Horrible Case of Child Murder at Springhill.

Fashionable Wedding at St. Stephen's Church, Amherst.

ANNAPOLIS.

Annapolis, Sept. 20.-Bridgetown is seriously talking of having a driving park, the same to be opened by the first of next July. Two meetings have been held and about $2,500 subscribed. The place selected is near the centre of the town and will make a fine location. Horsemen like Edward Ruggles and R. E. Feltus are largely ingreated in this project.

Fred W. Harris, of the legal firm of Gillis & Harris, Annapolis, was married in St. Paul's church vesterday to Miss Kathleen Porter, only daughter of the late Prof. Samuel Porter. They will take in St. John and other towns of New Brunswick before returning Annapolis.

SPRINGHILL. Springhill, Sept. 18.—The community here was startled today by the discovery of a new born child in a field near the upper part of the town. A post mortem examination was made by Drs. Byers, Cove and Hayes, and from their report it seems that there are full evidences of foul play. Something sharp had been used to strangle the child. The neck was cut almost to the bone. An inquest was held this afternoon, when a verdict of murder against someone unknown was brought in by the jury. The deplorable case has caused considerable excitement and is the climax of a depressing state of morality in that direction in this town. It is hoped that the attorney general will act at once and make every effort to ferret out the criminals.

Two deaths occurred at the same hour in Springhill today. Adam Porter and Andrew Stevenson both succumbed to severe attacks of inflammation. Typhoid fever is becoming very prevalent.

The marriage took place Tuesday, at the residence of E. C. Goodwin, Baie Verte, of his daughter Margaret, to Stanley Sutherland of the Amherst Boot and Shoe company.

Halifax, Sept. 20 .- The suicide of Mrs. James Keys was one of the saddest events of its kind ever recorded here. She was overwhelmed with grief. Five years ago her husband died, his death being hastened by the wife's mistake in giving him carbolic acid for some other medicine. Three weeks later her daughter died. Then she lost two grand children within a few days of each other. A week ago her daughter Nettie died. A brother, James, came home from the Pacific Coast to see his dying sister. He left to return yesterday. This morning the grief-stricken mother sought relief from her sorrow by drowning. At six o'clock she stole out of the house and jumped in the dry dock.

A writer in the Chronicle on Tuesday stated that at the trial "it was clearly established that Mr. Morrison was guilty of personal corruption in making the insidious use of money in the house of Alexander Morvong. Corruption by agents was also proven in the doings of Mr. Kemp on election day." It is contended noth ing of the kind was shown, hence the action. Joseph Matheson was the liberal candidate.

They have been unmercifully swindled by contractors. The town is over-run with Italians who have worked all the summer without pay, have spent every cent they had and are now penniless starving, and are unable to obtain their wages. They threatened to crucify the contractor and fire the town. The contractor sought the protection of the authorities and was lodged in jail guarded by armed men, to save him from the fury of the men.

valuable assistance in a time of need.

(From the Washington Evening Star.) A passing drum major inspired Henry White of Schenectady to reminiscence yesterday:

"That fellow is pretty agile," said Mr. White, "but there was a lad up in Buffalo a couple of years ago who was the most remarkable individual that ever walked ahead of a band. The occasion was a procession of the Hibernians, and there was a band in line from Elmira. It possessed and gloried in the drum major I speak of. The man was simply a marvel. He would send his baton sailing high in the air and revolving like an electric fan, and while it was soaring above him he would turn back handsprings, somersaults, and perform any number of athletic tumbling feats, being always ready when the staff came down to catch and send it dexterously aloft again. For a month after that parade all the boys in Buffalo were hurling broomsticks up in the air and falling all over themselves trying to emulate the wonderful man from Elmira.".

Interesting Account of Current Political Conditions as Between Spain and Her

It is not every day that St. John has a visit from a member of the Spanish Cortes. That distinction belongs to a keen looking dark man of about forty who spent Saturday and Sunday at the Royal hotel. E. Giberga of Matanzas, Havana and Madrid, barristerat-law, is not only a member of the Spanish popular chamber, but the leader of a party in that body. He is one of the deputies from Cuba, which island since 1878 has had the privilege of representation in the Cortes, as the chamber is called, which is equivalent to the British house of commons.

to imperial union, but they prefer it with local self government. At least that is the view of the party whereof Mr. Giberga is the leader, a party represented in the Cortes of Spain by nine of the thirty members from Cuba. For Mr. Giberga is the chief of the autonomist party in Cuba. In spite of the fact that the autonomist deputies number only one-third of the Cuban members, the leader says that it represents popular sentiment on the island. Most of the other members are not Cubans at all, but Spaniards residing at Madrid, supported by large commercial interests in Spain and Cuba. The present situation, according to Mr. Giberga, is advantageous to Spanish mercantile, industrial and financial interests.

He was wise enough not to be satisfied with this, but is making preliminary enquiries on the ground. The present visit is a short one, but it is his intention to return after the close of the coming session in Madrid, and to spend the greater part of next summer in Canada.

It will be remembered that there the sons of men who fashioned hats. was an insurrection last year in Cuba. The rebellion was the work of a few extreme republicans at home, encouraged and assisted by exiles in the United States. The autonomist party as such kept clear of the trouble and denounce the agitators. Victoria, B. C., Sept. 23.—The steamer Victoria, which arrived last night from the Chinese-Japanese fields. brings reports from the special correspondents of the Associated Press, under date of Yokohama, August 6. These establish the fact that no forward movement was to be made in Corea until after the arrival of Count agata at the front. Moreover it had been decided that there would be no descent upon the Chinese coast until the gathering of the "braves" at Ping-Yang shall have been disposed

For the great operations they have in view the Japanese will need a considerable portion of their forces now in the Peninsula and they do not propose to withdraw them, leaving a Chinese army behind to menace and harass the Corean capital. A really important expedition is not likely to start within a fortnight and it may still be longer detained.

The Japanese parliamentary election was held September 6.-It passed with little excitement and few disturbances. The relative strength of the parties in the new house of representatives is not yet fully ascertained. The proportions will probably not differ largely from those of the last, but it is expected the movement of the opposition heretofore manifested toward the government will be held in check in order that the conduct of the war may not be embarrassed. Dissolution has been the fate of almost every previous parliament, owing to irreconcil able conflicts between the administra tion and the majority of the opposition, but the present assembly is predicted to proceed harmoniously to its

Washington, Sept. 23.-Few of the ordnance officers of the United States are reported as willing to accept the recent engagement between the Japanese and Chinese at the Yalu River as a demonstration of the superiority of the fleet of unarmored cruisers over heavily protected but moderate speed battle ships. One of the most distinguished of ordnance officers in his record of work accomplished, a man who has much to do with designing the guns and armor for modern United States ships, speaking upon the subject of the Yalu fight today was inclined to be skeptical as to the defeat of the Chinese battle

Said he: "We are still in the dark as to the details of the battle, but I will venture the assertion now, that not one of the Chinese battleshi is was seriously injured, and that the loss was confined to cruisers or only partially protected vessels. There was cnly one reason, though that is a very good one, why the battleships did not speedily destroy all of the Japanese fleet and that mason is the immense s periority of the Japanese personnel. "The Japanese themselves fully understand the value of battleships and feet, chilliness and depression. If you having been making strenuous efforts to purchase some. Lately they have been trying to buy the Captain Pratt They are very easy to take, mild in the new armored vessel built in Europe

"A good edal of nonsense has been spoken and written about the value of high-speed armored cruisers, mainly by the private builders who are after the big premiums paid for speed. I would rank excessive speed about a tenth in the list of valuable qualities for a war-ship. About the only advantage it offers is the opportunity of a vessel to decline an engagement. It will not avail, however,, after she is once in action, for the difference between the 15 knots of a battleship and the 20 knots of a cruiser is not enough to save the latter. Then after once coming within fighting distance, she could not choose her position and would have to move whenever the heavy ship came up. warfare was revolutionized. We have percussion shells now which we can explode with certainty, almost, in a cruiser and tear her to pieces. But these shells will not penetrate the armored side of a battle ship. The only projectile then to do that is an armored piece. An expert naval commander on one of the battleships can meet at once and destroy half a dozen cruisers and come out of the fight without serious injury, else my opinion is at fault."
