SIR ROBT. BOND

'Man of the Hour.'

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—We see from time to time in the Government organs articles asking the people to compare the work of the two leaders, Sirs R. Bond and E. P. Morris. This is not a hard task. Take for instance Sir R. Bond, whom the editor of the Herald now tries to make us believe is inferior to Sir E. P. Morris as a leader, but who in his famous Chicago letter stated as follows:—
"The Hon. Robert Bond, an able and honest colonial statesman, sufficiently independent in point of wealth to be able to resist the inducements of rich capitalists like Reid, has undertaken to do battle against this northern Goliath, and the young and patriotic elements in public life are rallying to his standard for the battle of the ballots in November next, which will decide the destinies of the Island. Reid is a fighter, the more so as his methods are those of the manipulator rather than of the leader, and he accomplishes his object best from behind the scenes, moving his agents like pawns upon a chessboard. The outcome of the contest is therefore uncertain, though everything indicates a victory for Bond."
The above was written by P. T. McGrath the present editor of the Herald. To-day he is eulogizing the very men who are band and glove with the Reids and tells us that the Government should be on friendly terms with them. Why this change of front? If Reid moved his agents like pawns at that time how is it that he has become so important now to the welfare of the country that the Government should be friendly towards him?
Poor Morris! If the people do not soon take pity on him and turn him out he will be worn thread-bare, worrying over the people's interest and Reid's also. It must be very trying their having to work nights, discussing the best methods to be adopted for the welfare of the people of the country, with never a thought of their own. Such disinterested patriotism should not go unrewarded.
Just to show you, Mr. Editor, how Sir E. P. thinks of us first, himself last. Over four years ago we elected his nominees. They promised lots of good things. Amongst the rest was telegraph communication all over the bay. The latter is being done now in many places, but I fear it is too late. Had this been done two or three years ago we would be inclined to believe that Morris was in earnest by trying to better our condition. But now on the eve of a general election we know it is not ours but his own welfare he is thinking about, consequently we will pay him off in his own coin by forgetting to vote for his nominees as he has forgotten us for the past four years. We consider this trying to cod us, a deliberate insult, one which we will resent when our turn comes in November next. Does the present lot of Incapables imagine that the outthorow (Bay people as they call us) are fools, or that we cannot see through their hypocrisy? Ever since Morris took the reins of Government we have been asking for public improvements, but asking in vain. The excuse was no money, although millions could be found for the Reids, but now at the eleventh hour when our votes are wanted money can be had for telegraph extension, consequently we do not thank him for it nor will we vote for his candidates, for we have decided to vote for Sir Robert Bond's nominees in the coming election. Morris must quit and make room for the man who is incapable of deceit. During over a quarter of a century of public life there is not a blot upon his escutcheon, therefore he is the man of the hour. Our country is in danger and her freedom threatened, so will one united voice we call upon Sir Hon. Sir Robert Bond to come to our assistance in this our hour of need? he is the only man who can save the colony from bankruptcy and ruin. The people cannot stand this strain much longer. Millions upon millions are being expended on branch railways to accommodate the Reids, whilst our roads and bridges are impassable and not a dollar to repair them although the public debt is piling up to an enormous extent on which the people will have to pay interest for all time. No wonder that our people are leaving the country to seek a living elsewhere for it is becoming almost impossible to live here now. Still P. T. tells us that Morris is making good. If Morris had to work with the pick and shovel all day up to his waist in water, like some of the men who work on the branch railways are obliged to do, would Patsy say he was making good? Ah, Morris, your day is done; Reids cannot save you neither can ex-Governor Williams' love shield you from the wrath of an outraged people.

I remain, Mr. Editor,
Yours truly,
VOTER.

The Yeoman's Wedding

SUNG BY JOHN W. MYERS.
The Nickel Theatre was crowded again last evening although the pictures were a repetition of the previous evening. The films were splendid, each being very favorably received. The comedies were bright, causing the merriest laughter. Mr. John W. Myers, the great baritone, whose visit to St. John's all will regret to hear is drawing to a close, had prepared a programme which he felt certain would please his admirers, and he was not mistaken for his songs were very favorably received. His first number was the famous ballad "The Yeoman's Wedding" which has such high and pleasing qualities that it becomes more attractive the oftener it is heard, especially when sung by such a celebrated soloist as Mr. Myers. Its rendition last night was all that could be desired and the singer won new honors from his enthusiastic admirers. It is a song which every one should make an effort to hear. The second song was the beautifully illustrated song "The Curse of an Aching Heart," which is one of the most popular picture songs ever presented in the States or Canada. Mr. Myers certainly did it full justice. Many of the round trippers of the Stephano were in attendance last night, and they spoke in the most flattering terms of the Nickel. The songs will be repeated this evening and to-morrow night, but there will be a new programme of movies.

Last of the Clearance Season is Here

Whatever you want, whatever you are going to want in the future, you can certainly get cheap, right now.
Every good storekeeper is going over his stocks with a fine toothed comb.
He is looking over his fabric and saying to his Managers "How much have you got left of this? How many yards are there of that? Put a price on it. Clear it out. Get the money. Turn it into new goods. Better fifty cents in cash on an old piece of silk than a dollar in stock."
He is going over his lines of suits and dresses, of shoes and hosiery, of muslin underwear and he only has one sentence for every buyer. "Put a price on these things. Get them out."
Of course there are some merchants who think that if they just keep on keeping certain stock, it will probably hatch out a lot of little stocks. But most merchants know that the oldest thing is, the less saleable it is. And that is why they do not hesitate to cut their prices and to keep on cutting them until all the old goods are gone and the store is ready for its new Fall lines.
You have no idea what remarkable bargains you can get right now unless you follow this advertising day by day. Every issue of this paper brings new surprises. And every ad brings more crowds to the merchants who are really eager to lower their stocks.
Why, you can buy things right now for so much less than at any other time of the year that it seems a shame not to get your share. There is no other way in the world that so much money can be saved.
Try it. Look over the advertising in this paper now. Check off the things you want. Get down early to the stores that are offering these things.
Remember there is no such thing as a complete stock now. You will have to be early to get what you are looking for. For other women are just as eager as you.
Advertising news is certainly most interesting news at a time like this.

One to Mary.

Mrs. Smart and Mary Jane had arrived at the parting of the ways, and the mistress thought that she could with safety indulge in a few caustic remarks.
"Now that you are going, Mary Jane," she said, "I hope you will leave in a respectable manner. You remember when you came your box was brought in a wheelbarrow. I would not have mentioned it, but I am afraid some of our friends might see you."
"That's all right, mum," answered Mary Jane serenely, "my new master and missus are waiting for me in their motor car down the street."
"Why don't they drive up to the front door?" asked Mrs. Smart.
"Well, mum," said Mary Jane, "I expect they don't want people to think they are visiting here!"

Prospero Back.

The s.s. Prospero, Capt. A. Keen, returned from northern ports last night, after a quick round trip. The run to Battle Harbor, via intermediate ports, and return was made in eight and one-half days. Beautiful weather prevailed throughout and the round-trippers enjoyed the trip immensely. She brought the following passengers: Messrs. S. Strangmore, A. Rowsell, S. Moskovitch, Rev. Parsons, Foots, G. Foots, Rev. Curtis, S. Goodyear, W. Powell, W. Elliott, J. J. St. George, B. Horwood, N. Morris, R. White, S. Morris, G. R. Lilly, A. Mewa, T. Cornick, A. Smelgrove, A. Cummings, T. Lockyer, Master Sinnott, W. Martin, M. Martin, Rev. Babbitt, W. Kelly, R. Maher, J. Hopkins, C. R. Rowe, J. Baggs, L. Griffin, Master Griffin (2), J. Valentine; Mesdames Boone, Herbert, Fidler, Furze, Long, Randell, House, Proud, Bursey, Sparkes, Gillingham, Lewis, House, Humphries, Milligan, Prowse (2), Chisholm, Pearcey; Misses Woodward, Barnes, Parsons, Dyke, Bartlett (2), Randell, Alderdice, Meadus, Penney, Wiseman, House, Cummings, Cornick, Prowse, Marshall, Bartlett, White, Hoper (2), Worsley, Wilkinson, Stott, Elbert, Lipsius, Nurse and 45 steerage.

Fashions and Fads.

Straw hats are small and close fitting.
Large hats have the monopoly at present.
All wraps are semilong, ending just below the knee.
The new hat must be either tilted up at the side or back.
Hat bows, large and small, are used to trim gowns and hats.
For the boudoir the semi negligee gowns are most in demand.
Fur hatters' plush velvet and ermine make the new fall hats.
The waist line may be anywhere most becoming to the individual.
Trims will be fashionable and much braided trimming will be used.
The most artistic gowns are a combination of contrasting colors or materials.
Black is seldom worn at night, but it is extremely smart for the afternoon.
Evening girdles will be wide and draped and worn above and below the waist line.
Plain dresses of serge, with a suggestion of color at the girdle, are very smart.
New blouses are made of fine net, lace and alpaca, blended in the most charming manner.
Transparent fabrics are used for bodices, and the low-cut neckline continues in evidence.
The one-time popular stitch trimming makes its appearance on some of the new outing coats.
The newest sporting coats do not indulge in button trimming, and they allow just two pockets.
The French variation of the lingerie dress—lace tunic and black sailor skirt—is seen daily.
A currant red serge, trimmed with dark blue satin at the cuffs and revers, is chic and becoming.
A delightful and dainty labot is of sheerest white linen, the edges embroidered in square scallops.
Most hats have a soft, vague look and some decided outstanding finish, which makes them chic.
The youthful high waist line, women are loath to forego, and it has been retained by many designers.

Wild Miners Making Good Abroad.

Mr. Michael Dunn, who left here eighteen months ago with a contingent of men to work in the mines at Trinidad, returned by the Stephano, yesterday, having completed his contract with the company he was engaged. He reports a our Newfoundlanders doing exceptionally well. All have particularly good jobs, notably Messrs. E. Dohoney, Arthur Lush an old C.L.B. boy and "Phil" Freeman, formerly of the Reid Co's electrical department. These three men are now engaged by a Corporation known as the Canadian Venezuela Ore Company, and are working in the Imataco mines at Castro, Venezuela. Messrs. Dohoney, Lush and Freeman are foremen over a batch of sixty men. Their weekly wage is from $45 to $50. Mr. Dunn says that at present because of the prevalence and by reason of a revolution being expected to take place shortly at Castro, most of the white people are leaving the place.

Kyle's Report.

Capt. Parsons, of the S. S. Kyle, wired the accompanying message from Holton via Fogo, to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries yesterday afternoon:—
"There is no improvement in the fishery from Battle Harbour to Hopedale. The floaters north of Hopedale are doing fairly well in some places. The voyage on the whole is very poor."

A Big Picnic.

Two hundred thousand school children were entertained by the Glasgow Corporation, Scotland. The guests included all pupils within the recently extended city. Fifty-five thousand infants were treated at the schools, while the seniors were conveyed to thirty-three parks, and later amused by Punch and Judy and other shows and sports.
