BEFORE MEALS I OFTEN SAY: "GOD BLESS GRODER'S

SYRUP." Such are the words of JOHN WHIT-NEY, of Avondale, Carleton County, N.B., in a letter written to The Groder Co., January 25, 1894. He says: "I had dyspepsia for three years so badly, that disress at stomach caused vomiting once in twenty-four hours and sometimes more often. A year ago last fall, I became much worse, though I tried many remedles and was attended by our physician. It was then that I bought your medicine under guarantee. Six bottles did not cure. 1 went back to my druggist in Woodstock for my money. Your traveller advised two bottles more and gave them to me telling me to lessen the dose-and to eat anything I craved. To my complete surprise the two bottles made a perfect cure. Nothing that I eat ever hurt me. Even fat pork and beans do not cause any diss. I am gratefulto you for your rem

Because the Lord their barque did save,
And none of them got drownded.

They sang Old Hundred on the sea, The fishes heard the racket, And wondered what the noise could be And who was in the packet.

They landed shingles, boards, and nails And leather for shoemakers, And pots and pans and tubs and pails And ropes for hanging Quakers. They felled of trees a countless host,
With saws they did divide them.
They reared a church and whipping post
And gallows close beside them.

I also think that people with a fixed income of from £200 to £400 a year, with simple habits and a liking for country life, and with families to bring up, would make their money go further and improve the prospects of their children by buying small and manageable places in many districts of the older parts of Canada. Near all the smaller provincial towns, Windsor, Amherst, Fredericton, Kingston, London, Woodstock, and a dozen others which might be mentioned, they would find many of the advantages of pleasant society, cheap education, and comfortable living to an extent which their money will not command in the crowded old country, and which they cannot obtain for years and which they cannot obtain for years makes the most vivid impression upon to come in the thinly-settled West.
