The binding was red morocco, with gold seroll work on the example of the society done in gold and bearing the date of its foundation, 1728.

Rev. George M. Campbell was then called ed upon to address Doctor Morison, and he said, in part: The thought which finds readiest utterance in words is not our best thought. The grandest truths, the most profound emotions that sit us are the most difficult to express in suitable larguage. He profoundly realized this difference of the congregation, and the part of the congregation and detecting the city would be destroyed.

NOVA SCOTIA TEACHER

Writes of Conditions As They Exist in the Northwest Territories.

A correspondent writes as follows from Carstoirs, Alberta, to the Truro News:—
In some respects, the school system of the territories is like that of Nova Scotia. In the lower grades, greater stress is laid on an all round thorough development of the child's powers, while the higher grades are not so crowded with work as in the Nova Scotia schools. All the schools have generous grants of money from the territorial government. Schools of average size roceive $1.20 per day while the school is in operation. If the district contains more than ten square miles, this grant is decreased, while, if the percentage of pupils present is in excess of 45 per cent the sum is increased.

The demand for teachers here is in excess of the supply, so they are drawn largely from Nova Scotia and Ontario. Nova Scotia teachers, who hold first class and first rank from the Normal are granted second class interim certificates, while an academic grade calls for first class. These interim certificates are made permanent on recommendation of an inspector. No certificate of good moral character, and a Nova Scotia inspectors' recommendation.

Wages for ordinary schools range from $450 to $500 per year. Town schools pay $600 to $1,100. Board ranges from $10 to $24 per month, according to the locality. Of course one coming from Nova Scotia will find many contrasts, and sometimes hardships in the land. The homes are not so well fitted acadie, en route for their schools on the Edmonton line.

Alberta seems to be the paradise for Nova Scotia feachers. The monotonous prairies, the gas laden waters and severe winters of Assinabola have few attractions to the ordinary Nova Scotian. Here the climate is very like that of Nova Scotia; the water is good, and the landscape is broken by rolling hills and views of the distant Rockies, and further north, forests of poplar and Balm of Gilead remind us to some extent of our distant homeland.
