

CANADIAN BEE JOURNAL

PUBLISHED MONTHLY.

NEW SERIES
VOL. $\frac{7}{8}$ No. 4.

BRANTFORD, ONT., OCT., 1897.

WHOLE No.
392

Your Subscription is Paid to No.

We are anxious to have the amount due, kindly remit and oblige. Please send the amount at once, the smallness of the item is often a reason for putting it off, but when added together it is a large and important amount to us.

The convention at Buffalo has come and gone. It was the good fortune of the editor to be at the meeting of the Buffalo Convention. The greater part of the convention. first two days. The evening of Wednesday we had to leave for Toronto to prepare for the Toronto Industrial Exhibition. We left for Buffalo the evening of Monday, August 23rd, and reached our boarding house about 9 o'clock. We found that Mr. Wm. Couse, Streetsville, the secretary of the Ontario Bee-Keepers' Association, had already arrived. Before we left, as far as we can remember the following Canadians had arrived: Messrs. D. W. Heise, Bethesda; E. McKnight, Owen Sound; I. Overholt, Cayuga; Jas. Armstrong, Cheapside; F. Dunn, Ridgeway; M. B. Holmes, Bessens; Mr. Wallace, Belleville. If we have missed any, or if others arrived whom we should be pleased to see, we should be pleased to have their names as we are anxious to have a complete list. Among those of our U. S. brethren were Captain Wherington, McIntyre, California; O. Selton, Florida; G. W. York, Editor American Bee Journal; A. I. Root and E.

R. Root, of Gleanings in Bee Culture; Dr. Miller, Dr. Mason, W. Z. Hutchinson, editor Review; Messrs. Cogshall, N. Y.; G. W. Doolittle, E. T. Abbott, editor The Busy Bee and many others. Among those not present was our friend Merrill, of the American Bee-Keeper, who could not get accommodation and prices to suit him at Toronto some years ago. But then we fancy Mr. Merrill would find it pretty slow work to "talk bees" and matters would have to be very congenial to draw him out. We are expecting to have a short report of the convention. Addresses we think of interest to our readers will be published, but it is not our intention to publish the proceedings in full, quite a little that was said and done will not be of particular interest.

* * *

With one thing and another we have been away from the office for about five weeks. The Toronto Industrial Exhibition. Toronto Industrial exhibit of honey was this year fully up to the mark. The large exhibitors were the Gould, Shapley & Muir Co., Limited; Chas. Brown, Drumquin; R. H. Smith, St. Thomas; Jas. Shaver, Cainsville; Geo. Laing, Milton, and Wm. Goodyear, Woodstock. In the order of prize money taken the exhibitors stand in about the same order. For a beginner Jas. Shaver, has done very well, he took first for best filled twelve sections. Two years ago we gave Mr. Shaver the loan of some new comb honey supers and sections and what pointers we