How to keep out the cold blasts of winter is a timely question. Cracks in floors, around the mould board, or in other parts of the room may be neatly and permanently filled by thoroughly soaking newspapers in paste made of one pound of flour, three quarts of water and a table spoonful of alum, thoroughly boiled and mixed. The mixture will be about as tough as putty, and may be forced into cracks with a case knife. It will harden like papier mache.

The following suggestion from an exchange is good enough to be widely pub-lished and to be acted upon by many thoughtless people:—"At present the times are hard, and there is not much money in circulation. The only way to make them better is for each individual top of a telephone pole in a snow storm to pay of his little bills, and to keep the with a nor wester in full swoop is a money in circulation—keep it moving.
