The two performances at the Empir The two performance as the ample. The treat last evening, by the New York. Musical Comedy Company, were attended by large and most appreciative audiences. The programme began with a moving picture entitled, "Mother's lary son," which was well shown. This was followed picture entitled, Mother's lazy son, which was well shown. This was followed by a musical eketch, "The Belle of Arcadie," which was played in a most entertaining manner. During the course of the piece Miss Mabel Day sang several pieces, one of the most delightful being a song illustrated by a baby in a carriage, swest-hearts, bride and groom, and an old lady and gentleman, each character taken by one of the soompany.

The acogs by Frank Carrier and Mr. Ward were received with great applaus. James Filan captivated with his songs and acting. Miss Sadie Etherton and Miss Reselle Colbert also came in for their share of praise.

The gris cherus composed of Miss Heien Fearson, Miss Mary Lorrimor, Miss Adell Hardy and Miss Jeff Nagle, added much to the pleasure of the evening. In each costume in which they appeared, they seemed to be better. They always dressed in the piak of modesty. DEATH OF R. N. McDONALD. One of our best-known business men passed away this morning in the death of R. N. McDonald. For a number of years Mr. McDonald carried on an extensive grocery business on the corner of Argyle and Jacob—be old corner for many years previously occupied by R. Conroy as a dry goods establishment. Mr. Conroy was the plomeer business man of the locality. He could have had no more popular a successor nor one more upright in his trade transactions than R. N. McDonald—then a young man from Cape Breton.

The exactions and perplexities of business never seemed to affect the tranquil ourrent of Mr. McDonald's life. His amiability was a most notable feature of his character. To his more intimate friends his unselfish disposition was always manifest, but with the most casual acquaintance there was invariably left the impression that his guiding principle was to do unto others that which he would like others to do unto him.

Mr. McDonald, who was 57 years of age, is survived by his widow, one daughter. Miss Emma, and elx sons, James W., Clifford T., Charles J., Roderick L., Wilfrid and Clarence J. McDonald. Mr. McDonald carried on an extensive

The address expressed the graduates gratitude to Dr. Fraser and then stated:
At a time like this it is natural to look back forty years ago. You reprose was the practical instruction of the blind, and it was in fact, an educational crusade. Those first tew years of the school's history have indeed been streamous. The public was skeptical, the parents of your pupils were critical; and for years the government withheld its support. Tet despite skeptics, critics, and lack of financial aid, you held to your purpose. As the years roled by public opinion changed. Slowly it dawned upon the people of these Provinces by the see that you were doing a national service. Steadily this feeling grew, till in Merch lack, your native Province by the see that you were doing a national service. The Board also passed a resolution preventing any city official to in anyway (except by voting) from further-ing any candidate for civic honors. The warm spell commenced when Con-troller Hoben introduced the following resolution:

THE BOARD OF CONTROL

Held another stormy session

Resolved, that this Board do recommend to the City Council the enactment of the follow-resolution:

Resolved, that this Board do recommend to the City Council the enactment of the following regulation by official, chief of department, foreman of any city work, policeman and freman, be and is hereby prohibited and enjoined from engaging, either individually or in any combination, in the furthering, (cherwise than by voting), of any campaign of any candidate for the office of shayor, Confeoler or Atlerman by voting), of any campaign of any candidate for the office of shayor, Confeoler or Atlerman is further prohibited and enjoined from engaging either of the company of any such candidate.

Any breach of this regulation shall be a ground for the dismissal of any such person from the employ of the city.

Controller Scanlan opposed the resolution as regards the dail men of the fire department. He would favor the permanent men being included, but would not vote for the motion otherwise.

Controller O'Connor stated that any controller or alderman who had the assistance of the city to obtain his election did not have the same influence over them as he otherwise would have.

Controller Scanlan thought a sna who risked his life at fires for a paltry $120 a year should not be included as a city employee and should not lose his citizens right of working at election time.

Controller Granlan thought a sna who risked his life at fires for a paltry $120 a year should not be included as a city employee and should not lose his citizens right of working at election time.

Controller Gronnor stated that he favored pure administration of civic affairs.

An affidavit was read from Controller Hoben in which he stated he had a conversation with Chief Broderick and the latter had told him that he had been told by friends not to interfere in the last civic elections; also that the firemen had constituted some eight teams and that Capte. Keefe and Churchill had each supplied their own teams for a controller.

Another affidavit, signed by James Lloy, a cail man of the Fire Department, was also read, stating that he was a m

Yesterday afternoon Supt. Hunter, of the ferry, took the steamer Chebucto to Halifax to fit the new dock. The dock was built for a neat fit for the steamers, and provision was made in constructing it to allow it to expand. The Chebucto became jammed in the dock after being forced in to expand the piles and assistance had to be obtained to get her out. To-day, however, the piles will be widened according to the provision made, and it is expected the bridge will be placed in position in the new dock, work beginning at one o'clock Thursday morning, and will be ready for use to-morrow morning. The Halifax was floated in the dock after the Obehouto was taken out, and was found to have plenty of room to dock.

Controller Harris agreed with him.
Controller Hoben stated that he had never used discourteous language and was also prepared to hand in his resignation to see what the electors would do.
Controller vanian—Fut it in now. You stated a deliberate lasehood.
Controller Hoben—Can't is peak without being called a liar?
Ald. Riordan, who was present, thought ble City Council was the proper body to investigate the matter and the Board agreed with him.
The Mayor stated that the Council will meet Thursday week to deal with the investigation.
