannon Scores Civil Service Commission.

(Special to The Times.) Ottawa, June 1.—What the leader of the opposition described as "the slaughter at Sorel" furnished a bright half-hour in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon, when estimates of the Marine Department came under review. Mr. Meighen had referred to the dismissal of employees at a Quebec shipyard following the elections in 1921. The "axe of patronage" was being wielded, he said, as it had not been in years, and the so-called inquiry in each instance was a "farce pure and simple."

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, admitting that there had been dissensions and replacements at Sorel, declared that each had been for good cause, generally from offensive partisanship.

Lucien Cannon (Liberal, Dochester) assailed the Opposition leader, stating that following the Conservative victory in 1911 twelve thousand Liberals in his province had been discharged without any investigation. "We want our ministers to be ministers of the Crown," he said, "and to run this country instead of the Civil Service Commission."

The Progressives were wont to condemn patronage, he added, whereas patronage had been reinstated in these provinces in which Farmer governments were in power.

Later in the evening, the House reverted to the vote of $125,000 for Sorel shipyard. Mr. Bureau read a list of those who had been discharged. Mr. Bureau, when asked regarding the dismissal of one of the employees, said that he had acted on the complaint of the member for the constituency. He had considered that sufficient, and had not held an investigation.

Mr. Baxter said it was time this practice of dismissing employees upon the word of a partisan should cease. A motion to amend the bill was tried behind his back. It is neither British nor French to do that," he concluded.

ROTARY CLUBS MORE THAN 1400

Convention in St. Louis to Discuss Code of Ethics in Business.

St. Louis, June 1.—(Associated Press.)—Administrative problems and the best way to introduce a standard code of ethics among business and professional men throughout the world will focus the attention of 10,000 delegates to the fourteenth annual convention of the Rotary International, which will open on June 12.

The number of Rotary clubs in the world has almost doubled during the last five years and there now are more than 14,000 club units, divided into thirty-nine districts in cities of the U. S., Canada, Mexico, Denmark, Uruguay, Spain, Panama and Argentina, with one international organization in the British Isles, Australia and South Africa.

Probably the most interesting business to come before the convention will be the discussion of a proposition that Rotary clubs concentrate their energies for a year in development of programmes that will have for an object the introduction of standard codes of ethical practices among business and professional men in all business or professions represented in Rotary.

An unusually large number of delegates from clubs overseas, particularly those from the Panama Isles and various parts of the British Empire have announced their intention of coming and some have already started their preparations for the reception of the visitors, and already reservations have been made for more than 8,000 Rotarians.

DIG TO FIND REMAINS OF POCAHONTAS

Believed to Lie in Churchyard at Gravesend

Work Directed by Chicago Archaeologist Who Says He is a Descendant of the Indian Princess—Villagers Hostile, but Excavation Goes On.

(Canadian Press.)

Gravesend, Eng., June 1.—Another storm of protests over the exhumation of long forgotten dead, reminiscent of that which attended the efforts of Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter to resurrect King Tutankhamen, have greeted attempts to recover the remains of the Indian princess Pocahontas, believed to be interred in the graveyard of the parish church in this little town on the Thames.

Edward Page Gaston of Chicago, an archaeologist who led the modern excavation which attempted secretly to unearth the bones of the Indian Princess, was threatened by indignant Britons whose forebears lie buried with the legendary savior of Captain John Smith. Some of them declared that if Gaston violated the efforts of Lord Carnarvon and Howard Carter to resurrect King Tutankhamen, have greeted attempts to recover the remains of the Indian princess Pocahontas, believed to be interred in the graveyard of the parish church in this little town on the Thames.

Undoubtedly accompanied by several British anthropologists and physicians and armed with authority from the Home Office, Gaston, who asserts that he is a lined descendant of Pocahontas, dug up more than 100 skeletons on Wednesday while a crowd of hostile villagers peered through the iron gates of the churchyard.

While examination of these human remains showed negative results, Dr. W. P. Pryor, assistant director of the department of osteological collections in the British Museum, and Sir Arthur Keith of the Royal College of Surgeons were of opinion that the remains of the skulls approximated that of an Indian with its characteristic high cheek bones and oval contour of face, and that it decided to retain for scientific observation. Three other skulls also were kept.

The findings convinced Mr. Gaston and his associates that Pocahontas' body still ultimately be found in the old church, under the foundation of the stone which registered it was interred 307 years ago.

London, June 1.—King George foreign secretary, has added his voice to the protest against the search at Gravesend. Addressing a meeting of the society for the protection of ancient buildings last evening, he denounced the search for the remains of Pocahontas in the past and asserted that reverence for ancient buildings was an admirable sentiment. He said that it was indeed almost a crime to search for the remains of Pocahontas, and added: "But there is one form this suit takes which seems to me to be antiquarianism run mad—the modern craze for taking up the remains of the dead."

Lord Curzon, after mentioning several instances in point, including the excavation at King Tutankhamen's tomb, for which he thought there was some excuse because of the artistic and historical results obtained, referred to Pocahontas. He said he had just read of a "lot of ghoulies gathered around the site of her interment, where they are finding a heap of skulls and bones which men of science are actually sitting by to discover whether among this pile of debris they can find a skull with some black hair on it, in our position of antiquity, let us at least spare the dead."

Inasmuch as the permission of Home Secretary Bridgeman was necessary before the search at Gravesend could be possible, it is believed that Lord Curzon's comment will not escape remark.

NO REFLECTION ON SENATE OR THE COMMONS

Attorney-General of British Columbia and His Letter re Liquor Bill.

Victoria, B. C., June 1.—When shown a press report from Ottawa yesterday advising of the action of the Senate with regard to the Canada Temperance Act, Attorney-General A. M. Manson expressed his regret that the Senate had found anything in his letter of January 16 to the Solicitor-General which could be construed in any way as a reflection upon the Senate or the Parliament of Canada.

The letter to the Hon. Mr. McKenna was a personal letter, he said, and the paragraph complained of was intended to warn Mr. McKenna of attempts that might be made by the liquor interests to block the legislation.

"I would be loath indeed to believe," said Mr. Manson, "that any member of the Senate or the House of Commons could be debauched, but to be forewarned is to be forearmed"; that temptation exists for the liquor interests to attempt anything that would block the legislation goes without saying.
