THE NATURE-STUDY REVIEW MAGAZINE

Editor, Mrs. Anna Botsford Comstock, Cornell University.

Devoted to the Nature-study Teacher. Nature-study is the alphabet of Agriculture and without it there is no way to permanently enlist the interest of the child in this great work of feeding and clothing war-depleted nations.

The September Number will give descriptions of habits, check list, color key and pictures of fifty common butterflies. Some butterflies are of great economic importance and these will be especially discussed. Outlines for studying the complete life histories of butterflies in the school room will be given.

The October Number will be devoted to the study of trees including careful outlines for tree observation in connection with school work and a discussion of the best methods of interesting pupils in the conservation of forests. Send for list of future issues.
