

Southerly again, represents the Convicts at Port Jackson, as going to their huts, at nightfall, trembling lest they should be devoured by the wild beasts. This in a Country where there are only poor timid Marsupials, like the Kangaroo & Opossum! Is it much wonder that we do not know whether Queensland or Victoria is the greater Colony, or whether Mr Dibbs or Mr Service is the greater Statesman?

Yours sincerely

G. Monro Grant.
