

A lame horse is a dead loss.

It costs as much to keep a lame horse, as it does a horse in harness — and the cripple brings nothing in. You can't afford to support idle stock. That's why you can't afford to be without

Kendall's Spavin Cure

It takes away the pain and stiffness from Sprains and Bruises—draws the soreness out of Strained Muscles and Tendons—CURES Spavins, Soft Bunches and Swellings. Used for two generations by two nations.

"I have used Kendall's Spavin Cure for a Bone Spavin of 4 years standing, which has entirely cured the lameness and greatly reduced the swelling. Another bottle of the Spavin Cure, I am sure, will complete the cure."

Sunday morning. As soon as the sermon began my friend, who was very deaf, took from his pocket an ear trumpet in two parts and proceeded to screw the parts together. While he was engaged in this work he noticed that the sexton, from his seat near the pulpit, kept frowning and shaking his head at him. Finally, just as my friend got his trumpet joined and made as if to put it to his ear, the sexton hastened to him and whispered fiercely:—

"Ye can't play that here. If ye do I'll put ye out."—San Antonio Express

On the whole, Johnny Ralston was a very good boy; but he had one fault which it seemed impossible for his mother to overcome—he would fight with other boys. Times out of number he had been reprimanded for this, and the last time he promised faithfully that he would battle no more.

But that evening he returned from school with a cut cheek and a nose like a swollen beetroot.

"Johnny," said his mother sadly, "didn't you promise me you wouldn't fight any more?"

"But I haven't been fighting, ma. This is the result of an accident."

"An accident?"—doubtfully.

"Yes, ma. I was sitting on Tommy Biggs, and I forgot to hold his feet!"—Answers.

Ambassador Bryce at a dinner in Urbana, Ill., gave a young lady some tips on European travel.

"And above all," he said, "don't fail to tip your cabman liberally. Hansoms and four-wheelers would be cheap in London if one only paid the legal fare for them, but he who tries to pay the legal fare—well, he doesn't try it more than once."

"One day I saw an old lady stop a hansom, look up at the driver and say timidly:

"Driver, I want to go to Ludgate Circus. I see by the book that the legal fare is two shillings. If I give you three will you promise not to swear at me afterward?"—Indianapolis Star.

INTERNATIONAL SHEEP-DOG TRIALS.

The International Sheep-dog Trials were held at Hawick, Scotland, on October 12th. Thirty-three dogs were entered, every one of the competitors having won honors at local contests. Mr. W. Carson, Billiemains, Duns, with Fly, gave a good show. She brought her sheep up slowly and steadily, but revealed a weakness when the driving away was entered upon. Mr. A. Teller, Fernly, Cambo, followed with Hemp, which worked carelessly. There was a want of dash and finish, which removed him from the list of possibles. Mr. W. Bell, Sooftly, Slaggyford, Carlisle, with Tom, gave a good out-by run. At the driving away he was lucky, but when the shedding was approached he came out in his full strength. Nor did he lose at the penning and single sheep. In twelve minutes he finished his task. Mr. W. Wallace, Otterburn, with Moss, gave a brilliant display. Both man and dog seemed primed for a great effort. The human and the canine minds had become one. A whisper from his master was all that Moss needed. Like a bullet he shot across the plain, and when he caught his lot, he threw himself with all the cunning and art of matured skill into the cast necessary to effect a perfect focus. Not a movement of whistle was necessary from his master, but, faithful to his own highly-developed instincts, he dropped whenever the sheep's eyes and his met. There was more than mere charm here; there was an intelligence that almost rivalled the human. Having communicated his purpose to his charge—he moved slowly forward, his nose shedding the grass, and the sheep quietly obeyed. His master waited on him with approving eyes, and then the driving away was effected. This item he discharged without a hitch, after which he fronted for the shed. His preparatory movements were brilliant, the fire of a monarch lighting up the eyes of both performers. In a few seconds the sheep were separated, and in a moment of hesitation Moss made a bold forward

Treats Life

OXYDONOR is not a drug nor a medicine, nor does it operate on any principle known to medication. OXYDONOR causes disease to disappear because IT TREATS LIFE. By its application, the human organism is fortified to any degree necessary to rid itself of disease, as long as the vital organs can play their part.

Oxydonor

is the cheapest as well as the best way out of disease. It is not difficult to apply. It can be carried in the pocket and used any time. In every form of disease, the action of the OXYDONOR is the same—it intensifies vital force.

Mr. W. B. REYNOLDS, Halifax, N. S., writes Dec. 26, 1905: "I consider your Oxydonor a little wonder. After using it a few weeks, Rheumatism, from which I was suffering for a year or more, entirely left me. No person afflicted with Rheumatism should be without one."

OXYDONOR is a necessity for every man, woman and child on earth. It will serve the family, and last a lifetime. Write for our descriptive literature. It is important you should have it.

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT IMITATIONS. There is BUT ONE GENUINE Oxydonor—and that has the name of the originator—DR. H. SANCHE—engraved in the metal. Look for the name.
