

Wherever, Whenever, You Entertain Serve
ROWAT'S COFFEE
The Finest Producible.
70c. FOUNDED.
T. A. ROWAT & CO.
250 Dundas Street. Phone 3051-3052.

New Perfumers
— and —
Incense Burners
Electric Perfumers, in Old Dutch, bronze and gilt...
..... $14.00, $25.00 Incense Burners, green, silver, bronze and gilt...
..... 50c to $7.00
C. H. WARD & CO.
Diamond Merchants, Jewelers and Opticians.
386 RICHMOND ST. PHONE 1084

20% DISCOUNT
On any article in our stock of Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, etc.
W. J. WRAY

Dominion Stores, Ltd.
Three Stores in London.
CARRY YOUR GROCERY ORDER
THIS WEEK AND COMPAR-
PRICES. tf-lawt

Oxy-Acetylene
Welding
We Weld Cast Iron, Auto Parts, Machinery, etc.
Dennis Wire and Iron Works
FOOT OF DUNDAS STREET.
PHONE 3601. 1aw-t

A Thing of Beauty
And a Joy Forever...
This sentiment aptly describes a modern photograph such as you will have made at

Gleason, the Photographer London Loan Building, Corner of Dundas and Clarence Streets.
Phone 2568. yt

Chestnut Coal
Egg, Stove and Pea Coal.
Lehigh Boulets Coal.
Ebony Cube Cannel Coal.
Crown Smithing Coal.
Prompt delivery.
Jas. E. McGuffin
625 WILLIAM STREET.
Telephone 1591. yt

NEW PRICE FOR
LEHIGH VALLEY
THE SATISFACTORY
COAL EGG, STOVE AND NUT
$16.50 a Ton
SMITHING COAL, $16 a Ton.
Delivered Anywhere in London.
ORCHARD'S
45 YORK STREET. PHONE 384. xzt

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY
Hunt Bros.
Coal
EGG, STOVE, NUT AND PEA COAL.
Well Screened
PROMPT DELIVERY.
276 WATERLOO STREET.
Phone 412. xt

Announcement We are now the best Optical Service in the city in our new and up-to-date Optical Room, at very reasonable prices.
N. AGRANOV JEWELER AND
OPTICIAN,
644 Dundas Street.
Phone 1742W. Open Evenings. ywt

Bristol Essery 630 Maitland Street. Phone 1089.
EGG COAL .. $16.00 per ton delivered STOVE .. $16.00 " " "
NUT .. $16.00 " " "
PEA .. $12.75 " " "
Mixed Slats .. $4.50 per load Kindling Wood .. $3.50 per load ywt

DON'T WORRY OVER
YOUR TIRE TROUBLES
Double Mileage
PUNCTURE-PROOF SERVICE.
ASK
ART WILKES
London Tire Repair Depot.
354 Wellington. Opp. McGuffin's. ywt

London Loan & Savings
Company
Have resumed openings Saturday evenings from 8 to 9:30.
4 TO 5 1/2 PER CENT
ALLOWED.
Call for Particulars. ywt

ISSUES WRIT TO ENFORCE JUDGMENT
OF WASHINGTON STATE
W. S. Phillips, through his solicitors, Murphy, Gunn & Murphy, has issued a writ in the county court for $515 and interest at 8 per cent from October 20, 1920, and $65 for attorney fees and plain-tiff's costs, the amount claimed to be due on a judgment obtained against the defendants in the superior court of the State of Washington, for King County, dated February 17, 1921, against R. M.
Mooney of Seattle, Washington. Judge Talbot Macbeth has given an order for writ of service outside the jurisdiction of the local court in this matter. The defendant, who is a British subject, is said to be the legatee in a will in London.

FINE FURS
COATS OF THE
BETTER KIND.
Beltz & Co.
Practical Furriers. ywt

Undoubtedly the most popular
Bread
in the district is Parnell's
TRY A LOAF. ywt

Now Is the Time to Sample
JOHNSTON
BROS' XXX
BREAD
It toasts to perfection. Just try one loaf.
Fresh at your grocer's today.
JOHNSTON BROS. Phone 944 ywt

CARTER & SON
AWNING AND TENT
MANUFACTURERS.
351 GLEBE ST.
Phone 6197. tf-ywt

Why Not
Breakfast?
"Same old porridge, eggs and ham,
In the same old place each day, Give me the same old thoughts for the same old job,
And the same old rate of pay?" Change the current of your thoughts by a brisk walk before breakfast, and let us serve you.
Toed Fruit.
Broiled Whitefish.
Dry Toast.
Buckwheat Cakes and Syrup.
Tea or Coffee.
Wong's Cafe
484 RICHMOND STREET. b MONOGRAM OIL
Is Used By Quality Choosers.
See MARK
about your next oil. Only quality equipment.
298 DUNDAS ST. PHONE 4902W. ywt

Carlyle
TREBILCOCK
OPTICIAN
233 Dundas Street. Phone 2351.
Two Doors East of Majestic. ywt

N. J. GRIFFITH
FUNERAL DIRECTOR AND EMBALMER,
104 Dundas Street, London.
Residence on premises. Phone 459.
J. FERGUSON'S SONS
176-178 KING STREET.
Funeral Directors and Embalmers.
Handsome Motor Car or Hearse Equipment.
Day or Night Service.
Office, 543. Residences, 2056W-656J. ywt

The Funeral Home
Cor. King and Colborne Sts.
Our modern funeral home is now open for inspection. Visitors are welcome and will be gladly shown through.
We provide every facility for funerals, both in the city and from out of town. A suite of rooms is provided for the family during their stay in the city.
A. L. OATMAN
DIRECTOR OF FUNERAL SERVICE. t

A Good Candidate
When the Liberals of London on Friday evening, in the most enthusiastic and harmonious gathering in the history of this city, nominated C. R. Somerville as their standard-bearer in the coming federal election, they performed a good night's work.
There are no explanations to make for C. R. Somerville, neither will any man be called upon to apologize to the constituency for the man who carried one of the fairest conventions that could be held.

C. R. Somerville has been a success as a businessman, but success to him and the making of money has simply meant that he has had access to greater means with which to carry out ideas, and put into effect movements aimed entirely to benefit the people of the community.

He understands the fundamentals of business, and he demonstrated beyond doubt during his tenure of office as mayor of London that he had a keen appreciation for the pocket of the taxpayer, and a real human sympathy for the people who are called upon to pay the bills.
The business community of London can trust C. R. Somerville to look after its interests, and the man and woman in any and every walk of life can vote for him with a full knowledge that at Ottawa, as in London, he will be a clean, a sincere and a forceful advocate of legislation that has as its object the lessening of the burdens upon the common people.

He has been, and still is, an outstanding example of a public-spirited citizen. He has given generously and openly to London's advancement, and he has given generously in secret where he found assistance was necessary.

The convention had three men to choose from, C. R. Somerville, Dr. W. J. Stevenson and Major Dr.
Clifford Reason. Both of the unsuccessful nominees had strong and determined followings, and the graceful manner in which they turned after the first ballot—Dr.
Stevenson to move and Dr. Reason to second—making the choice unanimous, and pledging their every effort to aid in his election, was a sight to inspire London Liberals to their very best efforts. In fact, the splendid way in which these two played their part was one of the outstanding features of the proceedings.

Fred Pardee, M.P. for West Lambton, nailed the lie for all time to come to the whispering campaign of misrepresentation that seeks to tie the name "free trader" to the Liberal party.

Fred Pardee stated what is common knowledge, and it is a position from which there is no escape, that the national debt of this country is so large that there must be a tariff for revenue or else direct taxation.

He did claim, and the country is behind him in the position, that the people who pay the money to meet the deficits in the operations of the Government-owned railways are entitled, through their accredited representatives at Ottawa, to know where the money comes from and where it goes.

He did claim that there was extravagance and waste at Ottawa while the Government was urging the ordinary people to save and be thrifty. And the contention that what is good for the people is also good for the Government will awake a resounding "amen" all over the country.

London Liberals are united in their determination to elect C. R.
Somerville. They believe in the man to whom they so magnificently tendered their nomination, and they believe in the cause which he espouses. They have taken up the challenge of the most extravagant Government Canada has ever known, and they will not cease until victory rests upon their banners.

SOMERVILLE CHOSEN
BY LONDON LIBERALS
Continued From Page One.
Government be swept out of power. He warned the true Liberals of the country to beware of the herring which the Tories were drawing across the track.
He pictured to them the result of the 1911 election, how Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers had gone down to defeat with the reciprocity pact, when the Tories raised the cry of no truck or trade with the United States, and how immediately they got into power, the Tories had put on the statute books the reciprocity pact the Liberals were turned out on and which they (the Tories) were too loyal to enact.

Mr. Pardee read from the speech of Mr. King at North York, the well-defined policy of the Liberal party on the tariff, and concluded with a challenge to any one of his hearers to point to where the Liberals were throwing down the tariff barriers, hurting the manufacturers, or how any workman, farmer, manufacturer or artisan, would be the least hurt.

Six names were placed in nomination, but three of them, Mayor Little, Arthur Little and President Robson of the Liberal Club, withdrew, and the names of Messrs. Somerville, Stevenson and Reason went before the meeting.

Never Found Wanting.
"The Liberal cause in the city of London has never been found wanting," declared Frank Pardee, "and a man as this one tonight shows that they are awake and alive to the situation."
"Since the days of 1911 the people of the Dominion of Canada have had no chance to express themselves on matters that concern them. And I say that we are gone as a nation if the time should ever come that the people of this country should lose the right to conduct their own affairs. It is a gathering of the people, a manifestation of the people, that is contradiction that since 1911 Canada has been largely at the mercy of an autocratic government which enacted its business chiefly by order-in-councils."

"A gathering of the people, a manifestation of the people, that is contradiction that since 1911 Canada has
been largely at the mercy of an auto-
cratic government which enacted its
business chiefly by order-in-councils."
"A gathering of the people, a manifestation of the people, that is contradiction that since 1911 Canada has
been largely at the mercy of an auto-
cratic government which enacted its
business chiefly by order-in-councils."

Extravagant Government.
"The Meighen Government had been advised time and time again that it was extravagant. The latter knew it itself, and what is the very keynote of the land today? This is what it is: 'Now is the time for thrift and saving. Do not be extravagant.
Let us have prosperity.' Therefore is it not absolutely essential that they should be the first to set the example and ask you to follow."

As a glaring example of the reckless expenditures of the present Government, the speaker referred to the Merchant Marine, the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways.
At right angles to the speaker, he said, while the war was in progress. Upon the conclusion of hostilities, however, he pointed out, the building of ships was continued, and the letting of contracts went on. While ships were available in every port in the world the United Government did not cancel their contracts, he said, as would have been the proper move, with the result that the 40 of them have been completed to lay idle in ports for the need of freight, while the people pay the shot.

Were Not Cut.
"Show me where expenditures have been cut in the militia or demobilization departments," challenged Mr. Pardee.
"Year after year they have come back asking that we vote huge sums for these purposes. Show me where the staffs, even of the demobilization departments, have been reduced within the past five years, since prices were at their peak. In place of a decrease we find man after man securing berths in these various offices. During all this period, while we were being told to be thrifty, the Government was providing political favorites with the means of living at your expense."

"Do we find them cutting down a little here or a little there? Take the situation of the Canadian National Railways. It was not enough that the minister of railways should tell us that we faced a deficit of more than 70 million dollars, but they tell us in answer to our motion for an investigation that it was no business of ours to ask. Is that democracy? Do the Tories themselves believe that any government that purports to be for and by the people has the right to deny its electors the right to ask concerning their own expenditures?"

Expert Camouflage.
"If there is one party that is the past master in the gentle art of 'drawing the herring across the trail,' it is the Conservative party, and look how often Liberals have fallen for it. Remember the campaign of 1911. You know that since the days of Sir John A.
Macdonald the one cry has been 'Give us a reciprocity treaty.' Sir Wilfrid Laurier had always striven for the good of the country. (Cheers.) The Tories knew that reciprocity was for the best, as did the bulk of the people throughout the country. However, the good old Tory party drew the inevitable herring over the trail, pulled out the old flag and wrapped themselves in its folds. 'Vote for us!' they said. 'We are the true blue, simon pure. Do not vote for those wicked gits, or you will be annexed to the United States.' And the saddest thing of all to relate is that the Liberals fell for it. Although the people knew well that economically reciprocity was for their best, yet sentimentally they voted against it."

Recall Days of 1900
As Somerville
Enters Fray.
LAST night the Liberals of London girded their loins for their fourteenth general political battle. To many old Grits the meeting recalled the days of 1900
and 1904, when the donor of London's home of Liberalism, Hon.
C. S. Hyman, stepped into the fray and on to victory, as did C.
R. Somerville last night.
London could almost be said to have been traditionally Tory. Since 1867, there have been thirteen general elections, and the country is now nearing its fourteenth.

In these contests the Tories
have been successful in eight fights, while the Liberals were crowned with victory on but half that number of occasions. The odd contest was the 1917 one,
which went unionist.

We have now a government that resembles a sinking balloon. They are dropping the heavy weights and "ick-
up lighter ballast, but it is hardly right for the premier to call entirely new men into his cabinet and then say that they are unblemished. However,
I do not think that the old cabinet garments will ever suffer a stain."

Public Awakening.
"A gathering like this means," declared Col. Reason, "that something is much needed in this country, and that is a real awakening of public interest.
I am sure you will agree that it is hardly likely that one of these names would have appeared tonight had our late standard-bearer been with us this evening."

Call of True Liberalism.
Dr. W. J. Stevenson said that only the insistent solicitation of his friends had induced him to allow his name to go before the convention.

"I have seriously considered it and the call of true Liberalism is that I should allow my name to go before the open convention."

He declared he wanted to see a candidate in every riding so that Canada would have a reconstructed policy and good government. And he predicted that no matter which candidate was chosen the party would win.

Dr. Stevenson said that he had worked for Liberalism for twenty years.
He had never gone under any other colors than those of Liberalism, and if

Women Interested.
On seconding the nomination of C.
R. Somerville, Mrs. Geo. Perry said,
"I feel that now we have a chance to vote it is our duty to interest ourselves in public affairs. I hope that the women of the country will do so."

Unhappy Trade.
"The Meighen Government has left a trail behind it a mile long, and the story of its record is one that doesn't smell sweet in the nostrils of the people.
The Meighen Government knows that it can never win on its record, so what's the play? When the Rt. Hon.
Arthur Meighen was in London a few days ago, who did he say? Did you hear any policy outlined? Did you hear any hope of the future? Did you hear an echo of the past? All you heard was one long wail, something like this: 'The country is in a state of government. The country needs men of high ideal, and on that ground the Tory party is the only one that can qualify.
Vote for us!'"

"The Tories were the only party to make the wheels go round, the premier asserted, to make the factories bustle, but there was one reason why he came down here. He realized that Liberalism was alive and rampant, and only wanted the chance to sweep him out of power, so he came down to raise the bogey of free trade.

Recall Days of 1900
As Somerville
Enters Fray.
LAST night the Liberals of
London girded their loins for
their fourteenth general political
battle. To many old Grits the
meeting recalled the days of 1900
and 1904, when the donor of London's home of Liberalism, Hon.
C. S. Hyman, stepped into the
fray and on to victory, as did C.
R. Somerville last night.
London could almost be said to have been traditionally Tory. Since 1867, there have been thirteen
general elections, and the country is now nearing its fourteenth.

In these contests the Tories
have been successful in eight
fights, while the Liberals were
crowned with victory on but half
that number of occasions. The
odd contest was the 1917 one,
which went unionist.

We have now a government that resembles a sinking balloon. They are
dropping the heavy weights and "ick-
up lighter ballast, but it is hardly
right for the premier to call entirely
new men into his cabinet and then say
that they are unblemished. However,
I do not think that the old cabinet
garments will ever suffer a stain."

Public Awakening.
"A gathering like this means," declared Col. Reason, "that something is
much needed in this country, and that
is a real awakening of public interest.
I am sure you will agree that it is
hardly likely that one of these names
would have appeared tonight had our
late standard-bearer been with us this
evening."

Call of True Liberalism.
Dr. W. J. Stevenson said that only
the insistent solicitation of his friends
had induced him to allow his name to
go before the convention.

"I have seriously considered it and
the call of true Liberalism is that I
should allow my name to go before the
open convention."

He declared he wanted to see a candidate in every riding so that Canada
would have a reconstructed policy and
good government. And he predicted
that no matter which candidate was
chosen the party would win.

Dr. Stevenson said that he had worked for Liberalism for twenty years.
He had never gone under any other
colors than those of Liberalism, and if

Women Interested.
On seconding the nomination of C.
R. Somerville, Mrs. Geo. Perry said,
"I feel that now we have a chance
to vote it is our duty to interest ourselves in public affairs. I hope that
the women of the country will do so."

Unhappy Trade.
"The Meighen Government has left a
trail behind it a mile long, and the story of its record is one that doesn't
smell sweet in the nostrils of the people.
The Meighen Government knows that
it can never win on its record, so
what's the play? When the Rt. Hon.
Arthur Meighen was in London a few days ago, who did he say? Did you hear any policy outlined? Did you hear any hope of the future? Did you hear an echo of the past? All you
heard was one long wail, something like
this: 'The country is in a state of
government. The country needs men of
high ideal, and on that ground the Tory
party is the only one that can qualify.
Vote for us!'"

"The Tories were the only party to
make the wheels go round, the premier
asserted, to make the factories bustle,
but there was one reason why he came down here. He realized that Liberalism was alive and rampant, and only
wanted the chance to sweep him out of
power, so he came down to raise the
bogey of free trade.

Recall Days of 1900
As Somerville
Enters Fray.
LAST night the Liberals of
London girded their loins for
their fourteenth general political
battle. To many old Grits the
meeting recalled the days of 1900
and 1904, when the donor of London's home of Liberalism, Hon.
C. S. Hyman, stepped into the
fray and on to victory, as did C.
R. Somerville last night.
London could almost be said to have been traditionally Tory. Since 1867, there have been thirteen
general elections, and the country is now nearing its fourteenth.

In these contests the Tories
have been successful in eight
fights, while the Liberals were
crowned with victory on but half
that number of occasions. The
odd contest was the 1917 one,
which went unionist.

We have now a government that resembles a sinking balloon. They are
dropping the heavy weights and "ick-
up lighter ballast, but it is hardly
right for the premier to call entirely
new men into his cabinet and then say
that they are unblemished. However,
I do not think that the old cabinet
garments will ever suffer a stain."

Public Awakening.
"A gathering like this means," declared Col. Reason, "that something is
much needed in this country, and that
is a real awakening of public interest.
I am sure you will agree that it is
hardly likely that one of these names
would have appeared tonight had our
late standard-bearer been with us this
evening."

Call of True Liberalism.
Dr. W. J. Stevenson said that only
the insistent solicitation of his friends
had induced him to allow his name to
go before the convention.

"I have seriously considered it and
the call of true Liberalism is that I
should allow my name to go before the
open convention."

He declared he wanted to see a candidate in every riding so that Canada
would have a reconstructed policy and
good government. And he predicted
that no matter which candidate was
chosen the party would win.

Dr. Stevenson said that he had worked for Liberalism for twenty years.
He had never gone under any other
colors than those of Liberalism, and if

Women Interested.
On seconding the nomination of C.
R. Somerville, Mrs. Geo. Perry said,
"I feel that now we have a chance
to vote it is our duty to interest ourselves in public affairs. I hope that
the women of the country will do so."

Unhappy Trade.
"The Meighen Government has left a
trail behind it a mile long, and the story of its record is one that doesn't
smell sweet in the nostrils of the people.
The Meighen Government knows that
it can never win on its record, so
what's the play? When the Rt. Hon.
Arthur Meighen was in London a few days ago, who did he say? Did you hear any policy outlined? Did you hear any hope of the future? Did you hear an echo of the past? All you
heard was one long wail, something like
this: 'The country is in a state of
government. The country needs men of
high ideal, and on that ground the Tory
party is the only one that can qualify.
Vote for us!'"

"The Tories were the only party to
make the wheels go round, the premier
asserted, to make the factories bustle,
but there was one reason why he came down here. He realized that Liberalism was alive and rampant, and only
wanted the chance to sweep him out of
power, so he came down to raise the
bogey of free trade.

Labor Lays Plans
For Federal Fight
Labor did not pick its candidate for the federal campaign during the meeting of the Labor representation committee last night, nor did the laborers discuss any possibilities for standard-bearer. The first move of the meeting was to bar the press.
However, when the meeting was completed, a member who was asked to give any information for publication to the newspapermen, stated that plans for organization for the contest were thoroughly discussed and now well under way. He stated that the political machine, which was in the making, would surprise London.
He maintained that they thought it best to start the ball rolling in secret sessions, rather than in open meetings.
Within a few days the executive committee of the L. R. C. will meet and then give out information as to the date of the next meeting of Labor's representation committee and other matters. Dr.
H. A. Stevenson, M.P.P. for London, was an attendant last night.

GALT BYLAWS PASSED.
GALT, Sept. 23.—The council at a special meeting tonight passed three bylaws which had been held up because of two vacancies, which were filled yesterday by the re-election of Ald. G. H.
Thomas and Alex. Forbes. These by-laws were for paving Hare and Cambridge streets and the Market Square

MAKING
THOUSANDS
HAPPY
AND STRONG
You Will Get Up Tomorrow Fit For a Big Day's Work If You Take Redmac.

To get up in the morning feeling bright and happy, fit to tackle anything, comes to only those of good health. To go out and tackle life in competition with others, one must feel right. Red-mac fills you with "pep." It is better than a bank account. If you are run down, tired or no ambition, suffering with Dyspepsia, pain in the back, or a sluggish liver, in other words, you feel all in—go right to your drugist and get a bottle of that most wonderful of all Tonics, Redmac, and be sure you get the right thing—don't take any other. After taking one bottle, you will go out and get another one. It will put you on your feet. It is the elixir of life. You will feel and look younger, you will be bright and strong, all pain and aches will go. A large, generous bottle can be procured from your drugist. Sold in London by Taylor's Drug Store, 280 Richmond street, sole agents.

Start now to keep YOUNG

You'll be surprised to know that your "daily bread" has something to do in keeping you young—indeed it plays a most important part!

Indigestion, more than any other ailment, crabs the disposition, mars the physique, and creates unhappiness. Neal's Good White Bread is a crusader against indigestion. It provides the necessary nutrition, and is most easily assimilated. It assures maximum nourishment with minimum waste.

NEAL'S

Good White Bread

"THE BEST LOAVES ARE WRAPPED."

Phone 1313 or 2173 for a Loaf to Try

Neal Baking Co.
Limited

Bread Factories at Windsor, London, St. Thomas, Sarnia